Charge Filed in Slaying

IRONTON -- A mental examination has been ordered for Ernest Howard, 61, St. Louis, charged with first degree murder in the slaying Monday night of Robert E. Tetley, 63, of Oran.

Howard appeared for arraignment in magistrate court Thursday and pleaded innocent.

Judge William R. Edgar ordered that Howard be sent to the state hospital at Fulton to determine whether he is sane and can stand trial.

Tetley was found dead in bed in a farmhouse east of Belleview Tuesday morning. He had been shot twice with a .22 caliber weapon.

Prosecuting Attorney Jack Duncan said today that he expected the doctors' report within three weeks.

July Arrests Net $1,105

A total of $1,105 in fines and court costs was collected during July, police reported.

Twelve persons were charged with careless and imprudent driving. Five were charged with careless and imprudent driving while drinking.

Ten persons were charged with public intoxication. Seven motorists were charged with careless and imprudent driving and being involved in accidents.

A total of 23 persons were charged with peace disturbance. Seven were charged with assault.

Twelve persons arrested by police were transferred to Scott county authorities in Benton.

Twenty eight other arrests were made in July.

Boyer to Build Housing Project

Cost of the project is $1,765,000. The houses will be built on three sites in the city, John Cowell, estimator for Boyer said today.

Construction is expected to begin in September. Completion is expected in 18 months.

Mother's Car Runs over Daughter, in Drive

Patricia Ann Roach, a nine-year-old girl was run over by a car in the drive of her home and injured seriously.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Bertha Mae Roach, who with her husband Walter Roach, live on a country road one mile south of Poplar Bluff, entered the drive at 8 p.m. Wednesday. She failed to notice her daughter and ran over her with a 1964 Chevrolet.

In a two-vehicle collision Thursday at 5:15 p.m. on a gravel road three miles north of Perkins in Scott county, a 1962 Chevrolet two-ton truck, driven by Francis L. Chatman, 54, Oran, struck a 1962 Ford, driven by Geryl W. Slinkard, 25, Edwardsville, Kan.

The Chatman truck entered an intersection. It was struck by the Slinkard car causing the truck to overturn.

Chatman's right hand and head were bruised. He was treated by a physician and released.

Observers Feel Viet War Break Nearing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some experts on Southeast Asia are nursing a hunch that a break in the Vietnam war is coming and that some sort of preliminary settlement may result.

Part of this thinking is based upon events in Red China and the impact these events have had on China's neighbors. Part is based on evidence of Soviet interest in helping to bring about an end to the clash between American and Communist arms.

"In my view, the clash of regular armies could end in Vietnam during this calendar year. I expect some sort of settlement in 1967 or early 1968," he writes in the American Legion magazine.

Trager, just back from Vietnam and other points in Southeast Asia, adds that this would not mean an end to conflict. He says there could be a settlement of sorts with the basic U.S. goal, independence for South Vietnam, achieved, but that "we will clearly have to stay in Southeast Asia in some force— both military and civilian— for a good long time."

The U.S. civilian commitment to South Vietnam is a long-range one to build the economy of the country and secure its future as much as possible. The military situation, Trager feels, would be a complex one. It would involve pacification of the Viet Cong guerrillas, which could take years after the fighting between regular armies ended.

Other Southeast Asia specialists assert the U.S. stand in South Vietnam has strengthened the will of other nations in the area to resist Communist incursions. Today, Red China is exerting formidable pressure on virtually all her neighbors to the south: India, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and others. Peking has picked quarrels with all of them, and eventually may have succeeded in pushing them together in self-defense.

China's policy, probably dictated by its internal problems attendant upon the purge called "the cultural revolution," has had a boomerang effect. Nations which wanted to stay neutral, such as Burma, have been frightened by the blatant hostility coming from Peking and deliberate attempts to interfere in internal affairs. China's attitude, indeed, can strengthen the unity of other Asians in such enterprises as the Association of Southeast Asia.

These nations are interested in some sort of Asian solution to Vietnam, possibly within the framework of the 1954 Geneva accord but arrived at this time on Asian soil.

Moscow's interest in averting dangerous pressures in Asia — also inspired in part by China's truculence— lends hope to those who feel there may be some light at the end of the dark tunnel that is Vietnam. China's frightening posture can have its effect on North Vietnam as well as on other Southeast Asians, and in such circumstances, Moscow's influence could carry much more weight.

Fiery Car-Truck Crash Kills Family of Eight

HIGHLAND, ILL. (AP)— Seven members of an Oklahoma family were killed Thursday in the flaming wreckage of their car and a truck and an eighth died later in a Highland hospital, the Illinois State Police said.

Nellis A. Briscoe, II, 48, an agriculture economics professor at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, his wife, Margaret J. 43, and their six children, were enroute to Purdue University in Indiana.

Briscoe was scheduled to speak at the American Institute of Cooperatives, a meeting he helped plan.

Their station wagon collided head-on with a tractor-trailer on U. S. 40, five miles northeast of Highland. The driver of the truck, David Adams, 23, of Vandalia, Ill., was listed in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Highland, 35 miles northeast of St. Louis.

One witness said the truck "rode the station wagon" for about 200 feet. He said the truck's right front tire was in the car's front seat.

Norman Lamb, of Webster Groves, Mo., said, "Both vehicles were on fire when I came up, and the flames were a good 20-30 feet in the air.

"The truck was up over the hood of the station wagon, and the flames were so thick the only figure I saw was the driver of the station wagon."

The couple's six children were identified as Kimberly Ann, 12; Nellis A. III, 8, Michele, 10; Jacqueline, 6; Danielle, 4, and Powell, 2.

Audio Equipment Stolen From Lincoln School

Donald Fulton, principal of Lincoln elementary school, 229 Westgate, reported to police at 5:30 p.m. Thursday that a public address amplifier and a hand microphone were taken from the school.

Windows in the building have been broken and gone unrepaired, police said.

Fulton was unable to say when the amplifier was taken.

Police were called at 12:16 a.m. today and notified that four dogs treed a skunk behind the Bootheel Lounge, Highway 61 North. Customers in the tavern complained about the smell.

The dogs killed the skunk and at last report one of the dogs was trying to wash itself in a mud puddle near the scene of the battle.

Falls, Bite, Cuts Injure Seven

Seven were treated Thursday in the emergency room of the Missouri Delta Community hospital:

Frances Chapman, Oran, car accident; Mary Chaney, Canalou, bitten by a dog; Evolee Thompson, fell and hurt an ankle; Charles W. Hampton Jr., fell on a railroad and cut knee.

James Collison cut toe on glass.

Judge Levies $81 Fine For Assault

Leonard Moran, 403 Marian, was fined $81 in city court Thursday on a charge of assault and battery. Judge James Sickal presided.

Vernon Walker, Canalou, was fined $17 on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Ancell C. Gross, Sikeston, was fined $24 on two charges of public intoxication.

A $12 bond was forfeited for Katherine Vierre, Sikeston, who was charged with public intoxication.

A $36 bond for Eddie Woods, 105 Thompson, who was charged with peace disturbance, was forfeited.

A charge of assault and battery against Donzall Butler, 231 Luther, was dismissed for failure to prosecute.

Michael B. Evans, Cape Girardeau, was fined $56 on a charge of driving while intoxicated and $11 on a charge of curfew violation.

Roy W. Moore, 836 East Gladys, was fined $9 on a charge of destruction of city property. The car he was driving struck a parking meter. A charge of careless and imprudent driving against him was continued.

Harry A. Jones, 304 Greer, charged with careless and imprudent driving, dismissed on payment of court costs.

Robert L. Morphis, 1724 Oklahoma, charged with destroying a city light pole, paid $6 court costs and $5 of his bond was stayed on payment of damages. Morphis also was fined $17 on a careless and imprudent driving charge.

Rebecca Forrest, 611 East Kathleen, was fined $56 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. A charge of operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes was dismissed.

William M. Cole, Bertrand, charged with careless and imprudent driving, dismissed on payment of $6 court costs.

Charges of failure to notify the city of work ready for inspection against six plumbers were continued. The plumbers are: Gilbert Dover, 800 Pine; L.V. Williams, 118 Missouri; M.A. Freeman, 700 Linn; Odis Morris, 318 Ruth; Henry C. Cook, 330 Luther, and Jack D. Mitchell, 415 Shady Lane.

Raymond Daniels, 318 Prosperity, was fined $7 on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Volunteers Needed

Any Jaycee interested may contact the ticket office at GR 1-4860.

No One Minds Ticket Shortage

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mansfield is running short on parking tickets and no one seems to care, says Douglas Hazen, city safety director.

Three requests to the City Council for money to print more forms have been ignored, seriously putting a crimp on the number of tickets police can give out, Hazen said Thursday.

Higher Troop Level To Boost Draft Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher draft calls and a possible $2-billion supplemental defense budget request are likely as a result of President Johnson's ordered troop increase for Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The President announced Thursday that 45,000 to 50,000 more men will be deployed to the war zone in response to recommendations of top defense and military officials.

At the same time, he said, there is a possibility that because of increased military spending, defense expenditures for fiscal 1968 may exceed the $73 billion budget by up to $4 billion.

Exactly how high draft calls will go now is being determined in a Pentagon study of what the newly authorized 525,000-man level for Vietnam next summer will do to over-all U.S. military strength.

Announced draft calls for the five months extending through September have risen to an average of about 23,000 a month. This reflects, in part, the Pentagon's move to meet its 1966-approved Vietnam manpower ceiling of 480,000.

Sources said draft calls during the last quarter of this year likely will exceed 35,000 a month.

As for spending, sources say Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara believes $2 billion in planned spending can be trimmed from the defense budget to offset partially the possible $4-billion overrun mentioned by the President.

The $2-billion difference would have to be covered by a supplemental budget request early next year, sources said.

The administration also had to get a $12-billion defense supplement for fiscal 1967, but the 1968 budget was supposed to cover all anticipated war spending as well as meet other military needs.

The President said McNamara had been ordered to "conduct a searching review of all defense expenditures and to withhold all such expenditures that are not now essential for national security."

Defense officials already are in the process of cutting back on fighter aircraft purchases. They say this is possible because of a lower-than-expected rate of loses over North Vietnam.

The level of U.S. forces in Vietnam now stands officially at 454,000 after a 7,000-man "statistical adjustment" by the Pentagon Thursday.

The Pentagon said most of the 45,000 new troops will be Army. Sources said there will also be a certain number of Air Force and Navy units, mainly combat support elements.

No Reserve callup is expected, the Pentagon said.

Hearnes Signs Bill Hiking Aid to Junior Colleges

The present $200 per 24 semester hours will be increased to $320 or 50 per cent of actual operating costs, whichever is less. It was sponsored by Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, who introduced the original junior college aid bill.

Also signed was a bill setting up an emergency fund of $150,000 a year, to be used for emergencies which arise when the legislature is not in session.

The fund will be administered by the governor, comptroller, their chairmen and ranking minority members of the House and Senate appropriations committees, and the director of planning and construction, who will act as a consultant.

Also signed was a bill giving the Board of Public Buildings authority to lease excess space to political subdivisions and allow construction of state facilities in towns of 5,000 or more instead of 10,000. It is intended to permit leasing of space to St. Louis County in a proposed state office building there.

Other bills signed included measures to:

Make it unnecessary for the comptroller to pre-approve claims as a prerequisite to advancing federal funds.

Update the state cigarette tax law.

Raise the pay of the directors of employment security and the director of workmen's compensation.

Increase the pay of juvenile officers and their deputies.

Prohibit the St. Louis circuit attorney and prosecuting attorney from practicing law and increase the number of assistant circuit attorneys from 17 to 21.

Soviet Trawler Off Limits Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)— A Soviet trawler, seized last March for violating the 12-mile exclusive fisheries zone off the Alaska coast, was picked up for the same offense Thursday, the Coast Guard reported.

The STRM 8-457, a 180-foot refrigerator vessel, was seized by the Coast Guard cutter Avoyel 10 miles north of Akutan Island in the Aleutians and taken under tow for Dutch Harbor.

The seizure was the third of a Soviet vessel in Alaskan waters in the past year. When the STRM 8-457 was taken off Seal Cape in March she was captained by Luonid M. Kushchenko, who was fined $10,000. It is not known who her skipper is now.

Fire Damages Utility Room

Damage was caused to a utility room of the wood frame house. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Eight firemen responded.

The fire truck returned to the station at 12:30 a.m. today.

About $779,000,000 is given away annually by 15,000 U.S. philanthropic foundations.

Tax Proposal Received Coolly in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional reaction to President Johnson's call for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge generally ranges from lukewarm to chilly, with few members except some Democratic leaders offering unqualified support.

Some other Democrats joined in the expected Republican opposition to the long-awaited tax hike request. Chairman William Proxmire, D— Wis., of the Senate - House Economic Committee called it a blunder that would hamper business growth and thus generate little new revenue.

And Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said only: "I'm uncommitted; committed to no one, one way or the other."

Mills, who ranks as perhaps the foremost tax expert in Congress, has remained noncommittal since Johnson first proposed a surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes last January. At that time Johnson urged a 6 per cent surtax.

But the Arkansas Democrat revised the Ways and Means Committee's schedule to provide at least two weeks of hearings beginning Aug. 14. The hearings will be interrupted Aug. 17 and 18 when the House is scheduled to consider Johnson's bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Almost to a man, members who discussed the proposals Johnson sent to Congress Thursday agreed that if a tax hike is enacted at all, it won't be by Oct. 1— the date the President asked the surcharge on individual income taxes to start.

And veteran members of the Ways and Means Committee said it never has been willing to make retroactive a tax increase on individuals. Johnson asked the matching 10 per cent increase on corporate income taxes be made retroactive to July 1.

A later date for both seemed likely, if there are to be increases, perhaps Oct. 1 for the corporate tax, the first of next year for the individual.

Johnson's linking of the tax boost request with Vietnam costs and plans to dispatch 45,000 more troops there did not sit well with some members.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said, "The President's message is a confession of failure of his so-called 'guns and butter' economic policy."

Noting Johnson's warning that the budget deficit for the current year could reach $29 billion without the tax boost and tighter reins on spending, Miller added:

"His concern that such a deficit would cause inflation and high interest rates should have been shown a year and a half ago when he told the American people that we could afford to fight the war in Vietnam and increase the pace of Great Society domestic programs at the same time."

"I am becoming particularly disturbed by the Johnson administration's policy of blaming every economic ill in this country on the war in Vietnam," said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, a member of the Senate Finanace Committee.

Johnson specified the surcharge would not apply across the board— some 16 million persons in the lowest taxpaying brackets would be exempt.

Thus a single person making no more than $1,900, a couple up to $3,600 or a family with two children up to $5,000 would have no surtax to pay.

But a $10,000 income typically would bear $174 more in taxes for a single person, $134 for a childless couple, $111 for a family of four. At $20,000 the increases would be $492, $348 and $316. All these figures assume standard deductions.

There were some suggestions taxpayers above the lowest brackets should have a portion of their income exempt from the surtax.

Other proposals were for an excess profits tax or a higher surtax on corporate than individual income. Ways and Means committeeman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said he is pushing a 5 per cent individual, 10 per cent corporate formula.

And Republicans, as well as some Democrats, called for strictest economy to minimize or even avert any tax increase.

Business reaction was mixed, but leaned toward accepting Johnson's case for the tax hike. The man in the street seemed less enthusiastic, however, an informal AP survey around the country indicated.

On this score Johnson pledged his administration to "every possible expenditure reduction— civilian and military— short of jeopardizing the nation's security and well-being."

But he said two-thirds of the nondefense budget of $61 billion is not subject to executive reduction and he urged Congress to practice economy, too.

Specifically, he urged abandoning proposals for $1 billion more in government, civilian and military pay raises than the level he recommended.

A saving of $1 billion, Johnson noted, is equivalent to two percentage points of surcharge.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said: "The President has not made a case for an income tax increase. I will not concede that the present level of federal spending cannot be cut back sufficiently to avoid a tax increase."

Johnson said the surtax would yield $6.3 billion in the year that began July 1. He recommended also postponing scheduled excise tax drops on automobiles and telephone service for another $300 million in the same year. The yields would be greater in the following year.

He was born at Dexter Sept. 17, 1943. On may 1, 1965, he married Elizabeth Powell, who survives at Dudley.

Also surviving are one daughter, Susan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Eskew, Dexter; two brothers, Dale Eskew, St. Louis, and Larry Eskew, Dexter; four sisters, Mrs. Delores Gales and Mrs. Pauline Griffey, both of Dexter; Mrs. Rita Elliott, Arkadelphia, Ark., and Joan Eskew, St. Louis, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin of Dexter.

The body is being returned to Watkins and Sons Funeral Home.

Congo Orders Newsmen out

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — The Congolese government today ordered all correspondents and photographers of The Associated Press to leave the Congo within 48 hours.

A similar measure was announced against a representative of the British news agency, Reuters.

Information Minister Jean Jacques Kande said the decision was taken by President Joseph D. Mobutu personally.

Kande told Michael Goldsmith of The Associated Press the AP men were being expelled because AP stories had "speculated about Russian planes which are bringing Tshombe to The Congo and the route they are supposed to take, by way of Cairo." Ex-Premier Moise Tshombe, under arrest in Algeria, faces a death sentence here.

Kande said the government also objected to an AP report from Bujumbura, Burundi, three weeks ago quoting Congolese Interior Minister Etienne Tshisekedi as saying some white residents had been killed and eaten by undisciplined troops in Katanga.

In a separate meeting with Francois Duriaud of Reuters, Kande said the government objected to Reuters reports of casualties suffered by the Congolese army in a battle with mercenaries Tuesday.

American Ambassador Robert H. McBride and British Ambassador John Cotton said they planned to urge Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko to have the expulsion order rescinded.

Also affected by the measure were a part-time Associated Press reporter Pierre Moser, a Swiss citizen, and Associated Press photographer Max Nash.

Israel-Jordan Border Skirmish Continues

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli soldiers exchanged rifle fire across the Jordan River near Jericho for the fourth successive day today, the Israeli army reported.

Israeli newspapers said Israel has warned Jordan it will take "strong action" if the shooting incidents continue.

The Israeli army said Jordanian riflemen opened fire briefly in midmorning on Israeli soldiers who shot back. No casualties were reported.

The shooting has been in the Damia Bridge area, about 15 miles north of the Allenby Bridge used by thousands of Arab refugees who crossed out of Israeli-held territory after the Arab-Israeli war June 5-10.

Record Strikes Flown

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes hammered North Vietnam with 197 strike missions Thursday, 22 more than were ever flown in a single day during the 2½ years of bombing the Communist North, the U. S. Command said today.

U. S. headquarters also announced that 635 combat planes have been lost over North Vietnam, including an Air Force F105 Thunderchief downed by ground fire Thursday and four losses not previously disclosed.

One was the massive sweep by an estimated 10,000 U. S. and South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta 45 miles south of Saigon, the biggest allied operation staged so far in the delta.

In the same delta area, South Vietnamese troops reported killing the commander of a hard-core Viet Cong battalion and capturing his assistant.

The air attacks Thursday ranged from deep in North Vietnam's heartland to the country's southern panhandle.

Navy pilots reported destroying or damaging 72 supply boats or barges along the coast. Other Navy fliers reported setting off a secondary explosion among a cluster of buildings at the Quang Nap storage area three miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, in the panhandle. The pilots said dense smoke towered up 5,000 feet.

Navy pilots also reported damaging railroad facilities at the Dong Khe railroad siding 28 miles northwest of Vinh and the Ly Nhan siding 27 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa.

Air Force pilots attacked a 100-foot concrete and steel bridge 14 miles northeast of the port city and "the bridge completely disappeared," said Lt. Col. Harry W. Schurr, 39, of Indina, Pa., one of the fliers.

Other Air Force pilots reported damaging one end of the Bac Giang railroad and highway bridge 27 miles northeast of Hanoi and damaging four antiaircraft sites in the area. And airmen who attacked a railroad yard 39 miles northeast of the Communist capital said white smoke engulfed the area.

The U.S. Command said 87 missions were flown by the Air Force, 74 by the Navy and 36 by the Marines.

This broke a record that had stood for nearly 10 months— 176 missions last Oct. 14.

In South Vietnam, the Communists brought down a U.S. Marine CH46 helicopter near the A Shau Valley and three Marines aboard were wounded, a U.S. spokesman said.

A Shau, on the Laotian border 400 miles north of Saigon, was the target of two B52 raids. The bombers have hit the area almost daily since the Communists overran a U.S. Special Forces camp there a year and a half ago.

The B52s bombed enemy gun positions, base camps and storage areas one mile east of the abandoned American camp and hit storage sites and trail networks four miles to the northwest.

The bombers also struck twice at enemy troop concentrations in Pleiku Province 250 miles north of Saigon and once in Long Khanh Province 50 miles northeast of Saigon.

On the political front, the second presidential slate in South Vietnam's Sept. 3 election announced a peace platform. The presidential candidate, Truong Dinh Dzu, said he is determined to stop the war and proposed a cease-fire, a halt to the bombing of the North and a new Geneva conference.

Phan Khac Suu's vice presidential running mate, Phan Quang Dan, injected peace into the campaign earlier Thursday by urging negotiations with the Communists "at all levels, including the National Liberation Front," the political branch of the Viet Cong.

Hearnes To Appear At Rodeo

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes will appear at the 8 p.m. Aug. 12 performance of the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo, Mike Jones, publicity chairman, announced today.

Jones reported that Gov. Hearnes has confirmed the appearance with Scott County Rep. Tony Heckemeyer.

Ticket sales are now approaching $5,000 for the four-day annual event, Jones said.

A free picnic lunch will be served by the Jaycees from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. Thursday, opening day.

Pony rides and stagecoach rides will be available on the rodeo grounds before performances.

Stock has arrived for the show. More horses, bulls and calves will begin arriving Sunday.

Another Carrier Fire Victim Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The parents of a St. Louis sailor injured in Saturday's fire aboard the aircraft carrier Forrestal were notified Thursday of his death aboard a hospital ship.

The Navy said Airman Apprentice Philip L. Hudson, 20, died Wednesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Hudson.

Boy Falls From Bike, Hits Head

A ten - year - old boy riding a bicycle with a group of children on a country road about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Miner suffered a cut to the right side of his head when he fell and struck the rear fender of an automobile driven by mail carrier Bill Scarbrough, Sikeston.

Scarbrough took the youth identified as Albert Brown, son of Lovie Brown, to Missouri Delta Community hospital for treatment. He was admitted, but his condition could not be determined. The accident occurred at about 9 a.m. today.

The youth was riding with other children along the gravel road when the accident occurred, Scarbrough said. The boy waved at the mail carrier, then lost control of his bike and fell. His head struck the rear fender of the car, Scarbrough said.

Charleston Police Chief Holding Own

He suffered broken ribs and a possible lung injury. His blood pressure has stabilized.

Hunter was blinded by the lights of a passing motorist. His car went down a steep embankment and overturned.

He has been on the police force since 1951. He became chief 11 years ago.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Elimination of the subversive activities control board has been suggested in these columns as a good place to start in cutting back the federal bureaucracy.

It is fine choice because the United States Supreme Court ruled its activities were unconstitutional and because President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed an inexperienced family favorite to it at a salary of $26,000 a year.

Just in case anyone in Washington, D.C., ever again becomes interested in economy and in giving the taxpayers something for their money, he need not rest long after eliminating the subversive activities control board.

Just for example:

There are 42 separate agencies handling education programs.

There are 252 different welfare schemes.

There ar 57 varieties of job training programs.

There are more than 70 agency and department heads reporting directly to the White House, an impossible load for President Lyndon B. Johnson to shoulder despite the fact that he thinks the solution to every problem is to spend more money and advocate new and increased outlays of cash every time he makes a public appearance.

Then there is U.S. Sen. Edward V. (Ethical Ed) Long, who is ready to support every Great Society measure the President can dream up if it doesn't involve naming any of his moonlighting law practice clients while drawing a Senator's pay with all the fringe benefits.

There hasn't even been any recent mention of dousing the White House lights.

The boorish aspect of the personality of Gen. Charles de Gaulle never was bared so fully for the world to see than on his official visit to Canada.

Designed to produce good will between the two countries, De Gaulle instead abused the hospitality of Canada by calling for a "free Quebec".

As the French president was forcibly reminded by Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson Quebec and Canada are free.

De Gaulle's shout of "vive le Quebec libre" was designed to encourage extremists advocating that the French separate from Canada.

As an official guest on a good will mission De Gaulle heaped on Canada every insult imaginable.

He first was to visit Ottawa, the Canadian capital, before calling on French-speaking Quebec and Montreal. Instead he went to Quebec, where he shouted the phrase encouraging French extremists, and to Montreal.

After Pearson denounced the visitors language as "inacceptable" - about the strongest word diplomats used - De Gaulle packed his bags and flew home without visiting Ottawa or conferring with Pearson.

While in Canada De Gaulle heaped abuse on the United States.

Neither the United States nor Canada deserve any guff from France.

Twice they have helped save the nation's life in world wars.

France has defaulted on its obligations to this country and today De Gaulle, an egomaniac with delusions both of the grandeur of De Gaulle and of France, never misses a chance to abuse this country.

Pearson was correct in challenging De Gaulle for a typical exhibition of poor taste and bad manners.

He should have kicked him out of Canada before the meddling old man had the opportunity to leave voluntarily.

THE BAR IN HONOLULU

The American Bar Association's 90th annual meeting, beginning in Honolulu on Tuesday, Aug. 1, offers an agenda as topical as the day's headlines. Urban crime, abortion and wiretapping figure prominently in reports, discussion and debate scheduled by 21 sections of the 250,000-member association and its policy-making House of Delegates.

Some 12,000 lawyers, judges, law professors and their families are expected to attend the 10-day work-and-play convention in which relaxation on Waikiki Beach will compete with learned seminars. Floor debate is anticipated when the House of Delegates is asked to endorse bills pending in the U.S. Senate (S 989 and S 1318) to provide jury selection in federal and state courts without regard to race or other discriminating considerations.

Another troublesome issue, that of protecting a criminal defendant from harmful publicity, will be reviewed by two separate bar groups at the convention. They will hear the so-called Reardon Report which recommends some withholding of crime news by police and court officers to insure a fair trial. These proposals have been roundly attacked by the press as unnecessary and unconstitutional. The present prospect is that they will be modified somewhat at Honolulu and then sent to the House of Delegates for approval when it meets in Chicago next February.

CHARGE IT, PLEASE

Starting on Tuesday, Aug. 1 somebody with a good credit rating will be able to charge almost anything, almost everywhere. On that date the First National City Bank of New York will issue its "Everything Card" - a credit card that will allow the holder, the bank says, to charge anything from an accordion to a zipper.

The American businessman and the American tourist have long been wedded to their credit cards. The original oil company cards, which were first good only for gas, oil, and perhaps tires, are now honored in motels and lots of other places. The big "T & E" card and he's likely to invite you to open your own account with the establishment. The reason? The big all-purpose clubs charge a minimum of 7 per cent for service to the man who's extending the credit - and they make him wait 45 days for his money.

The "T & E" cards cost their holders $10 to $12 a year in membership dues. The New York bank card, launched with a big advertising campaign, will be offered free of charge, so long as the bill is paid in full within 25 days. If the holder needs cash he can get an instant loan at any branch bank. The system starts out with charge privileges at 30,000 establishments in New York City and Nassau and Westchester counties. The bank says you can charge "almost everything you can see, touch, taste, or feel."

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Time is a strange thing.

Today is today. But what was today yesterday? It was tomorrow. And what will today be tomorrow? It will be yesterday. So every day has three identities— yesterday, today and tomorrow.

By the miracle of memory all our yesterdays again become momentary todays; bygone scenes, sounds and scents come alive again to twinge us anew with wonder or regret.

You've got a pretty good collection of yesterdays in your memory gallery if you can look back and remember when—

Riots seemed to occur only in foreign countries.

It was thought you had musical aptitude if you learned how to pump a player piano.

The revolutionary idea of installing radios in automobiles was opposed by some on the grounds that it would cause carnage on the highways by distracted drivers.

We had a popular folk hero who neither sang nor played the guitar, and didn't even wear a beard. Who was he? Tarzan of the apes, that's who.

College teams played football for fun.

Norman Thomas, the Socialist, was thought to be a wild-eyed radical and a threat to the American way of life.

In hot weather young ladies carried fans to the theater, but used them more as instruments of flirtation than as tools to lower their temperature.

You definitely didn't belong to the "in" set if you didn't know how to play mah-jongg.

Many people opposed the goal of a five-day work week on the grounds that the laboring classes would only use the added day of leisure to destroy themselves through sin and drunken revelry.

Long-distance phone calls were so expensive that relatives couldn't afford to ring you up more than once a year to tell you their troubles.

A dog could fall asleep in most American village streets without fear of being run over, because, if a horse and buggy came along, he could always wake up in time to get out of the way.

Two of the biggest problems facing a boy growing into manhood were learning how to shave with a straight razor and how to chew tobacco.

A majority of U.S. business leaders were self-made men who generally looked on a college education as a waste of time.

Those were the days! Remember?

MEN'S FASHIONS GAIN UNPRECEDENTED RECOGNITION

Just a little more than twenty-five years ago, men's apparel was the "ignored orphan" of the nation's fashion pages. And there was ample reason why valuable editorial space was not squandered on the less-than-exhilarating styles of that day. It was the "blue serge" era - the period when a wardrobe consisted of (A) an everyday suit and (B) a Sunday go-to-meeting suit. But as men's fashions began to bloom, so too did attention begin to be given to them. Esquire was probably the first major magazine to devote sizable space to men's apparel developments. Others followed suit until, these days, the major magazines covering the accelerated development of new male fashions provide a total circulation of multi-millions of readers. The newspapers of this country have also kept pace with this growing recognition of men's fashions, as an industry that has come alive!

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Here are some of the causes and cures for our race riots, as expressed by men on the firing line:

NAACP's Roy Wilkins, member of the President's new race panel, a moderate Negro who has been battling for racial understanding probably longer than any man in the USA. Asked at the international platform association forum why Negroes moving north became so much more violent than southern Negroes, he replied:

"The family controls Negro behavior in the south. In the north the Negro finds himself in new surroundings, usually without his family, without his old neighbors, without his church. In Harlem he's just John Smith."

Says Capt. Daniel V. James, retiring commander of the U.S. naval communications center in Washington: "We have been helping to supply fathers for the broken homes of the Washington community through Big Brothers.

"Scores of our men get satisfaction out of being a Big brother to a fatherless boy. We try to advise and guide him, keep him out of trouble. The lack of a father in a broken home is the biggest factor which gets boys off to a bad start."

Says President Lyndon Johnson: "I don't know why some people sit idly by and are willing to take the more expensive route, the jail route, the penitentiary route. . .It takes more of our money to take care of a convict in a penitentiary than it does to prepare a boy to be a good taxpaying citizen who can read and write."

HOW ABOUT SPENDING AT HOME?

Says Dr. Martin Luther King: "If we can spend billions of dollars rebuilding Germany and revitalizing the people of Europe, with more billions of arms for southeast Asia, we can afford to spend a few billions putting our Negro people back on their feet . . .The church has been a taillight rather than a headlight. . . The congress has revealed that it loves rats more than it does people."

Says Mayor Ivan Allen, Jr., of Atlanta, who has maintained the best race relations of any city in the south: "We need a massive housing program costing twenty to thirty billions a year, with the workers for that program enlisted from the unemployed of our Negro ghettos."

Says Dr. Alec Levin, Washington physician: "Enlist a corps of young Negro volunteer policemen, not trained in the use of firearms but trained in leadership. Put them in every city block."

Says comedian Dick Gregory: "Why don't we investigate the minutemen or the white kids rioting at Fort Lauderdale? . . .All the militant were in Newark, and Stokely Carmichael was in Cuba when the Detroit riots started. It's one time riots can't be blamed on him. . . Negroes call Edward Brooke (Negro senator from Massachusetts) the White Knight. He's stronger than dirt. . .When you see these old schools, you can understand why the kids want to burn them down to get new ones. . ."

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

Says Sargent Shriver, head of the antipoverty program: "The only permanent answer to preventing riots is to attack the causes which produce riots. We are trying to provide alternatives to violence."

Says Rep. James Burke, D-Mass.: "Let's fill up those empty seats in ball parks with underprivileged kids at least once a week. If we nurture a healthy interest in sports, it will naturally attract the young to playgrounds and keep them off the streets. . . ten million dollars for two years would provide for about 80 million tickets, an opportunity for 20 million youngsters to see four or five professional games. Why shouldn't more kids today be emulating Joe Foy of the Red Sox instead of watching crime pictures on television?"

Says Rep. James Scheuer, D-N.Y.: "We need a new division in the justice department to study better community relations between the police and the people; tranquilizing pellets which can be used rather than bullets to calm violent mobs. The FBI teaches target practice, not community relations."

Note -- J. Edgar Hoover is opposed to such a division, but a study just prepared by the justice department supports it.

WASHINGTON MERRY - GO - ROUND

Fred Kappel, retired head of the giant American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been spending his time since he retired working for the public. LBJ has appointed him to the President's committee on postal organization, the commission to study executive salaries, and on the emergency board to mediate the railroad dispute . . . Attorney General Ramsey Clark has gone one step further than his father in tangling with the Ku Klux Klan. Tom Clark, when Attorney General under Truman, was the first to put the Ku Klux Klan on the subversive list, along with the communist party. His son Ramsey has now arrested 12 suspects, most of them Klansmen, in connection with the bombing of school board members' homes and other acts of violence to prevent desegregation.

H. L. Hunt Says

CONALLY RESERVATION AGAIN

On August 3, 1946, the U.S. Government by treaty accepted the idea of compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice, more commonly known as the World Court. The Senate, in approving the treaty, added an amendment providing that the United States cannot be brought before the World Court unless our government agrees to such action.

This was the Conally Amendment, named for the senator who introduced it, and for 21 years it has exempted from the jurisdiction of the World Court any matter which the United States might regard as internal in nature. Without this protection we might find ourselves facing decisions which would strike at the very heart of our national life. The U.S. has one of the 15 members making up the World Court. That one is selected by the General Assembly of the United Nations and not by any elected official or elected representatives of the American people.

Without the protection of the Conally Reservation the United States would be subject to the whims of a court composed in large part of representatives of nations where the ideal of freedom as enjoyed in our country is unknown. Yet announcements have been recently published that a national organization will start a drive to repeal the Connally Amendment. It is unthinkable that this effort should meet with the approval of the vast majority of the American people.

There are many reasons why the Conally Amendment must be kept in effect. All of them have to do with the security of our nation and the maintenance of freedom. HLH.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

INSIDE THE RIOTS!
WHY DETROIT?

Self Styled Neo-Revolutionary Cells Operate Tough Guard and Propaganda Units in Big Cities.

DETROIT: -- There's a chunk of Saigon here, especially in the charred, burned-out jungle which federal authorities have told President Johnson is about the size of the city of Pittsburgh.

You can't tell the terrorists from the decent folk without a computerized, centralized intelligence system. And there is none. There are not even specialists. There are only scores of self-styled "revolutionary" leaders and cells.

They have no central network. So there's been no central investigation, federal or local, though the city and the land are filled with revolutionary literature, movies, pamphlets, and "black" paramilitary units. These have broken the hearts as well as the heads of men, Negro and white, who thought they had it made in this showpiece city.

Despite the slums, no metropolis could have been more of a showpiece. This is after all the city of Walter Reuther and his auto union and its interlocking relationships with Wayne State and other Michigan universities.

Such intellectual liberals as Ronald W. Haughton of Wayne State University, long an intimate of Reuther and his colleagues in the United Auto Workers (UAW) high council have had dialogues going here for some ten years. This was the head start city.

Negroes and whites were evenly matched politically. In fact, the Negro leadership privately vetoed the auto union chief's original position on the mayoralty candidacy of Jerome Cavanagh some years ago. The Negroes tipped the political balance for Mayor Cavanagh.

There also is the union's Trade Union Leadership Council (TULC.) Active in it are Horace Sheffield, a UAW staff member, and Buddy Battles of the Ford local leadership. The TULC had the equivalent of a school, replete with classes in office work, business English, and third and fourth echelon office management. There was much "action" in art and music.

The TULC was another head starter. It long has worked with AFL-CIO elder, vice president A. Philip Randolph. It had a broad base. Fully a third of the Chrysler, Ford and General Motors' 600,000 employes are Negroes. Naturally the bulk are in and around Detroit. They are on the same wage scale, same seniority lists, same unemployment guarantees, same industry-paid welfare and hospitalization programs, including all sorts of free service from the optical to the psychiatric.

Why, then -- as President Johnson asked I. W. Abel, head of the United Steelworkers, about 9:30 p.m. Thursday, July 27, in a personal telephon conversation -- Detroit?

No reason, except that there is no relationship between the dialogues, the model programs and the self-styled revolutionists.

The hard core of rioters are a new breed. This kind of warfare doesn't take manpower. It takes tightly knit disciplined cells. They're all over the big eastern cities.

Certainly few of the citizenry, white or Negro, have heard of tough little bands such as the Black Flag Anarchists, the Black Guard of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), the Black United Action Front, the Black Liberation Commission of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP).

These are just a few. But everyone appears to have forgotten that the Progressive Labor Party's vice-chairman Bill Epton was convicted of criminal anarchy after the 1964 Harlem riots. There are others of his colleagues still awaiting trial.

The PLP is Mao-ist -- pure but not so simple. They believe in direct action. Many of their young members -- and virtually all are under 30 -- are good rifle shots. They have a network of Mao-ist, Viet Cong literature. They distribute not only National Liberation Front motion pictures, but films of the Cuban Tri-Continental Conference, especially on the Cuban militia and revolutionary struggles. The PLP offers, and has dispatched, the "fighting films" to "anybody's apartment, the lobby of your building or even on the street." Some of the pictures are from Peking, North Vietnam and Zanzibar.

There is even a publishing house in New York City which issues Robert Williams' "Negroes With Guns." Williams was Castro's favorite "American desk" broadcaster and now is lending his cataclysmic culture to Peking's transmitters.

It doesn't take a national network to set such flying squads rolling towards inflamed cities. The cells roll on their own -- by car, by train, even by air. The neo-revolutionists have money, plenty of it.

If the President and his civil disorders committee seek an answer, they will have to concentrate on the new revolutionists and cage them before the cells coalesce and crush those who want to see the open blue sky as they reach upward --not the terorists, snipers and clouds of smoke.

Corcovado Christ Symbol Of Faith

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — For a quarter of a century, the Corcovado Christ statue has towered over Rio de Janeiro, its outstretched arms glistening in the sun by day and bathed in light at night.

By design, it is in the shape of a cross, symbolic of the faith of the world's largest Roman Catholic nation.

The name Corcovado comes from the hump-back shape of the mountain on which the statue stands, though religious significance has been attached to the area from earliest history.

The first explorers, for example, called Corcovado the "Pinacle of Temptation," in reference to the Biblical description of the temptation of Christ.

After five years of construction, the Christ statue was dedicated in 1931. It cost the equivalent of $250,000 with the money raised through donations.

Corcavado stands 2,400 feet above Rio's shimmering white beaches and strikingly blue Guanabara Bay. The statue itself is 120 feet tall and 93 feet wide through the arms. Each arm weighs 80 tons and each hand 8 tons, contributing to the total weight of 1,145 tons.

Inside the chest of the hollow interior, a heart is carved in the reinforced gray concrete, and a 10-story wooden stairway winds up to the head. For annual cleanings, workmen can climb onto the shoulders from openings at the base of the neck.

A crown of thorns is formed by 56 lightning rods encircling the head. Lightning bolts have chipped the shoulders and arms and destroyed part of the right eyebrow.

Corcovado is reached by highway or by a cog railway, the first part of which was constructed in 1873 for Dom Pedro II, a Brazilian emperor.

Dorothy Franklin to Wed Willie Earl Ealy Jr.

LILBOURN - Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franklin announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Franklin, and Airman Second Class Willie Earl Ealy, Jr., son of Mrs. Rachel Ealy of Lilbourn.

Miss Franklin is a 1966 graduate of Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss., where she received a bachelor of arts degree in social science. She attended graduate school at Washington University in St. Louis. Airman Ealy is serving with the air force in Vietnam.

A september wedding is planned.

Theda Gage Pledges Vows With Larry Williams

CHARLESTON - The wedding of Miss Theda Gage to Larry Williams was solemnized Sunday at the Southside Baptist church, with the Rev. Rufus Noisworthy performing the double ring ceremony.

The couple pledged vows beneath an arch entwined with fern, seven branch candelabra and two baskets of white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gage, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Bud" Williams.

Given in marriage by her brother, Warren Gage, the bride wore a street-length dress of white organdy with a square neckline and elbow-length sleeves trimmed with lace bands. Her veil was of white tulle, secured by five rosebuds. She carried white daisies centered with a white orchid.

Mary Lou Gage, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of mint green styled like that of the bride. Her headdress was of green tulle.

Bob Graham served as best man, and the candlelighters and ushers were Edwin Urhahn of Sikeston and Jack Hill of Elmhurst, Ill. Miss Lillian Adams of Sikeston served at the guest register.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe, and the groom's mother chose white crepe. Each had a corsage of white rosebuds.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall, where a three-tiered wedding cake and crystal punch bowl were placed on a green tablecloth overlaid with green net. Mrs. Dale Gage served punch, and Mrs. Warren Gage served cake.

The new Mrs. Williams is a Kelly high school graduate and is employed at Citizens Bank, where she will continue to work. Her husband is a Charleston High School graduate and is engaged in farming and the lime business with his father.

The newlyweds live on East Marshall Street.

Miss Harriet LaRue of Dexter and Mrs. James Harness of Advance have been dismissed from Southeast Missouri hospital.

Lee Morehead of Sikeston, Eugene Robbins of New Madrid and Paul Tuckey of Benton have been released from Cape Oetopathic hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Up-lift for the face
that desires to look "Ageless"

The woman who is called "ageless" has all the advantages; no one can tell how old she is and no one cares—the "ageless" look is too exciting to evoke petty guessing. And it's not hard to achieve now that we have a way to semi-permanently smooth "catty" facial lines into insignificance. Greaseless, aqueous 2nd Debut applied nightly does it. And as a beauty-bonus it rids your skin of all dryness as long as you use it regularly. Moreover, it "lifts" the tone of the entire complexion to give you credit for youthful freshness and vigor you should reflect even when you don't. Follow up in the morning with a second film of 2nd Debut before make up just to keep the good work of 2nd Debut going for you all through the day too. We have 2nd Debut with CEF600 and with the double potency CEF1200 for the older woman whose skin is somewhat more difficult to smooth than the skin of the woman of 40. Choose according to your age, $3.00 and $5.00.

2nd Debut with CEF 600 FOR THE LADY WITH EARLY WORRIES

Night and morning applications of 2nd Debut (with CEF600) deep, deep-moisturize the skin to help smooth your premature age lines. As lines first grow more and more shallow, your skin appears smoother and more youthful-looking. Dryness goes. 2nd Debut (with CEF600), 4 oz. size is $3.00. 2nd Debut (with CEF1200) double potency for the face over 40—or for the impatient lady not accustomed to waiting for anything. 4 oz. size $5.00.

2nd Debut LIQUID CLEANSER

One quick cleansing with 2nd Debut Liquid Cleanser will astound you! You will agree you have never seen your skin so really clean. Never! It's a rich liquid you spread on your face and neck. Allow it to remain their one minute, then—dowse your skin with cool water. The 2nd Debut Liquid dissolves into the water and takes with it imbedded dirt and residue. See your skin glow with new cleanliness. The 2 oz. bottle is $3.00.

Rodeo Gets Underway Thursday

Offering an expected $7,000 in purse money and entry fees to competing cowboys, the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo gets underway Thursday night, continuing through Sunday afternoon.

Last year's arena action logged 37 big-hatted entries riding and roping for a rich prize money payoff of $6,945 up for grabs in the sport's five main arena events.

Calf roping competition saw a Missouri roper noose the lion's share of the payoff. Young Bobby Goodspeed, from High Ridge, bested 16 of the game's top lariat artists to win the average and $582.

Event winners were Rowland Clark, Clarksville, Tex., steer wrestling - $376; Kurley Hebb, Fall River, Kan., -$374; Billy Rogers, Austin, Tex., bareback riding, $420; and Ronnie Bowman, Durant, Okla., bull riding, -$305.

Rodeo buffs will see some of pro rodeo's toughest cowboys pit their abilities gainst the broncs and Brahma bulls owned by Kinney Bros. of Sulphur, La., from whose ranks come such equine stars as National Finals nominess Long John, Little Stranger, Golden Glow, Angel Sings, and Hammerhead. Kinney bulls are among the hardest to ride in professional rodeo, listing NFR renegades #18, #113, #9 and #01. During the 1966 Finals, Kinney Bros. had seven bulls nominated for the arena competition -- the highest number pledged by any one rodeo stock contractor.

Prize money won at Sikeston will be credited to the individual cowboy's standings in the race for '67's national rodeo crowns. These championships, carrying $24,000 in award money, go to the top money winner in each event at the end of the rodeo season, which is climaxed by the sport's "world series" the NFR.

As one of the more than 500 such rodeos approved annually by the professional Rodeo Bowboys Association -- 524 were held in 1966 with prize money payoff of $3,452,544 -- competition in the Sikeston arena is conducted under nationally recognized rules.

Rodeo's high money winner for '66 was the Brooks, Ore., riding ace, 23-year-old Larry Mahan, who earned $40,358 and the coveted All-Around cowboy championship in his three riding events. Mahan is the fourth man in rodeo's history to top the $40,000 in a single season.

Arena entries close ag 6 p.m. Wednesday, according to James Coe, rodeo committeeman.

Hearnes Will Present Trophies At Charleston

CHARLESTON -- Three games are slated today in the first annual Charleston Little League baseball tournament. Gov. Warren E. Hearnes will present trophies at the conclusion.

Only one game was played last night. Cairo moved into the championship bracket with a 7-1 victory over Benton.

The second game, pitting Sikeston's All-Stars against Charleston was postponed until 7 p.m. tonight.

Benton will meet the loser of the Sikeston-Charleston game at 8:30 p.m. and Cairo will take on the winner at 10 p.m.

The winners had six hits. Six players shared the hitting with Brinkmeyer collecting the games only extra base hit, a double.

Rick Urhahn collected two of Benton's five hits to lead his team's effort. Wade was the loser.

Battle Begins Tonight

Pine Bluff's Connie Mack Arkansas state champions arrived in Sikeston today in hopes of sweeping the best of three game series with the Potlatch Foresters, Missouri state winner.

Rain Puts Damper On 12th Invitational

Sikeston's Aces clipped New Madrid 8-3 in the only game played at Puckett field last night in the 12th annual nine and ten-year-old invitational baseball tournament.

Two other games were rained out and are tentatively set for tonight.

Illmo-Scott City and Richland got in one half inning of play before rain stopped the game and will resume action at 7 p.m. tonight.

Sikeston's All Stars and Charleston will play their game at 8:30 p.m. The rest of the schedule will be played on a day by day basis to be announced by Don Miller, Sikeston Little League commissioner.

The Aces put down a stubborn New Madrid team on a one-hit pitching performance by Rus Wissman. The Aces scored a run in the first and added two in the fourth and five in the fifth for their victory.

New Madrid pushed across a run in the second to tie the score and added its final runs in the bottom of the fifth after the Aces pulled into an 8-2 lead.

Ronnie Standridge collected two of the Aces' five hits, banging out singles while teammates, Dewayne Self and Wissman, connected on a triple and double respectively.

Randy Davis collected the only New Madrid hit in the third inning. Robert Fowler, Graig Hunter and Jim Hayes scored New Madrid's runs.

Ruth Stars At Bluff Tonight

POPLAR BLUFF -- Dexter showered Poplar Bluff in the opening game of the Poplar Bluff invitational baseball tournament last night, 7-4. Sikeston's game with Fredericktown was postponed due to rain and will be played today at 5:30 p.m.

A Sikeston win would move them into the tournament championship fight that is set for 9 p.m. tonight. A loss would put them in the consolation bracket and a 7:30 p.m. game tonight.

College All-Stars Tackle Packers

CHICAGO (AP) — One of the most talented College All-Star squads in history takes on the Green Bay Packers tonight in the 34th annual midsummer football classic.

The Packers, champions of all professional football, have been installed two-touchdown favorites in the Soldier Field showdown which will be televised nationally.

An expected crowd of more than 60,000 will watch the Packers operate for the first time in years without the services of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, their great running backs.

Hornung has retired, and Taylor played out his option and is now a member of the New Orleans Saints. They'll be replaced by Elijah Pitts and Donny Anderson while steady Bart Starr will be directing the team from the vital quarterback slot.

The Packers, who captured the National Football League title and then went on to win the Super Bowl by defeating American League champion Kansas City, will have the same defense which stifled the collegians last year.

Attempting to crack the Packer defenses will be either Steve Spurrier of Florida or Bob Griese of Purdue, two of the finest passers in the collegiate ranks last season.

Coach Johnny Sauer will wait to the last minute to decide on which of the two will start. Once he has made his choice, Sauer insists he will play the hot hand.

If neither is able to make the talented Stars go, Sauer might shift to Houston's Bo Burris who has been working out as a defensive back.

The All-Stars are loaded with talented receivers including the likes of Jack Clancy of Michigan, flanker Rod Sherman of Southern California, Gene Washington of Michigan State and Dave Williams of Washington who caught a couple of bombs in last week's 23-22 scrimmage loss to the Chicago Bears.

Running backs include Mel Farr of UCLA, Nick Eddy of Notre Dame, Clint Jones of Michigan State, Floyd Little of Syracuse and Ray McDonald of Idaho.

However, the All-Stars are most impressive on defense headed by gigantic Bubba Smith of Michigan State.

The 290-pound Smith will get able assistance from Dave Rowe of Penn State, Alan Page of Notre Dame, Leo Carroll of San Diego State and Pete Duranko of Notre Dame.

Their objective will be to get Starr before the complex Green Bay pass patterns begin to unfold.

The men up front will be backed by some of the finest linebackers ever to grace an All-Star roster. There's George Webster of Michigan State, Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff of Tennessee.

The defensive secondary will include Phil Clark of Northwestern, Bob Grim of Oregon State, Rich Volk of Michigan and Henry King of Utah State.

The pros lead the series 22-9-2 and the Packers last year swamped the Stars 38-0 to avenge a 20-17 loss in 1963, the last time the All-Stars tasted victory in the series.

Tourney Opens Sunday

The Sikeston Invitational Little League baseball tournament will open Sunday for a one week stand at Puckett field, south of the high school. Eighteen teams from Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois are entered.

The teams are Morley, Richland, Matthews, Illmo-Scott City, Portageville, Sikeston All-Stars, New Madrid, Oran, Dexter, Chaffee, Charleston, Lilbourn, Morehouse, Sikeston American league Aces, Bloomfield, Bertrand, Cairo, Ill. and the Sikeston Aces of the National League.

Two games are slated for Sunday afternoon with three scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Finals are set for Saturday night.

Trophies will be awarded to the top four teams. Two outstanding player awards will be made.

Sunday's tournament opener will find the Cairo All-Stars going against the Sikeston Aces at 2 p.m. and followed by a 4 p.m. contest that will put Bertrand against Bloomfield.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A new tournament, the $125,000 Kaiser International Open, was added Thursday to the 1968 professional golf schedule and will be played Jan. 18-20 at the Silverado Country Club.

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Michael Kreis of Beverly Hills, Calif., upset sixth-seeded Brian Gottfried of Cape Coral, Fla., 7-5, 6-1 Thursday in the fourth round of the 16-and-under category of the National Junior Boys championships.

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP)— Patty Reese of St. Petersburg, Fla., gained the finals of the National Girls 16-and-under tournament Thursday with an 8-6, 6-2 victory over third seeded Connie Capozzi of Middletown, Ohio

Poverty Present, Cotton Important But Politics King in Bootheel

By John T. Dauner
in the Kansas City Times

PORTAGEVILLE -- From Kansas City, Washington and elsewhere last week came 14 federal investigators to evaluate the troubled antipoverty program in this Bootheel area, where cotton is important but politics is king.

What the Office of Economic Opportunity team found was a fascinating, if somewhat baffling, political struggle that for a year has threatened to tear to shreds the largest rural poverty program in the Middle West.

On the surface, it appears to be a battle over how and by whom the Delta Area Economic Opportunity corporation -- operator of the 1.6-million-dollar a year program in the six Bootheel counties -- would be run.

But beneath, the contenders charge, it is an attempt to establish political control of the Bootheel area, the southeast part of Missouri.

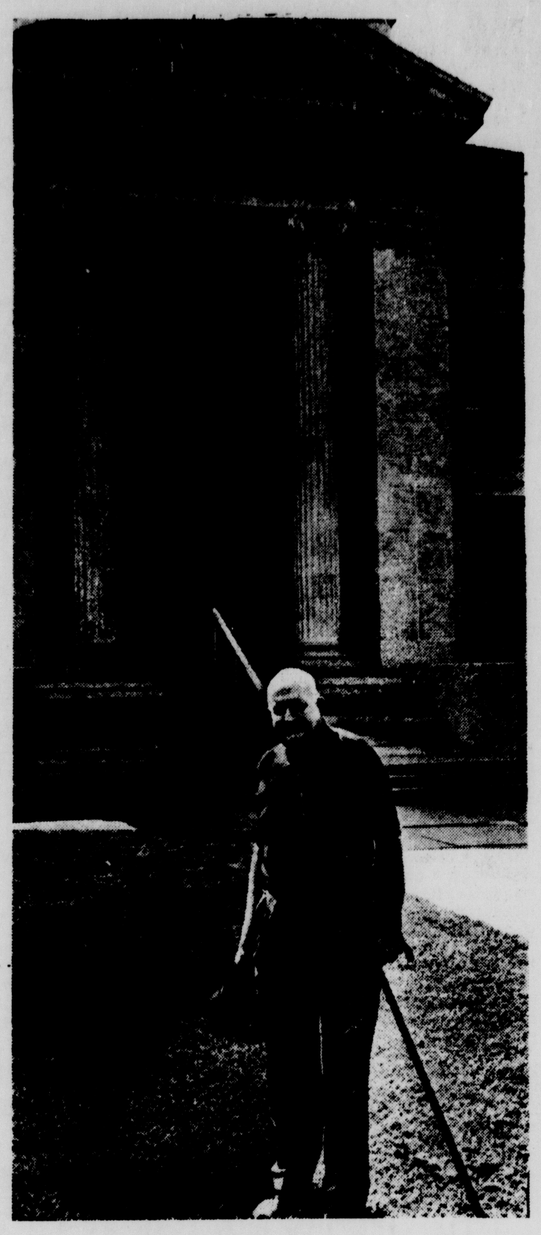
The charges and counter charges swirl around the corpulent and colorful person of J.V. Conran, lawyer, builder, leader of the Democratic political machine that bears his name and boss of New Madrid County. The other major characters in the political drama include Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and Don Thomason of Kansas City, regional OEO director - both Hearnes and Thomason are natives of the Bootheel - and Sen. Edward V. Long.

The Bootheel is rural in nature and Southern in attitude. Cotton is the main cash crop -- it is one of the two best cotton-producing areas in the country -- and the backbone of the economy. Cotton is augmented by soybeans, corn and some light industry.

Cotton is a crop that takes a great deal of care. Until a few years ago that meant employment for many field hands -- men, women and children who from late spring to early fall hoed and picked the cotton. But recently cotton farming has become entirely mechanized.

Now there are no jobs for these most of whom are functionally illiterate and unskilled in anything but field work.

The Bootheel breaks down neatly into two areas by population and income. Pemiscot, New Madrid and Mississippi Counties, stacked one on top of the other along the Mississippi river, have nonwhite populations of more than 20 percent, are among the lowest median family income areas in the state, rank high in the state for the percentage of elderly and welfare recipients and are first, second and third in the state for draft rejections and adults with fewer than five years schooling.



THE POLITICAL BOSS of New Madrid County, J. V. Conran, leans on his black hickory cane outside the courthouse where, as prosecutor from 1930 to 1962, he built the political machine that bears his name. He still maintains regular office hours from early afternoon to almost 5 a.m. in the morning.

The next tier of counties to the east is Dunklin, Stoddard and Scott. These counties have nonwhite populations of less than 10 per cent and are slightly better off in the other categories.

Shortly after the economic opportunity act was signed into law, the Bootheel counties, acting individually, quickly formed nonprofit corporations and began their programs -- mostly Head Start programs for preschool children.

But early in 1965, the OEO which wanted the area administered as one unit, requested the six counties to form a single corporation. To comply, the Delta Area Economic Opportunity corporation, D.A.E.O.C. as it is known, was formed in April, 1965. It has 24 directors, four from each county poverty board. The 24 - member county boards, in turn, are composed of 12 representatives of the poor, elected by organizations formed around the four neighborhood service centers in each country and 12 nonpoor persons chosen by the 12 elected members.

The poverty program, many seemed to think got off to a good start in the Bootheel. From the neighborhood service centers, aides combed the country side to locate the poor and to determine their needs. Head Start was popular immediately. Programs were instituted to help senior citizens and to teach homemaking with emphasis on the use of commodity foods. A clothing renovation and distributing program was started and the neighborhood youth corps was formed.

Adult basic education programs got under way. And, most important, service center directors said, an intensive referral service was started to direct those in need to existing welfare agencies.

While it may have appeared that the war on Bootheel poverty was moving satisfactorily, wiser and more informed persons in the six counties realized by late last summer that it was not.

Enter J. V. Conran.

A native of New Madrid County, Conran was swept into the New Madrid County prosecutor's office in 1930 -- after two earlier defeats by Republicans.

"I was beat twice," Conran says looking back on a basic lesson of politics in a county where there is no voter registration, "because of the election board. You've got to keep those damn crooks off the election board."

From the prosecutor's office in the New Madrid County courthouse, Conran built a political machine which, observers, say, completely controls New Madric County and has influence, though not domination, in the rest of the Bootheel except Dunklin County.

He used many of the same techniques practiced by big city bosses -- patronage, influence of office and a sense of responsibility for "his" people. If a family is hungry, he sees they get food. If a Head Start classroom needs an air-conditioner, he gets one. Last week, he deeded over to the county four acres on which retired persons can build low-price FHA financed houses. He intends to give another 25 acres when it is needed.

In return, Conran expects votes --and he gets them.

Today, at 67, Conran still occupies his small, high ceiling courthouse office, which was made available to him when he retired as prosecutor in 1962 - to be replaced by Hal Hunter, jr., a protege.

Bald except for a fringe of white hair, missing most of his teeth, his hulking body wracked by illness and twisted by arthritis until he must walk with a cane, Conran still keeps "regular office hours" except during the winter, which he spends in Florida.

He gets up at noon and arrives at the office between 2 and 3 o'clock. There he stays, except for occasional visits to friends and political allies, until almost 5 o'clock in the morning, when he goes home to bed.

Conran considers himself semiretired. His large land holdings are rented. He owns but does not run the bank in Portageville -- where all OEO funds are deposited until dispersed to various programs. Both the head of the bank, R. L. Saalwaechter, and Hunter are members of the D.A.E.O.C. board of directors and the other two members from New Madrid County, a Negro and a white farmer, are Conran men.

"I am still available to practice law -- if the case interests me and it pays a lot," Conran said. "I want to devote my time to reading and advising officials of this and surrounding counties."

Conran, whose organization was instrumental in initiating the poverty program in New Madrid County, had been dissatisfied with the program from the start.

"I thought that too much was spent on administration," he said. "I still do. And they have set their standards so high that only the school teachers can qualify. They scare away a lot of qualified low - income people who should be holding down $6,000 to $12,000-a-year jobs by requiring master's degrees or bachelor's degrees."

Heightening his supicions of the program was the appointment of Don Thomason, a bitter political enemy, as regional OEO director -- with the approval of Senators Symington and Long.

Conran, a close political ally of Governor Hearnes and one of the first men Hearnes visited when he decided to make the race for governor -- saw Thomason as a direct political threat.

Thomason, a Dunklin County cotton-ginner and land owner, had run Hilary Bush's gubernatorial campaign against Hearnes. Thomason went to Kansas City in 1965 when he was appointed OEO director.

"Thomason wants to take political control of the Bootheel so he can run for statewide office," Conran declares."

"If I wanted to build a political organization," Thomason replies, "I would know the first names of at least 500 of the 600 people who have jobs in that program. As it is, I know only five or six."

Last August, Conran, already a member of the New Madrid poverty board, got himself appointed to the D.A.E.O.C. board of directors -- which by then had come to the realization that the program was in a mess.

The board, Conran found, was operating with only one officer, James Dement, superintendent of schools at Holcomb in Dunklin County.

"They didn't even have a treasurer or a legal set of by-laws," Conran said.

An OEO audit, started last summer, later revealed administrative failure at almost all levels. More than $300,000 in federal funds and $60,000 in local funds could not be properly accounted for -- though there were no charges of misappropriation -- and the program was riddled with nepotism.

The OEO investigators last week were finding nepotism still prevalent.

Conran says of himself and his followers, "We wanted to get rid of the people responsible. Thomason wanted to keep them. So did some of the political leaders over in Dunklin County."

Shortly after Conran joined the D.A.E.O.C. board, it voted to fire Earl Williams, the executive director of the program, but before Conran could move to hire a new executive director, Dement adjourned the meeting and left.

Not to be outmaneuvered, Conran reconvened the session himself with the 15 board members who remained -- a quorum -- and began to transact business.

The board voted to hire a Conran man, Marion West, as the new executive director and Conran pushed through motions to void all transactions of the board since the preceding March 31 to replace Dement as the registered officer by Saalwaechter, the Conran banker, and to make all appointments subject to the approval of the D.A.E.O.C. board.

The next day, at the request of Demend, Thomason voided all of the actions of the reconvened board. But Conran was getting started.

He tried but failed last September to ram through a new set of bylaws - under which the board chairman would be paid a salary and expenses. Not all was lost, however. Conran was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up a new set of bylaws. In the meantime his bank refused to honor the vouchers signed by Lloyd Phillips, a Williams assistant who was appointed acting director.

At that September meeting, there was another incident which played into Conran's hands. Marty Blank, one of a half-dozen VISTA workers assigned to the Bootheel, was instrumental in bringing out 650 acre residents to oppose Conran. He also presented a petition, signed by 1,500 persons, opposing involving the poverty program in politics.

More than 60 additional VISTAs had been requested to work in the Bootheel. But the assignment of VISTAs requires the approval of the governor. The request died on Governor Hearnes's desk, never being approved or disapproved.

"We don't like a bunch of Easterners coming in here telling us how to solve our problems," Hunter said last week when asked why there now were no VISTAs here. Blank is from Philadelphia.

"Conran saw that the poverty program controlled as much patronage as anything since WPA -- which he controlled totally," Stapleton said.

"He got his hooks in. His whole contention was that the funds were being wasted. First he said all you had to do was fire the director and his assistants, which he managed to do. Then he said we must get rid of Thomason, which he is trying to do.

"Conran has blacked the eye of the program so most people don't want anything to do with it.

"Civil rights? There are precious little civil rights practiced in New Madrid County," Stapleton declared. "Why they still refer to colored people as niggers over there."

Stapleton was right. Conran does use the term regularly.

Referring to the low - cost houses that will be built on the land he gave to the county, Conran said: "I told them to put a nigger in one and a white man in the next all down the line so it will be integrated from the start."

If anyone has taken exception to his use of the term, they have not told Conran about it.

COMFORT
Driving cool is the obvious pleasure of air conditioning, but there are other gratifying advantages. Comfort is increased by driving with the windows up, thereby eliminating noise, dust, smog and pollen.

SAFETY
A comfortable driver is a more alert driver. This is particularly true on longer trips, where fatigue is hastened by physical discomfort and road noise. Air conditioning eliminates these hazards.

ECONOMY
ARA air conditioning costs very little to install. Operating and maintenance costs are negligible, and most units can be transferred to your next car. This reduction in gasoline mileage is minimal.

BASIC ADULT EDUCATION AND VOCATIONAL training for migrant and seasonal workers, who make up a large segment of Bootheel's unemployed since cotton farming became mechanized, is an important part of the poverty program. This is a classroom run by the Missouri Associated Migrant Opportunity services, which received a $287,000 poverty grant to retrain 200 workers.

Stapleton, like most others in the Bootheel, feels strongly, one way or another, about Conran. It is difficult to find anyone who speak dispassionately about the political boss.

One who does is Mrs. Mary Prentice, a former D.A.E.O.C. board member, who now directs M.A.M.O.S. Missouri Associated Migrant Opportunity Services. M.A.M.O.S. has a $287,000 OEO grant - funded directly from Washington, not through the D.A.E.O.C. board - to give adult education and vocational training to 200 unemployed migrant and seasonal workers. It is pointed to as one of the most effective poverty programs in the Bootheel.

"Mr. Conran has New Madrid County sewed up," Mrs. Prentice said. "Almost no one votes against him on anything.

"Mr. Dement (who is no longer chairman, but still a member of the D.A.E.O.C. board) is an honest man and wanted to do the right thing. But he was used to running a very informal school operation with a school board on which everyone had mutual trust. He tried to do the same thing with D.A.E.O.C.

"When Mr. Conran moved in, it didn't take him a good lawyer, to see what a mess things were in. Being used to running a tight political organization, it was natural that he should move in and take over.

"I think he wanted to run a good efficient program, just like he runs New Madrid County."

From the very start, Mr. Chapman related, D.A.E.O.C. encountered personnel problems. He cited differences between Williams and his assistant Lloyd Phillips, that caused friction. Another controversial assistant was William Graves, Mr. Chapman said.

"No one was particularly strong on Williams, but some feared Conran was trying to pack the organization with his people," Mr. Chapman said.

He and others, both Conran's friends and enemies, said that there had been considerable talk of breaking up D.A.E.O.C. into two 3-county organizations in an effort to stop the bickering. Such talk persists, but there has been no action.

In December, Conran resigned from the D.A.E.O.C. board - to be replaced by Hunter - and went to Florida.

"I thought things were in pretty good shape," Conran said last week. "I told them how to run it right. But when I got back everything was in a mess again."

New Director Hired

That set the stage for the latest blowup in the D.A.E.O.C. organization. A new executive director, William Clare, was hired in the spring and Phillips was moved to director of Head Start.

In May, at the insistence of Conran, who no longer was a member, the D.A.E.O.C. board voted to fire both Phillips and Graves.

"I don't think Conran doubted Phillips's ability," Mr. Chapman said. "I believe he thought Phillips had a direct line to Thomason -- which was not true -- and moved against him accordingly."

Again, Thomason moved in and declared the action illegal and contrary to OEO regulations, which he said, required that Phillips be given a hearing.

Conran demanded that Thomason produce the regulation.

"He never produced one because there is no such regulation," Conran says. "And even if there were, it would be contrary to Missouri law."

Conran cites a section of the Missouri statutes on not- for-profit corporations which permits the board of directors to fire any employee without a hearing.

"Thomason thinks he can sit up there in Kansas City and make any regulation that suits him," Conran growled. "Well, he can't!"

To settle the difficulty the board gave Phillips and Graves a hearing. Then, realizing that the vote might be close, the Conran followers moved that the two men be reinstated, rather than fired -- which the board considered already had been accomplished. The motion lost on a 12-12 tie vote.

Since then, Phillips has joined Lear-Siegler as a consultant on OEO Head Start programs.

Thomason complains that Conran is trying to get him fired.

"You're damn right I am," Conran says. "I called Senator Long and told him he better get rid of Thomason. If he doesn't, I will eventually."

Warning is Given

In announcing he was sending in the OEO evaluating team, Thomas made one ominous observation:

"Their report will be the determining factor on whether the Bootheel program is refunded or not."

The evaluation report is expected to be completed in three weeks.

Conran laughed off the possibility that program might be dropped or radically revised.

"You know," he said, "I was very sick last year. Everyone had me for dead. The vultures were circling. But I fooled them. "I figure the Lord left me here on earth to do some good. I'm going to overturn some apple carts."

Pay Raise For Judges Bill Signed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- All judges in Missouri from the Supreme Court down to magistrate and probate judges, will get a $4,000 salary increase under a bill signed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

It will raise Supreme Court pay from $22,500 to $26,500.

The governor also signed a bill giving him broad power to reorganize executive agencies. The changes stand unless disapproved later by both houses of the legislature.

Another new law, effective Oct. 13, will allow old age assistance recipients to own property worth $7,500 instead of $6,000 and still be eligible for aid.

The governor vetoed a bill that would have required protection against uninsured motor vehicles. He said that was covered in a bill he signed earlier.

Other bills signed included measures to:

Raise the limit of damages in wrongful death cases from $25,000 to $50,000.

Exempt female telephone operators, canning and packing plant workers and floral employes from the present nine-hour day, 54-week work limitations.

Require public buildings to be constructed with ramps to aid the physically handicapped.

Allow new industries to qualify for lower unemployment compensation rates after one year instead of three to five years.

Extend the life of the State Tax Study Commission two years.

Raise the pay of Thomas A. David, revenue director, from $15,000 to $19,000, Tom Gilstrap, collector from $10,000 to $12,000 and John C. Vaughn, comptroller budget director from $15,000 to $20,000.

First population census in Massachusetts was taken in 1765. 15 years before the Commonwealth was officially established.

JOHN D. SLATON

Bad Check Artist Joins FBI List

WASHINGTON -- John D. Slaton, a heavily tattooed bad check artist, currently charged with shooting at police officers to avoid being arrested for forgery, has been added to the FBI's list of 10 Most Wanted Fugitives.

On Oct. 30, 1965, Slaton was being sought on a bad check charge by Oroville, Wash., police. After being located and stopped for questioning, Slaton made a high - speed escape by auto while being escorted to jail. Investigation subsequently led law enforcement officers to a trailer where Slaton and relatives were reputedly camping, As the officers approached the camp, Slaton reportedly removed a rifle from his car and started shooting at them. One of the officers returned the fire, but Slaton was able to escape on foot.

Slaton, who has a long criminal record, was first convicted in 1944 in California on a forgery charge and confined at the Preston School of Industry at Ione, Calif. In November, 1944, while being held for youth authorities, he escaped, but was quickly apprehended. In December, 1944, he was released and inducted into the U. S. Army a month later.

Slaton was tried and convicted by a special court martial on April 25, 1945, for absent without leave and forgery charges and sentenced to six - months' confinement at hard labor and a small fine. Two months later he was released.

In January, 1946, while in the Army, Slaton was arrested and convicted for burglary in a civil court in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and was sentenced to 3 to 5 years at the State Penitentiary in Santa Fe. As a result of this conviction he was discharged from the Army in May, 1947.

In May, 1949, upon conviction for forgery he was sentenced to the State Prison in Huntsville, Texas, for two years.

Following an arrest by the Greenville, Miss., police department on March 6, 1956, on a charge of assault with intent to kill, Slaton was convicted, fined $100 and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

An immigration warrant has been issued for Slaton's arrest based on information received by the Canadian Immigration Department in Vancouver, British Columbia, that he was believed to have entered Canada occasionally in the past and might try to do so again in the future.

Slaton is a white American, who was born in Mitchell County, Texas, on September 28, 1926. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 155 to 170 pounds, has a medium complexion, brown hair and brown eyes. He has a scar on his right cheek, a scar on the right side of his mouth, a mole on the back of his neck, a scar on his right shoulder, a birthmark on the right side of his chest, two vaccination scars on his upper left arm and a scar on his upper left leg.

He bears numerous tattoos, including a cross on his forehead, a woman's head on the left side of his chest, a star, eagle and anchor on his left forearm, a star on the back of his left hand, LOVE on the fingers of his left hand, "13," black cat, "Theda," a heart and scroll on his right forearm, "Jessie" on his right thumb, a cross on the web of his right hand, a cross and "E.P.T." above his right knee, "R" on his lower right leg and "T.P." on the calf of his right leg.

Slaton, who is reportedly left - handed and is said to speak Spanish fluently, has previously been employed as a carpenter, farm worker, gunsmith, laborer, ranch hand and seaman.

Since Slaton reportedly fired a rifle at police officers and possesses an extensive criminal record, he should be considered extremely dangerous.

Any person having information concerning Slaton is requested to immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be found on the first page of local telephone directories.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

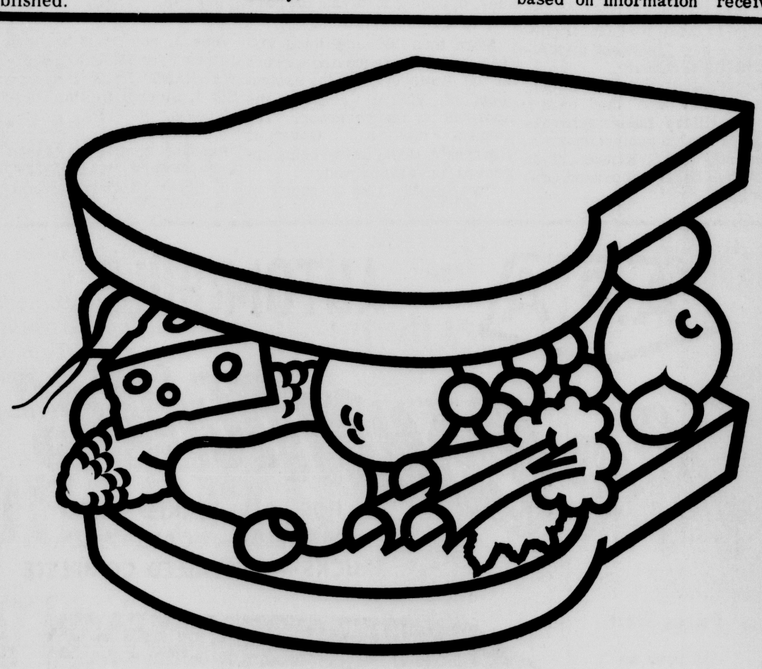
Mrs. Alan Rogovin, known to nearly everyone as Suzy, has, through faith, overcome tremendous obstacles.

At the age of 11, Suzy developed a rare neurological condition. First she couldn't use her right hand, then her walk was involved, then loss of speech and control of neck muscles. Bitter, even at 11, she thought God had been unfair. But then her handicap seemed to give her greater insight and at 12 she wrote, with difficulty, an essay titled "What Judaism Means to Me." In it she said, ". . . I began to realize that feeling sorry for myself was not going to do any good, so I began to pray instead of cry. You would be surprised how much difference there was in my condition."

She learned to write poetry and paint well with awkward hands. She rode a bike and horses. Even won ribbons in horse shows. She graduated from public high school and was accepted at Skidmore College although at that time unable to write with either hand.

During her four years at college she had four major surgical operations which did much to improve her condition. After graduating with "meritorious achievement," Suzy had a successful career as an advertising copy writer before becoming Mrs. Alan Rogovin. Soon to become a mother, she will tell you:

"I have a little motto that I always say when I'm a little unsure of myself. . . . If you have faith in God, nothing shall be impossible unto you."



A Modern Refrigerator-Freezer
Can Sandwich 50% More Food
In The Same Kitchen Space

Compare the size of today's refrigerator-freezer with a 10-year-old model. In the same amount of space outside, new models give you up to 50% more fresh and frozen food storage inside. Thinner walls, improved insulation, and slim, trim design give you extra space for family-pleasing food bargains. And here's more good news: many of the models never need defrosting. Both refrigerator and freezer compartments stay completely free from frost, automatically. Your appliance dealer or Public Service store has a wide selection of refrigerator-freezer combinations. Stop in and choose the size that suits your family best.

Jones' Family Sets Fast Hobby Pace

EAST PRAIRIE -- Keeping up with the Joneses hereabouts requires a lot of interest in hobbies.

Jones, a large landowner, has been a leader in school, church and banking circles and is a chairman of a committee to develop Southeast Missouri recreational areas.

His stamina can be traced back more than 30 years ago when he starred as an atheletic. He was born in the hills of western Cape Girardeau county on Whitewater river near Burfordville.

In his high school days in Jackson, he was named to the all state basketball team and won district honors in football and track.

He continued to make athletic records in colleges, first at Caruthersville Junior College, Arkadelphia (Ark.) Teachers College, Cape State College and at the University of Missouri in Columbia. Jones was the first to establish the two-minute half mile at Columbia, and the first junior college athlete to reach the six- foot mark in the high jump.

He starred as an offensive end in football and was also named to a little all-America college team. An athletic event he will not discuss is leadership of '' 'igh school basketball team to traight victories, including one over the Little Rock national champs, only to lose a state championship to a small Bootheel school.

While teaching at East Prairie he met his wife, the former Miss Gertrude Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, landowner and cotton ginner near East Prairie. He taught at Lutesville, Wyatt and East Prairie.

They were married in 1945, and are the parents of three daughters, Silvey, Mrs. Sam Barker, a senior at Arkansas State University of Jonesboro, Sammie Lea, 17, high school senior, and Carlotta, 16, a junior.

The father, a collector of Indian relics, has one of the largest collections in the nation. Mrs. Jones collects rare cut glass. Sylvia has a collection of rare blue carnival glass, and Sammie Lea, who excels in biology, has a large collection and history of insects and butterflies. Carlotta assists other members of the family with their collection.

The family began with a large tract of land but Jones took advantage of low land prices years ago and has increased the acreage.

Over 20 years he has turned several thousand non - productive acres into productive soil. He expects to land level and irrigate his cleared land in the next decade.

More than 2,000 acres of wooded land are his pride. He says he will let this alone for future generations and maintain as a safeguard against high taxation.

He rents out most of more than 6,000 acres of cleared land for growing cotton, wheat, soybeans and corn.

The family also owns 1,000 acres across the Mississippi river in Kentucky.

It has since been discovered that as many as 700 small villages, with an estimated population of more than 75,000 Indians lived in Mississippi county, from 1,000 - 1,400 A.D.

He encouraged archaeologists to come to the Bootheel, where they uncovered Indian artifacts.

Jones has lent some of his collections to the University of Missouri at Columbia, Mississippi State University, Starkville, Miss., and to the Charleston museum.

The greatest part of his collection is arranged in the basement of his home, where he has hundreds of pieces of pottery, arrow heads, tomahawks and a large clay peace pipe.

The mother has dozens of pieces of cut glass she has collected in 10 years. They are of the American and English cut glass brilliant period, hand made, dating no later than 1905.

Jones is a veteran of World War II. He served in the army in Alaska as well as in the transport service elsewhere.

An honorary colonel on the staff of Gov. Warren Hearnes, he was chosen a member of a state educational conference in 1966, and placed on the state board park as a member to preserve historical sites in Southeast Missouri.

He discliams political ambitions, but has been called about state legislation. He is credited with playing an important part in land development, and the preservation of the soil fertility in the Bootheel.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL
Office of Health Officer
Scott Co. Health Department
Benton, Missouri

Benton, Missouri

Dear Sirs:

By virtue of the authority of the Health Officer of this county, I have the honor to submit herewith the annual report of the Scott County Health Department for the annual report of the Scott County Health Department for the year 1966.

Respectfully submitted,
Thelma C. Buckthorpe, MD
Scott Co. Health Officer

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Our Thanks To:

1. The Board of Trustees for outstanding cooperation.
2. The County Court whichlistened to our problems and helped with solutions when it was within their power.
3. The Scott County physicians who helped us in so many ways; especially to Dr. Finney and Dr. Jung who conducted clinics for us each month.
4. The Women's Organizations; the Home Economic Clubs; P.T.A. groups and the Midwifery Training Class which sponsored our clinics, made cancer dressings for our patients; did screening of school children and the one thousand and one other things that made our work easier.
5. All persons whose pictures we filched.
6. Scott County teachers and school nurses whose cooperation made school health work possible.
7. Mrs. Anna Smith, R.N. for her invaluable help with our maternal and midwife training programs.
8. Mrs. Jewell Allen, who ran errands, arranged transportation for numerous patients going to various hospitals, and who did so many other helpful things for us.
9. The midwives for their untiring help at the clinics and at other times when they were needed.
10. All other residents and groups in Scott County who made the Health Department and its work possible.

Tale of Two Nails

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) -- The first nail sent Mr. and Mrs. Douglas P. Johnson to the hospital Wednesday and the second almost kept them from reaching their destination.

They were riding their motorcycle on Interstate 15 when a nail punctured the rear tire and spun the motorcycle out of control.

Minutes later the ambulance rushing the couple to a hospital also picked up a nail in a tire but was able to get to the hospital before the tire went flat.

Utah highway patrolmen said someone apparently spilled some nails in the area.

BABY'S FIRST PHOTOGRAPH

That man keeps popping bulbs and things;
Gesticulating, grinning --
I have a news-flash, just for him,
His manners are not winning.
Unless he stops soon, I shall scream,
(I take a view so dim
Of all of these shenagians)
And make a face at him!

-- Corinne Hughes

Filming outdoor shots for a Western film, director John Rich had to reshoot one scene seven times because of such extraneous noises as yelping canines and jets flying overhead. A passing woman motorist stopped to watch, and finally interrupted the director to ask, "Why do you persist in shooting the same scene so many times?" Rich answered patiently, "Madam, have you stopped to consider how many theaters there are in this country?"

The lady drove on -- satisfied.

Steel Price Hike in Making

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Big steel threw its weight behind a tinplate price increase Thursday, meeting no immediate government opposition and almost assuring that the rest of the profit-troubled industry will follow suit.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, joined National and Wheeling Steel corporations, in raising the price of tinplate and average of 2.7 per cent. Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranked steel producer, said it was studying the move.

Should Bethlehem and other producers follow, it will be steel's first major price increase since January.

The firm said it would add 3 cents a pound, based on copper content, to the price of its brass mill products, exclusive of rod.

It blamed the action on the higher cost of copper raw materials caused by the current copper strike at its parent firm's mines and at the El Paso refinery.

Last week's first-half earnings statements from the steel industry reflected rising costs and declining sales volumes. U.S. Steel reported first-half profits down 44 per cent, Bethlehem was down 38.1, Republic 37.2 and Inland off 39 per cent.

Cape Annexation Vote on Sept. 5

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) -- The Cape Girardeau City Council has scheduled a special election Sept. 5 on a proposal to annex 10 square miles of territory to the north and west of the city.

Only residents of Cape Girardeau are eligible to vote on the proposal. Residents of the area affected appealed a declaratory judgment in common pleas court that the annexation was reasonable and that municipal services could be provided.

The St. Louis court of appeals, July 18, upheld the judgment. The deadline for further appeal has passed. A simple majority is needed to carry the proposal.

If you were unable to attend, please feel free to stop by at your leisure and see our offices we are so proud of.

(1) REFURBISHED -- an expensive word to describe a delightful, well located and inexpensive 6 room home for only $9,250.00. VA or FHA financing available. Monthly payment of $72 PITI. Vacant and immediate possession of 719 Greer Street.

(2) ADOPT ME!! I am 2 1/2 years old, blond with black eyes in beautiful condition. I have a warm paneled carpeted den with exposed beams, large carpeted living room with wood burning fireplace that is quite homey, my kitchen is large and fully equipped including breakfast space, comfortable dining room off kitchen, and of course, three large bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths to make things real comfortable. I have a finished basement with a reck room and bedroom and large fireplace and utility area with shower, a 2 car garage, patio, central air conditioning and large pretty yard. My payments are ridiculous, but my equity is reasonable, and I am worth every penny. Come see me at 105 Salcedo Road. Middle 30s.

(3) ANXIOUS OWNER - EMPTY HOUSE - OPPORTUNITY -- Finally this is it. Stop searching for that "one in a million" bargain. The owner wants A-C-T-I-O-N, and he has the price and financing arrangements -- you can move into this fabulous 3-bedroom, family room, breakfast room, living room, utility room and carport on corner lot with nice yard and shrubs for only $750.00 including closing costs. Delightful kitchen with dishwasher, carpeting, drapes, curtains and other extras. No time to haggle. Vacant and owner demands action.

(4) WHEN BABY MAKES THREE, and your present place seems to burst at the seams, this is your answer at 115 Baker Lane. 2 bedrooms, kitchen with dining area, large living room, 2 large bedrooms, bath, full basement with one finished room, carport and nice large lot with two loaded apple trees. $350 down, no closing costs and $85 PITI.

(5) YOU'RE DUE to be surprised by seeing inside this endless spacious interior of this 3 bedroom with double closets in each, 2 full baths, extra large family room, living room with fireplace, dining room, eat in kitchen home with large shaded lot. FHA approved at $20,350 with $19,300 loan available. Look at 708 Taylor Street, call us for showing.

Ann Landers

Man Should Not Be Embarassed

Dear Ann Landers: I am an X-ray technician in a hospital. This morning a man was brought up for X-rays. He was wearing a bathrobe. When I asked him to remove his robe I assumed he had something on under the robe (most men do). I discovered, too late, that I was mistaken.

After my initial surprise I composed myself and decided to ignore the situation and proceed as usual.

Later that afternoon I was telling two other girls in the department what happened. I thought I had dealt with the situation well. They said I did the wrong thing -- that I should have told the patient to go back to the dressing room and put on his shorts. It developed into quite an argument and the girls became upset with me. I am so unstrung about their bitter criticism that I decided to write for your common sense opinion. --- SUZANNE

Dear Suzanne: The best approach is the one which causes the patient a minimum of embarrassment.

Sending the man back to put on his shorts would have humiliated the poor fellow. You coped with the situation admirably and I salute you.

Dear Ann Landers: I am in my 60's. My wife is a few years younger. We have been married 40 years. My wife has never been employed outside the home which was all right with me. She raised a nice family and I never asked her to take a paying job.

Now that I am getting on in years I feel my energy ebbing. I want to retire when I become eligible but my wife is against it.

My income will be somewhat less if I retire, but we could manage on it. I am beginning to resent my wife because she seems more interested in the paycheck than in my health. Please tell me what you think. --- NO IDENTIFICATION

Dear No I.D.: Perhaps your wife's objection has nothing to do with the paycheck. Maybe she is concerned with what retirement might do to you emotionally. To some men, retirement means boredom and unhappiness, particularly if they have not planned ahead on useful ways to occupy their time. But if you want to retire, you have earned the right to do it.

Dear Ann Landers: Please be my mother substitute for a moment. Mom is so unfair. She just told me she doesn't care about me. I know she doesn't mean it, but she said it.

I am 17 and not allowed to go anywhere except to school - related activities and to church. My friends can go bowling, swimming, skating, to the movies and out on dates. But not me. Why doesn't my mother trust me? I am a good student and have never done anything that would make her question my morals. Please tell me how I can get some freedom so life will be bearable. -- -AN ONLY ONE

Dear Only One: If you are 17 and a good student you should be thinking about college. Investigate the schools in another city and make your plans. Don't let anything or anyone stop you. From the tone of your letter it's your only chance to escape from your mother's neurotic clutches.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35¢ in coin and a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Bomb Hoax Delays Lady Bird's Flight

NEW YORK (AP) — A crank telephone call warning there was a bomb on a Washington shuttle plane delayed Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's return to the capital Thursday evening after a trip to New York to look at fall fashions.

An Eastern Air Lines jet carrying Mrs. Johnson and 109 other passengers was on a runway at La Guardia Airport waiting for clearance to take off when the phone call was received by a reservation clerk at 4:48 p.m.

The plane, which had been scheduled to leave at 5 p.m., was taken back to the airline's gate. After the passengers were removed, the plane was searched by Eastern employes and airport police.

Three other Eastern planes used in the shuttle service also were searched. No bomb was found.

THE STAGE COACH from the East and the mail that it contained were always a welcome sight to the citizens of the Old West. As the Kaintuck Territory Stage pulls into town, a partial view of the reconstructed village of about the 1880's can be seen. Kaintuck Territory will be open seven days a week from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. It is located five miles southwest of Kentucky Dam on highway 641.

Kaintuck Territory Now Part of Kentucky

After informing Governor Breathitt that the main street of the Territory had been named "Breathitt Street" in his honor, Potter left on horseback for the territory which is five miles southwest of Kentucky Dam Village near Kentucky Lake.

With Kentucky placing heavy accent on tourism, the mock ceremony was conducted to recognize the Territory at the Commonwealth's newest tourist attraction. Open just a few weeks, Kaintuck Territory is a recreated frontier village of the 1880's. The owner, Walter Sill, Jr., has been collecting artifacts for nearly a decade to make the attraction historically interesting as well as entertaining.

Sill purchased more than 150 acres of wild Kentucky woodland as a site for his project, and has built a complete frontier village on it. Included are 32 shops, offices and exhibits of the 1880 period. A Wells Fargo Stagecoach hauls passengers on regular runs through the hills to the delight of children and adults alike, and realistic "gunfights and bank robberies" are staged every 45 minutes in the streets.

Personnal in the village dress in the costumes of the 80's and many are actors, folk singers and rodeo performers who add realism to the dramatizations, musical and comedy entertainment, and general atmosphere. Some of the shops are called "look-ins" and can be easily viewed by the public. Visitors are not permitted to enter these select exhibits, however, since they are filled with priceless, irreplaceable antiques from the 80's period.

Upon Marshal Potter's return to Kaintuck Territory, an old-fashioned flag-raising and dedication ceremony will be held. The affair will include the traditional address by the territory's leading citizen Sill, and cheers and shooting of guns by the population. Potter noted that he intends to visit with the mayors of Kentucky's leading cities during his return trip to invite them to visit Kentucky's newest acquisition.

Carpenter Quits Space Program

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — "It's time to move on," said Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter as he discussed his resignation from the U.S. space program to devote full time to man's exploration of the sea.

Carpenter, 42, of the first seven American astronauts and the second to orbit the earth, resigned Thursday to become chief aquanaut for the Navy in its man-in-the-sea program.

In 1965 Carpenter became the nation first aquanaut-astronaut, he spent 30 days on the ocean floor in the Navy's Sealab II.

He enters the project full time with the responsibility for Navy aquanaut training, equipment development and ocean floor operations experiments for Sealab III, a 60-day excursion off the coast of California, due to begin May 30, 1968.

Carpenter orbited the earth three times aboard Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. He was grounded by doctors after an arm broken in a 1964 motorcycle accident failed to heal properly.

He said in an interview that he plans to remain in the Navy about one more year before retiring to take an oceanography job with a private aerospace firm that is diversifying operations to include ocean studies.

"You can influence municipal councils, your state government, and the federal government with your one vote. Only you can prevent further inroads on our free enterprise system. Only your vote can maintain our American system of self-government. Politics is what you and I make it." -- Paul V. Hayden, president, The Connecticut light and Power Company.

The Prayer From The Upper Room

Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness. (Matthew 6:33).

PRAYER: Our Creator and God, help us to understand we are created for a purpose; not to drift, but to spend our energies positively for Thee and Thy kingdom. Help us to become excited in our service; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

If You Were the Judge

America Must Be Seen

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Businessman Bob was the billboard baron of his community. He'd buy land adjacent to various highways and then erect billboards on it to advertise various products.

And, while it was a fairly successful enterprise, a damper was put on it when a law was passed that prohibited the erection of billboards within 60 feet of any highway.

Viewing the new law as a threat to his business, Bob attacked the constitutionality of the law in court.

"A man can't be prevented from erecting a billboard on his property," he argued. "It's un-American."

"No, it's not," answered local officials. "Enacting the law is the only way we have of keeping things looking beautiful. Beyond the Alps lies Italy and beyond the billboards lies America. It's got to be seen."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Bob to conceal America with his billboards?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that aesthetic considerations are sufficient reason for the valid passage of a law prohibiting the erection of billboards along a highway.

Bridge Falls on Workmen

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Wooden forms for a new highway bridge collapsed today as they were being filled, pouring tons of concrete over workers caught beneath.

Nineteen men were rushed to hospitals. Several of them were reported injured severely as concrete rolled over them. Four were treated and released.

Three of the injured were state highway inspectors.

The bridge is at Ilard and Grandview Road, in the southeast part of the city and is part of the Interstate 435 route which will circle the city.

Walter Raugh, who suffered minor injuries, said "there was a loud pop" and the framework came down. He said all but one of the spans collapsed. He said there was no difficulty in extricating the victims.

Harvey Sherman, a concrete foreman, was on top of the 240-foot ramp which collapsed. He said just the edges of the structure remained, with the rest falling down.

"It started giving way about the middle," he said. "A piece of steel came up, I stepped on it and rode it down about 22 feet."

Officials said that nearly 400 cubic yards of concrete had been poured when the structure fell.

Four workmen were under the bridge and fled, escaping by seconds. Thirty five workmen were on top of the structure when it fell.

Lucille Coomer of Chaffee Dies

CHAFFEE - Miss Lucille Coomer, 48, died Thursday in a Lutesville nursing home.

She was born March 18, 1919 in Cape County, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Coomer.

She is survived by her father, and by a brother, Clois Coomer, Chaffee; two sisters, Mrs. Louella Lawrence, Idaho City, Idaho, and Mrs. Evelyn Schallon, St. Louis; three stepsisters, Mrs. Robert Woodfin, Lutesville, Mrs. Joe La Porte, Advance, and Mrs. Olive Gloss, St. Louis and a stepbrother, Cletus Hahn, St. Louis.

The body is at the Morgan Funeral Home in Advance where services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Charles Mann.

Burial will be in the Baker cemetery, Lutesville.

U.S. Gunboats in Viet Delta Small But Mighty

CAN THO, Vietnam (AP) — They call it the muddy water navy. Pound-for-pound it is perhaps the most powerful fleet America ever had.

"We like to sort of swap around," grinned Thomas Roberts, 19, an engineman from Sitka, Alaska. He can handle a machine gun, grenade launcher, M16 rifle or pistol.

The fiberglass boats started working major estuaries in the Mekong delta last year to drive off the Viet Cong who virtually controlled the rivers by night and terrorized most daytime traffic. Now 90 of the boats maintain 24-hour patrols of the Mekong, the Bassac and other major waterways.

In the delta they are apt to run into Communist fire from almost any shoreline. Recently Red gunners wounded one entire crew with a recoilless rifle round. The Viet Cong also like to lure the boats close to river banks and rake them with pellets from claymore mines suspended in trees.

Under the circumstances, the crews tend to beef up the normal armament. When boat captain Norman Booker, 23, a shipfitter from National City, Calif., set out on his last patrol after a year's tour of duty his craft carried its normal firepower of three .50-caliber machine guns and an automatic grenade launcher. It was beefed up with 60 light machine guns, a light mortar and two hand-held grenade launchers. There, of course, added to individual weapons such as grenades, knives, M16 rifles and pistols.

All of this firepower has given the little PBRs— propelled by water jets up to 30 miles per hour--a large measure of control over rivers where the Viet Cong previously moved with relative ease.

They carry a small radar set and a secret electronic starlight telescope which magnifies available light and gives amazing nighttime visibility. Operating in pairs, crews cut engines at night and float downstream, scanning the river with radar and telescope until they catch a guerrilla band. Then they dash upon it at full speed with all guns ablaze.

The daytime patrols— when rivers are bursting with sampan traffic— have become the tedious major effort.

Thousands of peaceful-looking sampans are stopped daily. A South Vietnamese policeman checks identities and searches the sampans. When a sampan tries to evade such searching operations it generally turns out to be Viet Cong and frequently opens fire. Sometimes the guerrillas dive into the rivers and abandon their craft.

Matthews Pupils Go To St. Louis

MATTHEWS -- A highlight in the remedial reading program in the elementary grades at Matthews R-5 school was a trip to the St. Louis zoo last Thursday, with 110 pupils, 10 teachers, and 10 teacher aides and Supt. Lester King going on the trip.

It was a day of many "first-time" sights for many of the youngsters.

At the zoo the children rode trains that took them from Vierheller station to the first stop at the elephant house, where they viewed animals in the area. They reboarded the train to ride to the lion house and the other buildings and outdoor homes of animals in the vicinity. They also saw the chimpanzee show.

Children in the Head Start program at Matthews R-5 school, their teachers and teacher aides, had a picnic dinner Friday at the park and zoo at Hayti.

Taking an overnight camping trip at Kentucky Lake Sunday afternoon and Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Romines and daughters, Carla Jo and Kimberly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greene and daughters, Sandra and Linda, Linda Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Long and son, Michael, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eby and children, Mr. and Mrs. R. 78 4-H'ers Attend Camp

POPLAR BLUFF -- Seventy-eight 4-H Club members spent three days camping on Lake Wappapello at the Missouri 4-H Club camp grounds July 24, 25 and 26.

The program was supervised by Crawford Price, area extension director of Doniphan, Roger Slayton, NYA extension youth worker and Les Akers, area youth agent.

The campers were divided into groups using the names of water animals as identification. The tadpole group elected Ron Lacy as their chief and Pat Stuart, as scribe, both of Town and County Club of Stoddard county.

Mrs. Richard Mayer of Town and Country 4-H Club of Stoddard county and Miss Norma Sifford, Mingo 4-H Club of Puxico, were their counselors.

The frog group elected Sherry Abernathy president and David Hutchcraft scribe, both of Town and Country 4-H Club of Dexter. Mrs. Marilyn Abernathy of Dexter was their counselor.

The perch-bass group elected Linda Hutchcraft, Town and Country 4-H Club, as president and Donna Mansfield, Wilkerson Club of Stoddard county, scribe. Mrs. Arthur Gardner of Hillview 4-H Club in Butler county was the counselor.

Forestry was subject of the education program at camp. Jim Johnson, conservation forester, Willington, and two helpers were in charge of the forestry program. Other educational features of the program were emergency preparedness by the Rev. Lloyd Miler of Poplar Bluff; parliamentary procedure by Roger Slayton; and electricity and how to handle it by Harry Nelson of Ozark Border Electric Cooperative.

A craft program conducted by Pansy Seeburger consisted of leaf printing napkins or scarves. The rifle range program was conducted by Chet Barnes, Poplar Bluff; Don May, Dexter, and Ranny McDough, Wappapello conservation agents. 4-H campers were permitted to make 10 shots at the rifle range and participate in the gun safety program.

The waterfront is a highlight of 4-H club camping. Louis Kalkbrenner of Butler county was in charge of a motor boating program. Every camper was able to take a 10 to 15 minute speedboat ride from the campsite down Lost Creek arm of the lake to the open water of the St. Francis River basin of the lake.

Three canoes were available for canoeing. Bill Flowers of Dexter was in charge of the canoe program.

Several honors were spent swimming under the observance of the camp staff life guards. This year swimming instruction was a major activity of camp and about 15 campers learned to swim. This instruction was conducted by Juanita Walz, Mike Price, Terry Chasteen and Joy Asbell.

Other 4-H leaders assisting at camp were Mrs. Ruth Mayer, Dexter, and Mrs. Anna Schenewerk, Poplar Bluff. Charge Filed in Slaying

IRONTON -- A mental examination has been ordered for Ernest Howard, 61, St. Louis, charged with first degree murder in the slaying Monday night of Robert E. Tetley, 63, of Oran.

Howard appeared for arraignment in magistrate court Thursday and pleaded innocent.

Judge William R. Edgar ordered that Howard be sent to the state hospital at Fulton to determine whether he is sane and can stand trial.

Tetley was found dead in bed in a farmhouse east of Belleview Tuesday morning. He had been shot twice with a .22 caliber weapon.

Prosecuting Attorney Jack Duncan said today that he expected the doctors' report within three weeks.

An inquest is scheduled for tonight.

Ten persons were charged with public intoxication. Seven motorists were charged with careless and imprudent driving and being involved in accidents.

A total of 23 persons were charged with peace disturbance. Seven were charged with assault.

Twelve persons arrested by police were transferred to Scott county authorities in Benton.

Twenty eight other arrests were made in July.

Boyer to Build Housing Project

Ralph E. Boyer, Contractor, Inc. 910 South Kingshighway, signed a contract with the Caruthersville Housing Authority to serve as general contractor for the construction of 184 low rent housing units.

Cost of the project is $1,765,000. The houses will be built on three sites in the city, John Cowell, estimator for Boyer said today.

Construction is expected to begin in September. Completion is expected in 18 months.

Contracting officer for the Caruthersville Housing Authority is Gerald Jones.

Mother's Car Runs over Daughter, in Drive

Patricia Ann Roach, a nine-year-old girl was run over by a car in the drive of her home and injured seriously.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Bertha Mae Roach, who with her husband Walter Roach, live on a country road one mile south of Poplar Bluff, entered the drive at 8 p.m. Wednesday. She failed to notice her daughter and ran over her with a 1964 Chevrolet.

In a two-vehicle collision Thursday at 5:15 p.m. on a gravel road three miles north of Perkins in Scott county, a 1962 Chevrolet two-ton truck, driven by Francis L. Chatman, 54, Oran, struck a 1962 Ford, driven by Geryl W. Slinkard, 25, Edwardsville, Kan.

The Chatman truck entered an intersection. It was struck by the Slinkard car causing the truck to overturn.

Chatman's right hand and head were bruised. He was treated by a physician and released.

Observers Feel Viet War Break Nearing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some experts on Southeast Asia are nursing a hunch that a break in the Vietnam war is coming and that some sort of preliminary settlement may result.

Part of this thinking is based upon events in Red China and the impact these events have had on China's neighbors. Part is based on evidence of Soviet interest in helping to bring about an end to the clash between American and Communist arms.

"In my view, the clash of regular armies could end in Vietnam during this calendar year. I expect some sort of settlement in 1967 or early 1968," he writes in the American Legion magazine.

Trager, just back from Vietnam and other points in Southeast Asia, adds that this would not mean an end to conflict. He says there could be a settlement of sorts with the basic U.S. goal, independence for South Vietnam, achieved, but that "we will clearly have to stay in Southeast Asia in some force—both military and civilian—for a good long time."

The U.S. civilian commitment to South Vietnam is a long-range one to build the economy of the country and secure its future as much as possible. The military situation, Trager feels, would be a complex one. It would involve pacification of the Viet Cong guerrillas, which could take years after the fighting between regular armies ended.

Other Southeast Asia specialists assert the U.S. stand in South Vietnam has strengthened the will of other nations in the area to resist Communist incursions. Today, Red China is exerting formidable pressure on virtually all her neighbors to the south: India, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and others. Peking has picked quarrels with all of them, and eventually may have succeeded in pushing them together in self-defense.

China's policy, probably dictated by its internal problems attendant upon the purge called "the cultural revolution," has had a boomerang effect. Nations which wanted to stay neutral, such as Burma, have been frightened by the blatant hostility coming from Peking and deliberate attempts to interfere in internal affairs. China's attitude, indeed, can strengthen the unity of other Asians in such enterprises as the Association of Southeast Asia.

These nations are interested in some sort of Asian solution to Vietnam, possibly within the framework of the 1954 Geneva accord but arrived at this time on Asian soil.

Moscow's interest in averting dangerous pressures in Asia — also inspired in part by China's truculence—lends hope to those who feel there may be some light at the end of the dark tunnel that is Vietnam. China's frightening posture can have its effect on North Vietnam as well as on other Southeast Asians, and in such circumstances, Moscow's influence could carry much more weight.

Fiery Car-Truck Crash Kills Family of Eight

HIGHLAND, ILL. (AP)—Seven members of an Oklahoma family were killed Thursday in the flaming wreckage of their car and a truck and an eighth died later in a Highland hospital, the Illinois State Police said.

Nellis A. Briscoe, II, 48, an agriculture economics professor at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, his wife, Margaret J. 43, and their six children, were enroute to Purdue University in Indiana.

Briscoe was scheduled to speak at the American Institute of Cooperatives, a meeting he helped plan.

Their station wagon collided head-on with a tractor-trailer on U. S. 40, five miles northeast of Highland. The driver of the truck, David Adams, 23, of Vandalia, Ill., was listed in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Highland, 35 miles northeast of St. Louis.

One witness said the truck "rode the station wagon" for about 200 feet. He said the truck's right front tire was in the car's front seat.

Norman Lamb, of Webster Groves, Mo., said, "Both vehicles were on fire when I came up, and the flames were a good 20-30 feet in the air.

"The truck was up over the hood of the station wagon, and the flames were so thick the only figure I saw was the driver of the station wagon."

The couple's six children were identified as Kimberly Ann, 12; Nellis A. III, 8, Michele, 10; Jacqueline, 6; Danielle, 4, and Powell, 2.

Audio Equipment Stolen From Lincoln School

Donald Fulton, principal of Lincoln elementary school, 229 Westgate, reported to police at 5:30 p.m. Thursday that a public address amplifier and a hand microphone were taken from the school.

Windows in the building have been broken and gone unrepaired, police said.

Fulton was unable to say when the amplifier was taken.

Police were called at 12:16 a.m. today and notified that four dogs treed a skunk behind the Bootheel Lounge, Highway 61 North. Customers in the tavern complained about the smell.

The dogs killed the skunk and at last report one of the dogs was trying to wash itself in a mud puddle near the scene of the battle.

Falls, Bite, Cuts Injure Seven

Seven were treated Thursday in the emergency room of the Missouri Delta Community hospital:

Frances Chapman, Oran, car accident; Mary Chaney, Canalou, bitten by a dog; Evolee Thompson, fell and hurt an ankle;

Judge Levies $81 Fine For Assault

Leonard Moran, 403 Marian, was fined $81 in city court Thursday on a charge of assault and battery. Judge James Sickal presided.

Vernon Walker, Canalou, was fined $17 on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Ancell C. Gross, Sikeston, was fined $24 on two charges of public intoxication.

A $12 bond was forfeited for Katherine Vierre, Sikeston, who was charged with public intoxication.

A charge of assault and battery against Donzall Butler, 231 Luther, was dismissed for failure to prosecute.

Roy W. Moore, 836 East Gladys, was fined $9 on a charge of destruction of city property. The car he was driving struck a parking meter. A charge of careless and imprudent driving against him was continued.

Harry A. Jones, 304 Greer, charged with careless and imprudent driving, dismissed on payment of court costs.

Robert L. Morphis, 1724 Oklahoma, charged with destroying a city light pole, paid $6 court costs and $5 of his bond was stayed on payment of damages. Morphis also was fined $17 on a careless and imprudent driving charge.

Rebecca Forrest, 611 East Kathleen, was fined $56 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. A charge of operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes was dismissed.

William M. Cole, Bertrand, charged with careless and imprudent driving, dismissed on payment of $6 court costs.

Charges of failure to notify the city of work ready for inspection against six plumbers were continued. The plumbers are: Gilbert Dover, 800 Pine; L.V. Williams, 118 Missouri; M.A. Freeman, 700 Linn; Odis Morris, 318 Ruth; Henry C. Cook, 330 Luther, and Jack D. Mitchell, 415 Shady Lane.

Raymond Daniels, 318 Prosperity, was fined $7 on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Volunteers Needed

Any Jaycee interested may contact the ticket office at GR 1-4860.

No One Minds Ticket Shortage

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mansfield is running short on parking tickets and no one seems to care, says Douglas Hazen, city safety director.

Three requests to the City Council for money to print more forms have been ignored, seriously putting a crimp on the number of tickets police can give out, Hazen said Thursday.

Higher Troop Level To Boost Draft Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher draft calls and a possible $2-billion supplemental defense budget request are likely as a result of President Johnson's ordered troop increase for Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The President announced Thursday that 45,000 to 50,000 more men will be deployed to the war zone in response to recommendations of top defense and military officials.

At the same time, he said, there is a possibility that because of increased military spending, defense expenditures for fiscal 1968 may exceed the $73 billion budget by up to $4 billion.

Exactly how high draft calls will go now is being determined in a Pentagon study of what the newly authorized 525,000-man level for Vietnam next summer will do to over-all U.S. military strength.

Announced draft calls for the five months extending through September have risen to an average of about 23,000 a month. This reflects, in part, the Pentagon's move to meet its 1966-approved Vietnam manpower ceiling of 480,000.

Sources said draft calls during the last quarter of this year likely will exceed 35,000 a month.

As for spending, sources say Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara believes $2 billion in planned spending can be trimmed from the defense budget to offset partially the possible $4-billion overrun mentioned by the President.

The $2-billion difference would have to be covered by a supplemental budget request early next year, sources said.

The administration also had to get a $12-billion defense supplement for fiscal 1967, but the 1968 budget was supposed to cover all anticipated war spending as well as meet other military needs.

The President said McNamara had been ordered to "conduct a searching review of all defense expenditures and to withhold all such expenditures that are not now essential for national security."

Defense officials already are in the process of cutting back on fighter aircraft purchases. They say this is possible because of a lower-than-expected rate of loses over North Vietnam.

The level of U.S. forces in Vietnam now stands officially at 454,000 after a 7,000-man "statistical adjustment" by the Pentagon Thursday.

The Pentagon said most of the 45,000 new troops will be Army. Sources said there will also be a certain number of Air Force and Navy units, mainly combat support elements.

No Reserve callup is expected, the Pentagon said.

Hearnes Signs Bill Hiking Aid to Junior Colleges

The present $200 per 24 semester hours will be increased to $320 or 50 per cent of actual operating costs, whichever is less. It was sponsored by Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, who introduced the original junior college aid bill.

Also signed was a bill setting up an emergency fund of $150,000 a year, to be used for emergencies which arise when the legislature is not in session.

The fund will be administered by the governor, comptroller, their chairmen and ranking minority members of the House and Senate appropriations committees, and the director of planning and construction, who will act as a consultant.

Also signed was a bill giving the Board of Public Buildings authority to lease excess space to political subdivisions and allow construction of state facilities in towns of 5,000 or more instead of 10,000. It is intended to permit leasing of space to St. Louis County in a proposed state office building there.

Other bills signed included measures to:

Make it unnecessary for the comptroller to pre-approve claims as a prerequisite to advancing federal funds.

Update the state cigarette tax law.

Raise the pay of the directors of employment security and the director of workmen's compensation.

Increase the pay of juvenile officers and their deputies.

Prohibit the St. Louis circuit attorney and prosecuting attorney from practicing law and increase the number of assistant circuit attorneys from 17 to 21.

Soviet Trawler Off Limits Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)— A Soviet trawler, seized last March for violating the 12-mile exclusive fisheries zone off the Alaska coast, was picked up for the same offense Thursday, the Coast Guard reported.

The STRM 8-457, a 180-foot refrigerator vessel, was seized by the Coast Guard cutter Avoyel 10 miles north of Akutan Island in the Aleutians and taken under tow for Dutch Harbor.

The seizure was the third of a Soviet vessel in Alaskan waters in the past year. When the STRM 8-457 was taken off Seal Cape in March she was captained by Luonid M. Kushchenko, who was fined $10,000. It is not known who her skipper is now.

Fire Damages Utility Room

Damage was caused to a utility room of the wood frame house. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Eight firemen responded.

Dexter Soldier Dies in Combat

Curtis entered the army three years ago. He had served in Vietnam since Spring.

He was born at Dexter Sept. 17, 1943. On may 1, 1965, he married Elizabeth Powell, who survives at Dudley.

Also surviving are one daughter, Susan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Eskew, Dexter; two brothers, Dale Eskew, St. Louis, and Larry Eskew, Dexter; four sisters, Mrs. Delores Gales and Mrs. Pauline Griffey, both of Dexter; Mrs. Rita Elliott, Arkadelphia, Ark., and Joan Eskew, St. Louis, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin of Dexter.

The body is being returned to Watkins and Sons Funeral Home.

Congo Orders Newsmen out

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — The Congolese government today ordered all correspondents and photographers of The Associated Press to leave the Congo within 48 hours.

A similar measure was announced against a representative of the British news agency, Reuters.

Information Minister Jean Jacques Kande said the decision was taken by President Joseph D. Mobutu personally.

Kande told Michael Goldsmith of The Associated Press the AP men were being expelled because AP stories had "speculated about Russian planes which are bringing Tshombe to The Congo and the route they are supposed to take, by way of Cairo." Ex-Premier Moise Tshombe, under arrest in Algeria, faces a death sentence here.

Kande said the government also objected to an AP report from Bujumbura, Burundi, three weeks ago quoting Congolese Interior Minister Etienne Tshisekedi as saying some white residents had been killed and eaten by undisciplined troops in Katanga.

In a separate meeting with Francois Duriaud of Reuters, Kande said the government objected to Reuters reports of casualties suffered by the Congolese army in a battle with mercenaries Tuesday.

American Ambassador Robert H. McBride and British Ambassador John Cotton said they planned to urge Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko to have the expulsion order rescinded.

Also affected by the measure were a part-time Associated Press reporter Pierre Moser, a Swiss citizen, and Associated Press photographer Max Nash.

Israel-Jordan Border Skirmish Continues

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli soldiers exchanged rifle fire across the Jordan River near Jericho for the fourth successive day today, the Israeli army reported.

Israeli newspapers said Israel has warned Jordan it will take "strong action" if the shooting incidents continue.

The Israeli army said Jordanian riflemen opened fire briefly in midmorning on Israeli soldiers who shot back. No casualties were reported.

The shooting has been in the Damia Bridge area, about 15 miles north of the Allenby Bridge used by thousands of Arab refugees who crossed out of Israeli-held territory after the Arab-Israeli war June 5-10.

Record Strikes Flown

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes hammered North Vietnam with 197 strike missions Thursday, 22 more than were ever flown in a single day during the 2½ years of bombing the Communist North, the U. S. Command said today.

U. S. headquarters also announced that 635 combat planes have been lost over North Vietnam, including an Air Force F105 Thunderchief downed by ground fire Thursday and four losses not previously disclosed.

One was the massive sweep by an estimated 10,000 U. S. and South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta 45 miles south of Saigon, the biggest allied operation staged so far in the delta.

In the same delta area, South Vietnamese troops reported killing the commander of a hard-core Viet Cong battalion and capturing his assistant.

The air attacks Thursday ranged from deep in North Vietnam's heartland to the country's southern panhandle.

Navy pilots reported destroying or damaging 72 supply boats or barges along the coast. Other Navy fliers reported setting off a secondary explosion among a cluster of buildings at the Quang Nap storage area three miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, in the panhandle. The pilots said dense smoke towered up 5,000 feet.

Navy pilots also reported damaging railroad facilities at the Dong Khe railroad siding 28 miles northwest of Vinh and the Ly Nhan siding 27 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa.

Air Force pilots attacked a 100-foot concrete and steel bridge 14 miles northeast of the port city and "the bridge completely disappeared," said Lt. Col. Harry W. Schurr, 39, of Indina, Pa., one of the fliers.

Other Air Force pilots reported damaging one end of the Bac Giang railroad and highway bridge 27 miles northeast of Hanoi and damaging four antiaircraft sites in the area. And airmen who attacked a railroad yard 39 miles northeast of the Communist capital said white smoke engulfed the area.

The U.S. Command said 87 missions were flown by the Air Force, 74 by the Navy and 36 by the Marines.

This broke a record that had stood for nearly 10 months— 175 missions last Oct. 14.

In South Vietnam, the Communists brought down a U.S. Marine CH46 helicopter near the A Shau Valley and three Marines aboard were wounded, a U.S. spokesman said.

A Shau, on the Laotian border 400 miles north of Saigon, was the target of two B52 raids. The bombers have hit the area almost daily since the Communists overran a U.S. Special Forces camp there a year and a half ago.

The B52s bombed enemy gun positions, base camps and storage areas one mile east of the abandoned American camp and hit storage sites and trail networks four miles to the northwest.

The bombers also struck twice at enemy troop concentrations in Pleiku Province 250 miles north of Saigon and once in Long Khanh Province 50 miles northeast of Saigon.

On the political front, the second presidential slate in South Vietnam's Sept. 3 election announced a peace platform. The presidential candidate, Truong Dinh Dzu, said he is determined to stop the war and proposed a cease-fire, a halt to the bombing of the North and a new Geneva conference.

Phan Khac Suu's vice presidential running mate, Phan Quang Dan, injected peace into the campaign earlier Thursday by urging negotiations with the Communists "at all levels, including the National Liberation Front," the political branch of the Viet Cong.

Hearnes To Appear At Rodeo

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes will appear at the 8 p.m. Aug. 12 performance of the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo, Mike Jones, publicity chairman, announced today.

Jones reported that Gov. Hearnes has confirmed the appearance with Scott County Rep. Tony Heckemeyer.

Ticket sales are now approaching $5,000 for the four-day annual event, Jones said.

A free picnic lunch will be served by the Jaycees from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. Thursday, opening day.

Pony rides and stagecoach rides will be available on the rodeo grounds before performances.

Stock has arrived for the show. More horses, bulls and calves will begin arriving Sunday.

Another Carrier Fire Victim Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The parents of a St. Louis sailor injured in Saturday's fire aboard the aircraft carrier Forrestal were notified Thursday of his death aboard a hospital ship.

The Navy said Airman Apprentice Philip L. Hudson, 20, died Wednesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Hudson.

Boy Falls From Bike, Hits Head

A ten - year - old boy riding a bicycle with a group of children on a country road about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Miner suffered a cut to the right side of his head when he fell and struck the rear fender of an automobile driven by mail carrier Bill Scarbrough, Sikeston.

Scarbrough took the youth identified as Albert Brown, son of Lovie Brown, to Missouri Delta Community hospital for treatment. He was admitted, but his condition could not be determined. The accident occurred at about 9 a.m. today.

The youth was riding with other children along the gravel road when the accident occurred, Scarbrough said. The boy waved at the mail carrier, then lost control of his bike and fell. His head struck the rear fender of the car, Scarbrough said.

Charleston Police Chief Holding Own

He suffered broken ribs and a possible lung injury. His blood pressure has stabilized.

Hunter was blinded by the lights of a passing motorist. His car went down a steep embankment and overturned.

He has been on the police force since 1951. He became chief 11 years ago.

Tax Proposal Received Coolly in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional reaction to President Johnson's call for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge generally ranges from lukewarm to chilly, with few members except some Democratic leaders offering unqualified support.

Some other Democrats joined in the expected Republican opposition to the long-awaited tax hike request. Chairman William Proxmire, D—Wis., of the Senate - House Economic Committee called it a blunder that would hamper business growth and thus generate little new revenue.

And Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said only: "I'm uncommitted; committed to no one, one way or the other."

Mills, who ranks as perhaps the foremost tax expert in Congress, has remained noncommittal since Johnson first proposed a surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes last January. At that time Johnson urged a 6 per cent surtax.

But the Arkansas Democrat revised the Ways and Means Committee's schedule to provide at least two weeks of hearings beginning Aug. 14. The hearings will be interrupted Aug. 17 and 18 when the House is scheduled to consider Johnson's bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Almost to a man, members who discussed the proposals Johnson sent to Congress Thursday agreed that if a tax hike is enacted at all, it won't be by Oct. 1— the date the President asked the surcharge on individual income taxes to start.

And veteran members of the Ways and Means Committee said it never has been willing to make retroactive a tax increase on individuals. Johnson asked the matching 10 per cent increase on corporate income taxes be made retroactive to July 1.

A later date for both seemed likely, if there are to be increases, perhaps Oct. 1 for the corporate tax, the first of next year for the individual.

Johnson's linking of the tax boost request with Vietnam costs and plans to dispatch 45,000 more troops there did not sit well with some members.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said, "The President's message is a confession of failure of his so-called 'guns and butter' economic policy."

Noting Johnson's warning that the budget deficit for the current year could reach $29 billion without the tax boost and tighter reins on spending, Miller added:

"His concern that such a deficit would cause inflation and high interest rates should have been shown a year and a half ago when he told the American people that we could afford to fight the war in Vietnam and increase the pace of Great Society domestic programs at the same time."

"I am becoming particularly disturbed by the Johnson administration's policy of blaming every economic ill in this country on the war in Vietnam," said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, a member of the Senate Finanace Committee.

Johnson specified the surcharge would not apply across the board— some 16 million persons in the lowest taxpaying brackets would be exempt.

Thus a single person making no more than $1,900, a couple up to $3,600 or a family with two children up to $5,000 would have no surtax to pay.

But a $10,000 income typically would bear $174 more in taxes for a single person, $134 for a childless couple, $111 for a family of four. At $20,000 the increases would be $492, $348 and $316. All these figures assume standard deductions.

There were some suggestions taxpayers above the lowest brackets should have a portion of their income exempt from the surtax.

Other proposals were for an excess profits tax or a higher surtax on corporate than individual income. Ways and Means committeeman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said he is pushing a 5 per cent individual, 10 per cent corporate formula.

And Republicans, as well as some Democrats, called for strictest economy to minimize or even avert any tax increase.

Business reaction was mixed, but leaned toward accepting Johnson's case for the tax hike. The man in the street seemed less enthusiastic, however, an informal AP survey around the country indicated.

On this score Johnson pledged his administration to "every possible expenditure reduction—civilian and military— short of jeopardizing the nation's security and well-being."

But he said two-thirds of the nondefense budget of $61 billion is not subject to executive reduction and he urged Congress to practice economy, too.

Specifically, he urged abandoning proposals for $1 billion more in government, civilian and military pay raises than the level he recommended.

A saving of $1 billion, Johnson noted, is equivalent to two percentage points of surcharge.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said: "The President has not made a case for an income tax increase. I will not concede that the present level of federal spending cannot be cut back sufficiently to avoid a tax increase."

Johnson said the surtax would yield $6.3 billion in the year that began July 1. He recommended also postponing scheduled excise tax drops on automobiles and telephone service for another $300 million in the same year. The yields would be greater in the following year.

Charge Filed in Slaying

IRONTON -- A mental examination has been ordered for Ernest Howard, 61, St. Louis, charged with first degree murder in the slaying Monday night of Robert E. Tetley, 63, of Oran.

Howard appeared for arraignment in magistrate court Thursday and pleaded innocent.

Judge William R. Edgar ordered that Howard be sent to the state hospital at Fulton to determine whether he is sane and can stand trial.

Tetley was found dead in bed in a farmhouse east of Belleview Tuesday morning. He had been shot twice with a .22 caliber weapon.

Prosecuting Attorney Jack Duncan said today that he expected the doctors' report within three weeks.

July Arrests Net $1,105

A total of $1,105 in fines and court costs was collected during July, police reported.

Twelve persons were charged with careless and imprudent driving. Five were charged with careless and imprudent driving while drinking.

Ten persons were charged with public intoxication. Seven motorists were charged with careless and imprudent driving and being involved in accidents.

A total of 23 persons were charged with peace disturbance. Seven were charged with assault.

Twelve persons arrested by police were transferred to Scott county authorities in Benton.

Twenty eight other arrests were made in July.

Boyer to Build Housing Project

Cost of the project is $1,765,000. The houses will be built on three sites in the city, John Cowell, estimator for Boyer said today.

Construction is expected to begin in September. Completion is expected in 18 months.

Mother's Car Runs over Daughter, in Drive

Patricia Ann Roach, a nine-year-old girl was run over by a car in the drive of her home and injured seriously.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Bertha Mae Roach, who with her husband Walter Roach, live on a country road one mile south of Poplar Bluff, entered the drive at 8 p.m. Wednesday. She failed to notice her daughter and ran over her with a 1964 Chevrolet.

In a two-vehicle collision Thursday at 5:15 p.m. on a gravel road three miles north of Perkins in Scott county, a 1962 Chevrolet two-ton truck, driven by Francis L. Chatman, 54, Oran, struck a 1962 Ford, driven by Geryl W. Slinkard, 25, Edwardsville, Kan.

The Chatman truck entered an intersection. It was struck by the Slinkard car causing the truck to overturn.

Observers Feel Viet War Break Nearing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some experts on Southeast Asia are nursing a hunch that a break in the Vietnam war is coming and that some sort of preliminary settlement may result.

Part of this thinking is based upon events in Red China and the impact these events have had on China's neighbors. Part is based on evidence of Soviet interest in helping to bring about an end to the clash between American and Communist arms.

"In my view, the clash of regular armies could end in Vietnam during this calendar year. I expect some sort of settlement in 1967 or early 1968," he writes in the American Legion magazine.

Trager, just back from Vietnam and other points in Southeast Asia, adds that this would not mean an end to conflict. He says there could be a settlement of sorts with the basic U.S. goal, independence for South Vietnam, achieved, but that "we will clearly have to stay in Southeast Asia in some force— both military and civilian— for a good long time."

The U.S. civilian commitment to South Vietnam is a long-range one to build the economy of the country and secure its future as much as possible. The military situation, Trager feels, would be a complex one. It would involve pacification of the Viet Cong guerrillas, which could take years after the fighting between regular armies ended.

Other Southeast Asia specialists assert the U.S. stand in South Vietnam has strengthened the will of other nations in the area to resist Communist incursions. Today, Red China is exerting formidable pressure on virtually all her neighbors to the south: India, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and others. Peking has picked quarrels with all of them, and eventually may have succeeded in pushing them together in self-defense.

China's policy, probably dictated by its internal problems attendant upon the purge called "the cultural revolution," has had a boomerang effect. Nations which wanted to stay neutral, such as Burma, have been frightened by the blatant hostility coming from Peking and deliberate attempts to interfere in internal affairs. China's attitude, indeed, can strengthen the unity of other Asians in such enterprises as the Association of Southeast Asia.

These nations are interested in some sort of Asian solution to Vietnam, possibly within the framework of the 1954 Geneva accord but arrived at this time on Asian soil.

Moscow's interest in averting dangerous pressures in Asia — also inspired in part by China's truculence— lends hope to those who feel there may be some light at the end of the dark tunnel that is Vietnam. China's frightening posture can have its effect on North Vietnam as well as on other Southeast Asians, and in such circumstances, Moscow's influence could carry much more weight.

Fiery Car-Truck Crash Kills Family of Eight

HIGHLAND, ILL. (AP)— Seven members of an Oklahoma family were killed Thursday in the flaming wreckage of their car and a truck and an eighth died later in a Highland hospital, the Illinois State Police said.

Nellis A. Briscoe, II, 48, an agriculture economics professor at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, his wife, Margaret J. 43, and their six children, were enroute to Purdue University in Indiana.

Briscoe was scheduled to speak at the American Institute of Cooperatives, a meeting he helped plan.

One witness said the truck "rode the station wagon" for about 200 feet. He said the truck's right front tire was in the car's front seat.

Norman Lamb, of Webster Groves, Mo., said, "Both vehicles were on fire when I came up, and the flames were a good 20-30 feet in the air.

"The truck was up over the hood of the station wagon, and the flames were so thick the only figure I saw was the driver of the station wagon."

The couple's six children were identified as Kimberly Ann, 12; Nellis A. III, 8, Michele, 10; Jacqueline, 6; Danielle, 4, and Powell, 2.

Audio Equipment Stolen From Lincoln School

Donald Fulton, principal of Lincoln elementary school, 229 Westgate, reported to police at 5:30 p.m. Thursday that a public address amplifier and a hand microphone were taken from the school.

Windows in the building have been broken and gone unrepaired, police said.

Fulton was unable to say when the amplifier was taken.

Police were called at 12;16 a.m. today and notified that four dogs treed a skunk behind the Bootheel Lounge, Highway 61 North. Customers in the tavern complained about the smell.

The dogs killed the skunk and at last report one of the dogs was trying to wash itself in a mud puddle near the scene of the battle.

Falls, Bite, Cuts Injure Seven

Seven were treated Thursday in the emergency room of the Missouri Delta Community hospital:

Frances Chapman, Oran, car accident; Mary Chaney, Canalou, bitten by a dog; Evolee Thompson, fell and hurt an ankle; Charles W. Hampton Jr., fell on a railroad and cut knee.

Judge Levies $81 Fine For Assault

Leonard Moran, 403 Marian, was fined $81 in city court Thursday on a charge of assault and battery. Judge James Sickal presided.

Vernon Walker, Canalou, was fined $17 on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Ancell C. Gross, Sikeston, was fined $24 on two charges of public intoxication.

A $12 bond was forfeited for Katherine Vierre, Sikeston, who was charged with public intoxication.

Roy W. Moore, 836 East Gladys, was fined $9 on a charge of destruction of city property. The car he was driving struck a parking meter. A charge of careless and imprudent driving against him was continued.

Harry A. Jones, 304 Greer, charged with careless and imprudent driving, dismissed on payment of court costs.

Robert L. Morphis, 1724 Oklahoma, charged with destroying a city light pole, paid $6 court costs and $5 of his bond was stayed on payment of damages. Morphis also was fined $17 on a careless and imprudent driving charge.

Rebecca Forrest, 611 East Kathleen, was fined $56 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. A charge of operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes was dismissed.

William M. Cole, Bertrand, charged with careless and imprudent driving, dismissed on payment of $6 court costs.

Charges of failure to notify the city of work ready for inspection against six plumbers were continued. The plumbers are: Gilbert Dover, 800 Pine; L.V. Williams, 118 Missouri; M.A. Freeman, 700 Linn; Odis Morris, 318 Ruth; Henry C. Cook, 330 Luther, and Jack D. Mitchell, 415 Shady Lane.

Raymond Daniels, 318 Prosperity, was fined $7 on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Volunteers Needed

Any Jaycee interested may contact the ticket office at GR 1-4860.

No One Minds Ticket Shortage

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mansfield is running short on parking tickets and no one seems to care, says Douglas Hazen, city safety director.

Three requests to the City Council for money to print more forms have been ignored, seriously putting a crimp on the number of tickets police can give out, Hazen said Thursday.

Higher Troop Level To Boost Draft Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher draft calls and a possible $2-billion supplemental defense budget request are likely as a result of President Johnson's ordered troop increase for Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The President announced Thursday that 45,000 to 50,000 more men will be deployed to the war zone in response to recommendations of top defense and military officials.

At the same time, he said, there is a possibility that because of increased military spending, defense expenditures for fiscal 1968 may exceed the $73 billion budget by up to $4 billion.

Exactly how high draft calls will go now is being determined in a Pentagon study of what the newly authorized 525,000-man level for Vietnam next summer will do to over-all U.S. military strength.

Announced draft calls for the five months extending through September have risen to an average of about 23,000 a month. This reflects, in part, the Pentagon's move to meet its 1966-approved Vietnam manpower ceiling of 480,000.

Sources said draft calls during the last quarter of this year likely will exceed 35,000 a month.

As for spending, sources say Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara believes $2 billion in planned spending can be trimmed from the defense budget to offset partially the possible $4-billion overrun mentioned by the President.

The $2-billion difference would have to be covered by a supplemental budget request early next year, sources said.

The administration also had to get a $12-billion defense supplement for fiscal 1967, but the 1968 budget was supposed to cover all anticipated war spending as well as meet other military needs.

The President said McNamara had been ordered to "conduct a searching review of all defense expenditures and to withhold all such expenditures that are not now essential for national security."

Defense officials already are in the process of cutting back on fighter aircraft purchases. They say this is possible because of a lower-than-expected rate of loses over North Vietnam.

The level of U.S. forces in Vietnam now stands officially at 454,000 after a 7,000-man "statistical adjustment" by the Pentagon Thursday.

The Pentagon said most of the 45,000 new troops will be Army. Sources said there will also be a certain number of Air Force and Navy units, mainly combat support elements.

No Reserve callup is expected, the Pentagon said.

Hearnes Signs Bill Hiking Aid to Junior Colleges

The present $200 per 24 semester hours will be increased to $320 or 50 per cent of actual operating costs, whichever is less. It was sponsored by Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, who introduced the original junior college aid bill.

Also signed was a bill setting up an emergency fund of $150,000 a year, to be used for emergencies which arise when the legislature is not in session.

The fund will be administered by the governor, comptroller, their chairmen and ranking minority members of the House and Senate appropriations committees, and the director of planning and construction, who will act as a consultant.

Also signed was a bill giving the Board of Public Buildings authority to lease excess space to political subdivisions and allow construction of state facilities in towns of 5,000 or more instead of 10,000. It is intended to permit leasing of space to St. Louis County in a proposed state office building there.

Other bills signed included measures to:

Make it unnecessary for the comptroller to pre-approve claims as a prerequisite to advancing federal funds.

Update the state cigarette tax law.

Raise the pay of the directors of employment security and the director of workmen's compensation.

Increase the pay of juvenile officers and their deputies.

Prohibit the St. Louis circuit attorney and prosecuting attorney from practicing law and increase the number of assistant circuit attorneys from 17 to 21.

Soviet Trawler Off Limits Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)— A Soviet trawler, seized last March for violating the 12-mile exclusive fisheries zone off the Alaska coast, was picked up for the same offense Thursday, the Coast Guard reported.

The STRM 8-457, a 180-foot refrigerator vessel, was seized by the Coast Guard cutter Avoyel 10 miles north of Akutan Island in the Aleutians and taken under tow for Dutch Harbor.

The seizure was the third of a Soviet vessel in Alaskan waters in the past year. When the STRM 8-457 was taken off Seal Cape in March she was captained by Luonid M. Kushchenko, who was fined $10,000. It is not known who her skipper is now.

Fire Damages Utility Room

Damage was caused to a utility room of the wood frame house. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Eight firemen responded.

Dexter Soldier Dies in Combat

Curtis entered the army three years ago. He had served in Vietnam since Spring.

He was born at Dexter Sept. 17, 1943. On may 1, 1965, he married Elizabeth Powell, who survives at Dudley.

Also surviving are one daughter, Susan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Eskew, Dexter; two brothers, Dale Eskew, St. Louis, and Larry Eskew, Dexter; four sisters, Mrs. Delores Gales and Mrs. Pauline Griffey, both of Dexter; Mrs. Rita Elliott, Arkadelphia, Ark., and Joan Eskew, St. Louis, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin of Dexter.

The body is being returned to Watkins and Sons Funeral Home.

Congo Orders Newsmen out

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — The Congolese government today ordered all correspondents and photographers of The Associated Press to leave the Congo within 48 hours.

A similar measure was announced against a representative of the British news agency, Reuters.

Information Minister Jean Jacques Kande said the decision was taken by President Joseph D. Mobutu personally.

Kande told Michael Goldsmith of The Associated Press the AP men were being expelled because AP stories had "speculated about Russian planes which are bringing Tshombe to The Congo and the route they are supposed to take, by way of Cairo." Ex-Premier Moise Tshombe, under arrest in Algeria, faces a death sentence here.

Kande said the government also objected to an AP report from Bujumbura, Burundi, three weeks ago quoting Congolese Interior Minister Etienne Tshisekedi as saying some white residents had been killed and eaten by undisciplined troops in Katanga.

In a separate meeting with Francois Duriaud of Reuters, Kande said the government objected to Reuters reports of casualties suffered by the Congolese army in a battle with mercenaries Tuesday.

American Ambassador Robert H. McBride and British Ambassador John Cotton said they planned to urge Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko to have the expulsion order rescinded.

Also affected by the measure were a part-time Associated Press reporter Pierre Moser, a Swiss citizen, and Associated Press photographer Max Nash.

Israel-Jordan Border Skirmish Continues

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli soldiers exchanged rifle fire across the Jordan River near Jericho for the fourth successive day today, the Israeli army reported.

Israeli newspapers said Israel has warned Jordan it will take "strong action" if the shooting incidents continue.

The Israeli army said Jordanian riflemen opened fire briefly in midmorning on Israeli soldiers who shot back. No casualties were reported.

The shooting has been in the Damia Bridge area, about 15 miles north of the Allenby Bridge used by thousands of Arab refugees who crossed out of Israeli-held territory after the Arab-Israeli war June 5-10.

Hearnes To Appear At Rodeo

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes will appear at the 8 p.m. Aug. 12 performance of the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo, Mike Jones, publicity chairman, announced today.

Jones reported that Gov. Hearnes has confirmed the appearance with Scott County Rep. Tony Heckemeyer.

Ticket sales are now approaching $5,000 for the four-day annual event, Jones said.

A free picnic lunch will be served by the Jaycees from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. Thursday, opening day.

Pony rides and stagecoach rides will be available on the rodeo grounds before performances.

Stock has arrived for the show. More horses, bulls and calves will begin arriving Sunday.

Another Carrier Fire Victim Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP)— The parents of a St. Louis sailor injured in Saturday's fire aboard the aircraft carrier Forrestal were notified Thursday of his death aboard a hospital ship.

The Navy said Airman Apprentice Philip L. Hudson, 20, died Wednesday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Hudson.

Boy Falls From Bike, Hits Head

A ten - year - old boy riding a bicycle with a group of children on a country road about 21/2 miles northwest of Miner suffered a cut to the right side of his head when he fell and struck the rear fender of an automobile driven by mail carrier Bill Scarbrough, Sikeston.

Scarbrough took the youth identified as Albert Brown, son of Lovie Brown, to Missouri Delta Community hospital for treatment. He was admitted, but his condition could not be determined. The accident occurred at about 9 a.m. today.

The youth was riding with other children along the gravel road when the accident occurred, Scarbrough said. The boy waved at the mail carrier, then lost control of his bike and fell. His head struck the rear fender of the car, Scarbrough said.

Charleston Police Chief Holding Own

He suffered broken ribs and a possible lung injury. His blood pressure has stabilized.

Hunter was blinded by the lights of a passing motorist. His car went down a steep embankment and overturned.

He has been on the police force since 1951. He became chief 11 years ago.

Record Strikes Flown

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes hammered North Vietnam with 197 strike missions Thursday, 23 more than were ever flown in a single day during the 2½ years of bombing the Communist North, the U. S. Command said today.

U. S. headquarters also announced that 635 combat planes have been lost over North Vietnam, including an Air Force F105 Thunderchief downed by ground fire Thursday and four losses not previously disclosed.

One was the massive sweep by an estimated 10,000 U. S. and South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta 45 miles south of Saigon, the biggest allied operation staged so far in the delta.

In the same delta area, South Vietnamese troops reported killing the commander of a hard-core Viet Cong battalion and capturing his assistant.

The air attacks Thursday ranged from deep in North Vietnam's heartland to the country's southern panhandle.

Navy pilots reported destroying or damaging 72 supply boats or barges along the coast. Other Navy fliers reported setting off a secondary explosion among a cluster of buildings at the Quang Nap storage area three miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, in the panhandle. The pilots said dense smoke towered up 5,000 feet.

Navy pilots also reported damaging railroad facilities at the Dong Khe railroad siding 28 miles northwest of Vinh and the Ly Nhan siding 27 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa.

Air Force pilots attacked a 100-foot concrete and steel bridge 14 miles northeast of the port city and "the bridge completely disappeared," said Lt. Col. Harry W. Schurr, 39, of Indina, Pa., one of the fliers.

Other Air Force pilots reported damaging one end of the Bac Giang railroad and highway bridge 27 miles northeast of Hanoi and damaging four antiaircraft sites in the area. And airmen who attacked a railroad yard 39 miles northeast of the Communist capital said white smoke engulfed the area.

The U.S. Command said 87 missions were flown by the Air Force, 74 by the Navy and 36 by the Marines.

This broke a record that had stood for nearly 10 months— 175 missions last Oct. 14.

In South Vietnam, the Communists brought down a U.S. Marine CH46 helicopter near the A Shau Valley and three Marines aboard were wounded, a U.S. spokesman said.

A Shau, on the Laotian border 400 miles north of Saigon, was the target of two B52 raids. The bombers have hit the area almost daily since the Communists overran a U.S. Special Forces camp there a year and a half ago.

The B52s bombed enemy gun positions, base camps and storage areas one mile east of the abandoned American camp and hit storage sites and trail networks four miles to the northwest.

The bombers also struck twice at enemy troop concentrations in Pleiku Province 250 miles north of Saigon and once in Long Khanh Province 50 miles northeast of Saigon.

On the political front, the second presidential slate in South Vietnam's Sept. 3 election announced a peace platform. The presidential candidate, Truong Dinh Dzu, said he is determined to stop the war and proposed a cease-fire, a halt to the bombing of the North and a new Geneva conference.

Phan Khac Suu's vice presidential running mate, Phan Quang Dan, injected peace into the campaign earlier Thursday by urging negotiations with the Communists "at all levels, including the National Liberation Front," the political branch of the Viet Cong.

Tax Proposal Received Coolly in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional reaction to President Johnson's call for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge generally ranges from lukewarm to chilly, with few members except some Democratic leaders offering unqualified support.

Some other Democrats joined in the expected Republican opposition to the long-awaited tax hike request. Chairman William Proxmire, D— Wis., of the Senate - House Economic Committee called it a blunder that would hamper business growth and thus generate little new revenue.

And Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said only: "I'm uncommitted; committed to no one, one way or the other."

Mills, who ranks as perhaps the foremost tax expert in Congress, has remained noncommittal since Johnson first proposed a surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes last January. At that time Johnson urged a 6 per cent surtax.

But the Arkansas Democrat revised the Ways and Means Committee's schedule to provide at least two weeks of hearings beginning Aug. 14. The hearings will be interrupted Aug. 17 and 18 when the House is scheduled to consider Johnson's bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Almost to a man, members who discussed the proposals Johnson sent to Congress Thursday agreed that if a tax hike is enacted at all, it won't be by Oct. 1— the date the President asked the surcharge on individual income taxes to start.

And veteran members of the Ways and Means Committee said it never has been willing to make retroactive a tax increase on individuals. Johnson asked the matching 10 per cent increase on corporate income taxes be made retroactive to July 1.

A later date for both seemed likely, if there are to be increases, perhaps Oct. 1 for the corporate tax, the first of next year for the individual.

Johnson's linking of the tax boost request with Vietnam costs and plans to dispatch 45,000 more troops there did not sit well with some members.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said, "The President's message is a confession of failure of his so-called 'guns and butter' economic policy."

Noting Johnson's warning that the budget deficit for the current year could reach $29 billion without the tax boost and tighter reins on spending, Miller added:

"His concern that such a deficit would cause inflation and high interest rates should have been shown a year and a half ago when he told the American people that we could afford to fight the war in Vietnam and increase the pace of Great Society domestic programs at the same time."

"I am becoming particularly disturbed by the Johnson administration's policy of blaming every economic ill in this country on the war in Vietnam," said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, a member of the Senate Finanace Committee.

Johnson specified the surcharge would not apply across the board— some 16 million persons in the lowest taxpaying brackets would be exempt.

Thus a single person making no more than $1,900, a couple up to $3,600 or a family with two children up to $5,000 would have no surtax to pay.

But a $10,000 income typically would bear $174 more in taxes for a single person, $134 for a childless couple, $111 for a family of four. At $20,000 the increases would be $492, $348 and $316. All these figures assume standard deductions.

There were some suggestions taxpayers above the lowest brackets should have a portion of their income exempt from the surtax.

Other proposals were for an excess profits tax or a higher surtax on corporate than individual income. Ways and Means committeeman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said he is pushing a 5 per cent individual, 10 per cent corporate formula.

And Republicans, as well as some Democrats, called for strictest economy to minimize or even avert any tax increase.

Business reaction was mixed, but leaned toward accepting Johnson's case for the tax hike. The man in the street seemed less enthusiastic, however, an informal AP survey around the country indicated.

On this score Johnson pledged his administration to "every possible expenditure reduction— civilian and military— short of jeopardizing the nation's security and well-being."

But he said two-thirds of the nondefense budget of $61 billion is not subject to executive reduction and he urged Congress to practice economy, too.

Specifically, he urged abandoning proposals for $1 billion more in government, civilian and military pay raises than the level he recommended.

A saving of $1 billion, Johnson noted, is equivalent to two percentage points of surcharge.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said: "The President has not made a case for an income tax increase. I will not concede that the present level of federal spending cannot be cut back sufficiently to avoid a tax increase."

Johnson said the surtax would yield $6.3 billion in the year that began July 1. He recommended also postponing scheduled excise tax drops on automobiles and telephone service for another $300 million in the same year. The yields would be greater in the following year.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Elimination of the subversive activities control board has been suggested in these columns as a good place to start in cutting back the federal bureaucracy.

It is fine choice because the United States Supreme Court ruled its activities were unconstitutional and because President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed an inexperienced family favorite to it at a salary of $26,000 a year.

Just in case anyone in Washington, D.C., ever again becomes interested in economy and in giving the taxpayers something for their money, he need not rest long after eliminating the subversive activities control board.

Just for example:

There are 42 separate agencies handling education programs.

There are 252 different welfare schemes.

There ar 57 varieties of job training programs.

There are more than 70 agency and department heads reporting directly to the White House, an impossible load for President Lyndon B. Johnson to shoulder despite the fact that he thinks the solution to every problem is to spend more money and advocate new and increased outlays of cash every time he makes a public appearance.

Then there is U.S. Sen. Edward V. (Ethical Ed) Long, who is ready to support every Great Society measure the President can dream up if it doesn't involve naming any of his moonlighting law practice clients while drawing a Senator's pay with all the fringe benefits.

There hasn't even been any recent mention of dousing the White House lights.

The boorish aspect of the personality of Gen. Charles de Gaulle never was bared so fully for the world to see than on his official visit to Canada.

Designed to produce good will between the two countries, De Gaulle instead abused the hospitality of Canada by calling for a "free Quebec".

As the French president was forcibly reminded by Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson Quebec and Canada are free.

De Gaulle's shout of "vive le Quebec libre" was designed to encourage extremists advocating that the French separate from Canada.

As an official guest on a good will mission De Gaulle heaped on Canada every insult imaginable.

He first was to visit Ottawa, the Canadian capital, before calling on French-speaking Quebec and Montreal. Instead he went to Quebec, where he shouted the phrase encouraging French extremists, and to Montreal.

After Pearson denounced the visitors language as "inacceptable" - about the strongest word diplomats used - De Gaulle packed his bags and flew home without visiting Ottawa or conferring with Pearson.

While in Canada De Gaulle heaped abuse on the United States.

Neither the United States nor Canada deserve any guff from France.

Twice they have helped save the nation's life in world wars.

France has defaulted on its obligations to this country and today De Gaulle, an egomaniac with delusions both of the grandeur of De Gaulle and of France, never misses a chance to abuse this country.

Pearson was correct in challenging De Gaulle for a typical exhibition of poor taste and bad manners.

He should have kicked him out of Canada before the meddling old man had the opportunity to leave voluntarily.

THE BAR IN HONOLULU

The American Bar Association's 90th annual meeting, beginning in Honolulu on Tuesday, Aug. 1, offers an agenda as topical as the day's headlines. Urban crime, abortion and wiretapping figure prominently in reports, discussion and debate scheduled by 21 sections of the 250,000-member association and its policy-making House of Delegates.

Some 12,000 lawyers, judges, law professors and their families are expected to attend the 10-day work-and-play convention in which relaxation on Waikiki Beach will compete with learned seminars. Floor debate is anticipated when the House of Delegates is asked to endorse bills pending in the U.S. Senate (S 989 and S 1318) to provide jury selection in federal and state courts without regard to race or other discriminating considerations.

Another troublesome issue, that of protecting a criminal defendant from harmful publicity, will be reviewed by two separate bar groups at the convention. They will hear the so-called Reardon Report which recommends some withholding of crime news by police and court officers to insure a fair trial. These proposals have been roundly attacked by the press as unnecessary and unconstitutional. The present prospect is that they will be modified somewhat at Honolulu and then sent to the House of Delegates for approval when it meets in Chicago next February.

CHARGE IT, PLEASE

Starting on Tuesday, Aug. 1 somebody with a good credit rating will be able to charge almost anything, almost everywhere. On that date the First National City Bank of New York will issue its "Everything Card" - a credit card that will allow the holder, the bank says, to charge anything from an accordion to a zipper.

The American businessman and the American tourist have long been wedded to their credit cards. The original oil company cards, which were first good only for gas, oil, and perhaps tires, are now honored in motels and lots of other places. The big "T & E" card and he's likely to invite you to open your own account with the establishment. The reason? The big all-purpose clubs charge a minimum of 7 per cent for service to the man who's extending the credit - and they make him wait 45 days for his money.

The "T & E" cards cost their holders $10 to $12 a year in membership dues. The New York bank card, launched with a big advertising campaign, will be offered free of charge, so long as the bill is paid in full within 25 days. If the holder needs cash he can get an instant loan at any branch bank. The system starts out with charge privileges at 30,000 establishments in New York City and Nassau and Westchester counties. The bank says you can charge "almost everything you can see, touch, taste, or feel."

NEW YORK (AP) — Time is a strange thing.

Today is today. But what was today yesterday? It was tomorrow. And what will today be tomorrow? It will be yesterday. So every day has three identities— yesterday, today and tomorrow.

By the miracle of memory all our yesterdays again become momentary todays; bygone scenes, sounds and scents come alive again to twinge us anew with wonder or regret.

You've got a pretty good collection of yesterdays in your memory gallery if you can look back and remember when—

Riots seemed to occur only in foreign countries.

It was thought you had musical aptitude if you learned how to pump a player piano.

The revolutionary idea of installing radios in automobiles was opposed by some on the grounds that it would cause carnage on the highways by distracted drivers.

We had a popular folk hero who neither sang nor played the guitar, and didn't even wear a beard. Who was he? Tarzan of the apes, that's who.

College teams played football for fun.

Norman Thomas, the Socialist, was thought to be a wild-eyed radical and a threat to the American way of life.

In hot weather young ladies carried fans to the theater, but used them more as instruments of flirtation than as tools to lower their temperature.

You definitely didn't belong to the "in" set if you didn't know how to play mah-jongg.

Many people opposed the goal of a five-day work week on the grounds that the laboring classes would only use the added day of leisure to destroy themselves through sin and drunken revelry.

Long-distance phone calls were so expensive that relatives couldn't afford to ring you up more than once a year to tell you their troubles.

A dog could fall asleep in most American village streets without fear of being run over, because, if a horse and buggy came along, he could always wake up in time to get out of the way.

Two of the biggest problems facing a boy growing into manhood were learning how to shave with a straight razor and how to chew tobacco.

A majority of U.S. business leaders were self-made men who generally looked on a college education as a waste of time.

Those were the days! Remember?

MEN'S FASHIONS GAIN UNPRECEDENTED RECOGNITION

Just a little more than twenty-five years ago, men's apparel was the "ignored orphan" of the nation's fashion pages. And there was ample reason why valuable editorial space was not squandered on the less-than-exhilarating styles of that day. It was the "blue serge" era - the period when a wardrobe consisted of (A) an everyday suit and (B) a Sunday go-to-meeting suit. But as men's fashions began to bloom, so too did attention begin to be given to them. Esquire was probably the first major magazine to devote sizable space to men's apparel developments. Others followed suit until, these days, the major magazines covering the accelerated development of new male fashions provide a total circulation of multi-millions of readers. The newspapers of this country have also kept pace with this growing recognition of men's fashions, as an industry that has come alive!

In preparing his income tax return, Mr. Jones declared $500 as a bad debt because, he claimed, he'd loaned his partner $500 and his partner had never returned it. Eventually he was called down to the Internal Revenue Department. The revenue agent said, "There must be something wrong because your partner was here with five witnesses who have testified that they actually saw him return the $500." Mr. Jones, said, "Is that so? Well, I want to prove to you what a liar he is. I never loaned it to him!"

TRAVEL TIME TIPS: There's no safer place to pack small breakable things -- like jewelry, travel clock, pill bottles, etc. -- than in your extra shoes, padded by socks. . . . If you carry liquid or lotion in plastic squeeze-bottles, slightly squeeze the sides of the bottle as you put on the cap to form a suction -- and make it leakproof . . . Remove cardboards from fresh shirts before packing them. Rigid articles take up too much space.

CONALLY RESERVATION AGAIN

On August 3, 1946, the U.S. Government by treaty accepted the idea of compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice, more commonly known as the World Court. The Senate, in approving the treaty, added an amendment providing that the United States cannot be brought before the World Court unless our government agrees to such action.

This was the Conally Amendment, named for the senator who introduced it, and for 21 years it has exempted from the jurisdiction of the World Court any matter which the United States might regard as internal in nature. Without this protection we might find ourselves facing decisions which would strike at the very heart of our national life. The U.S. has one of the 15 members making up the World Court. That one is selected by the General Assembly of the United Nations and not by any elected official or elected representatives of the American people.

Without the protection of the Conally Reservation the United States would be subject to the whims of a court composed in large part of representatives of nations where the ideal of freedom as enjoyed in our country is unknown. Yet announcements have been recently published that a national organization will start a drive to repeal the Connally Amendment. It is unthinkable that this effort should meet with the approval of the vast majority of the American people.

There are many reasons why the Conally Amendment must be kept in effect. All of them have to do with the security of our nation and the maintenance of freedom. HLH.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Here are some of the causes and cures for our race riots, as expressed by men on the firing line:

NAACP's Roy Wilkins, member of the President's new race panel, a moderate Negro who has been battling for racial understanding probably longer than any man in the USA. Asked at the international platform association forum why Negroes moving north became so much more violent than southern Negroes, he replied:

"The family controls Negro behavior in the south. In the north the Negro finds himself in new surroundings, usually without his family, without his old neighbors, without his church. In Harlem he's just John Smith."

Says Capt. Daniel V. James, retiring commander of the U.S. naval communications center in Washington: "We have been helping to supply fathers for the broken homes of the Washington community through Big Brothers.

"Scores of our men get satisfaction out of being a Big brother to a fatherless boy. We try to advise and guide him, keep him out of trouble. The lack of a father in a broken home is the biggest factor which gets boys off to a bad start."

Says President Lyndon Johnson: "I don't know why some people sit idly by and are willing to take the more expensive route, the jail route, the penitentiary route. . .It takes more of our money to take care of a convict in a penitentiary than it does to prepare a boy to be a good tax-paying citizen who can read and write."

HOW ABOUT SPENDING AT HOME?

Says Dr. Martin Luther King: "If we can spend billions of dollars rebuilding Germany and revitalizing the people of Europe, with more billions of arms for southeast Asia, we can afford to spend a few billions putting our Negro people back on their feet . . .The church has been a taillight rather than a headlight. . . The congress has revealed that it loves rats more than it does people."

Says Mayor Ivan Allen, Jr., of Atlanta, who has maintained the best race relations of any city in the south: "We need a massive housing program costing twenty to thirty billions a year, with the workers for that program enlisted from the unemployed of our Negro ghettos."

Says Dr. Alec Levin, Washington physician: "Enlist a corps of young Negro volunteer policemen, not trained in the use of firearms but trained in leadership. Put them in every city block."

Says comedian Dick Gregory: "Why don't we investigate the minutemen or the white kids rioting at Fort Lauderdale? . . .All the militant were in Newark, and Stokely Carmichael was in Cuba when the Detroit riots started. It's one time riots can't be blamed on him. . . Negroes call Edward Brooke (Negro senator from Massachusetts) the White Knight. He's stronger than dirt. . .When you see these old schools, you can understand why the kids want to burn them down to get new ones. . ."

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

Says Sargent Shriver, head of the antipoverty program: "The only permanent answer to preventing riots is to attack the causes which produce riots. We are trying to provide alternatives to violence."

Says Rep. James Burke, D-Mass.: "Let's fill up those empty seats in ball parks with underprivileged kids at least once a week. If we nurture a healthy interest in sports, it will naturally attract the young to playgrounds and keep them off the streets. . . ten million dollars for two years would provide for about 80 million tickets, an opportunity for 20 million youngsters to see four or five professional games. Why shouldn't more kids today be emulating Joe Foy of the Red Sox instead of watching crime pictures on television?"

Says Rep. James Scheuer, D-N.Y.: "We need a new division in the justice department to study better community relations between the police and the people; tranquilizing pellets which can be used rather than bullets to calm violent mobs. The FBI teaches target practice, not community relations."

Note -- J. Edgar Hoover is opposed to such a division, but a study just prepared by the justice department supports it.

WASHINGTON MERRY - GO - ROUND

Fred Kappel, retired head of the giant American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been spending his time since he retired working for the public. LBJ has appointed him to the President's committee on postal organization, the commission to study executive salaries, and on the emergency board to mediate the railroad dispute . . . Attorney General Ramsey Clark has gone one step further than his father in tangling with the Ku Klux Klan. Tom Clark, when Attorney General under Truman, was the first to put the Ku Klux Klan on the subversive list, along with the communist party. His son Ramsey has now arrested 12 suspects, most of them Klansmen, in connection with the bombing of school board members' homes and other acts of violence to prevent desegregation.

INSIDE THE RIOTS!
WHY DETROIT?
Self Styled Neo-Revolutionary Cells Operate Tough Guard and Propaganda Units in Big Cities.

DETROIT: -- There's a chunk of Saigon here, especially in the charred, burned-out jungle which federal authorities have told President Johnson is about the size of the city of Pittsburgh.

You can't tell the terrorists from the decent folk without a computerized, centralized intelligence system. And there is none. There are not even specialists. There are only scores of self-styled "revolutionary" leaders and cells.

They have no central network. So there's been no central investigation, federal or local, though the city and the land are filled with revolutionary literature, movies, pamphlets, and "black" paramilitary units. These have broken the hearts as well as the heads of men, Negro and white, who thought they had it made in this showpiece city.

Despite the slums, no metropolis could have been more of a showpiece. This is after all the city of Walter Reuther and his auto union and its interlocking relationships with Wayne State and other Michigan universities.

Such intellectual liberals as Ronald W. Haughton of Wayne State University, long an intimate of Reuther and his colleagues in the United Auto Workers (UAW) high council have had dialogues going here for some ten years. This was the head start city.

Negroes and whites were evenly matched politically. In fact, the Negro leadership privately vetoed the auto union chief's original position on the mayoralty candidacy of Jerome Cavanagh some years ago. The Negroes tipped the political balance for Mayor Cavanagh.

There also is the union's Trade Union Leadership Council (TULC.) Active in it are Horace Sheffield, a UAW staff member, and Buddy Battles of the Ford local leadership. The TULC had the equivalent of a school, replete with classes in office work, business English, and third and fourth echelon office management. There was much "action" in art and music.

The TULC was another head starter. It long has worked with AFL-CIO elder, vice president A. Philip Randolph. It had a broad base. Fully a third of the Chrysler, Ford and General Motors' 600,000 employes are Negroes. Naturally the bulk are in and around Detroit. They are on the same wage scale, same seniority lists, same unemployment guarantees, same industry-paid welfare and hospitalization programs, including all sorts of free service from the optical to the psychiatric.

Why, then -- as President Johnson asked I. W. Abel, head of the United Steelworkers, about 9:30 p.m. Thursday, July 27, in a personal telephon conversation -- Detroit?

No reason, except that there is no relationship between the dialogues, the model programs and the self-styled revolutionists.

The hard core of rioters are a new breed. This kind of warfare doesn't take manpower. It takes tightly knit disciplined cells. They're all over the big eastern cities.

Certainly few of the citizenry, white or Negro, have heard of tough little bands such as the Black Flag Anarchists, the Black Guard of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), the Black United Action Front, the Black Liberation Commission of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP).

These are just a few. But everyone appears to have forgotten that the Progressive Labor Party's vice-chairman Bill Epton was convicted of criminal anarchy after the 1964 Harlem riots. There are others of his colleagues still awaiting trial.

The PLP is Mao-ist -- pure but not so simple. They believe in direct action. Many of their young members -- and virtually all are under 30 -- are good rifle shots. They have a network of Mao-ist, Viet Cong literature. They distribute not only National Liberation Front motion pictures, but films of the Cuban Tri-Continental Conference, especially on the Cuban militia and revolutionary struggles. The PLP offers, and has dispatched, the "fighting films" to "anybody's apartment, the lobby of your building or even on the street." Some of the pictures are from Peking, North Vietnam and Zanzibar.

There is even a publishing house in New York City which issues Robert Williams' "Negroes With Guns." Williams was Castro's favorite "American desk" broadcaster and now is lending his cataclysmic culture to Peking's transmitters.

It doesn't take a national network to set such flying squads rolling towards inflamed cities. The cells roll on their own -- by car, by train, even by air. The neo-revolutionists have money, plenty of it.

If the President and his civil disorders committee seek an answer, they will have to concentrate on the new revolutionists and cage them before the cells coalesce and crush those who want to see the open blue sky as they reach upward --not the terorists, snipers and clouds of smoke.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Elimination of the subversive activities control board has been suggested in these columns as a good place to start in cutting back the federal bureaucracy.

It is fine choice because the United States Supreme Court ruled its activities were unconstitutional and because President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed an inexperienced family favorite to it at a salary of $26,000 a year.

Just in case anyone in Washington, D.C., ever again becomes interested in economy and in giving the taxpayers something for their money, he need not rest long after eliminating the subversive activities control board.

Just for example:

There are 42 separate agencies handling education programs.

There are 252 different welfare schemes.

There ar 57 varieties of job training programs.

There are more than 70 agency and department heads reporting directly to the White House, an impossible load for President Lyndon B. Johnson to shoulder despite the fact that he thinks the solution to every problem is to spend more money and advocate new and increased outlays of cash every time he makes a public appearance.

Then there is U.S. Sen. Edward V. (Ethical Ed) Long, who is ready to support every Great Society measure the President can dream up if it doesn't involve naming any of his moonlighting law practice clients while drawing a Senator's pay with all the fringe benefits.

There hasn't even been any recent mention of dousing the White House lights.

The boorish aspect of the personality of Gen. Charles de Gaulle never was bared so fully for the world to see than on his official visit to Canada.

Designed to produce good will between the two countries, De Gaulle instead abused the hospitality of Canada by calling for a "free Quebec".

As the French president was forcibly reminded by Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson Quebec and Canada are free.

De Gaulle's shout of "vive le Quebec libre" was designed to encourage extremists advocating that the French separate from Canada.

As an official guest on a good will mission De Gaulle heaped on Canada every insult imaginable.

He first was to visit Ottawa, the Canadian capital, before calling on French-speaking Quebec and Montreal. Instead he went to Quebec, where he shouted the phrase encouraging French extremists, and to Montreal.

After Pearson denounced the visitors language as "inacceptable" - about the strongest word diplomats used - De Gaulle packed his bags and flew home without visiting Ottawa or conferring with Pearson.

While in Canada De Gaulle heaped abuse on the United States.

Neither the United States nor Canada deserve any guff from France.

Twice they have helped save the nation's life in world wars.

France has defaulted on its obligations to this country and today De Gaulle, an egomaniac with delusions both of the grandeur of De Gaulle and of France, never misses a chance to abuse this country.

Pearson was correct in challenging De Gaulle for a typical exhibition of poor taste and bad manners.

He should have kicked him out of Canada before the meddling old man had the opportunity to leave voluntarily.

THE BAR IN HONOLULU

The American Bar Association's 90th annual meeting, beginning in Honolulu on Tuesday, Aug. 1, offers an agenda as topical as the day's headlines. Urban crime, abortion and wiretapping figure prominently in reports, discussion and debate scheduled by 21 sections of the 250,000-member association and its policy-making House of Delegates.

Some 12,000 lawyers, judges, law professors and their families are expected to attend the 10-day work-and-play convention in which relaxation on Waikiki Beach will compete with learned seminars. Floor debate is anticipated when the House of Delegates is asked to endorse bills pending in the U.S. Senate (S 989 and S 1318) to provide jury selection in federal and state courts without regard to race or other discriminating considerations.

Another troublesome issue, that of protecting a criminal defendant from harmful publicity, will be reviewed by two separate bar groups at the convention. They will hear the so-called Reardon Report which recommends some withholding of crime news by police and court officers to insure a fair trial. These proposals have been roundly attacked by the press as unnecessary and unconstitutional. The present prospect is that they will be modified somewhat at Honolulu and then sent to the House of Delegates for approval when it meets in Chicago next February.

CHARGE IT, PLEASE

Starting on Tuesday, Aug. 1 somebody with a good credit rating will be able to charge almost anything, almost everywhere. On that date the First National City Bank of New York will issue its "Everything Card" - a credit card that will allow the holder, the bank says, to charge anything from an accordion to a zipper.

The American businessman and the American tourist have long been wedded to their credit cards. The original oil company cards, which were first good only for gas, oil, and perhaps tires, are now honored in motels and lots of other places. The big "T & E" card and he's likely to invite you to open your own account with the establishment. The reason? The big all-purpose clubs charge a minimum of 7 per cent for service to the man who's extending the credit - and they make him wait 45 days for his money.

The "T & E" cards cost their holders $10 to $12 a year in membership dues. The New York bank card, launched with a big advertising campaign, will be offered free of charge, so long as the bill is paid in full within 25 days. If the holder needs cash he can get an instant loan at any branch bank. The system starts out with charge privileges at 30,000 establishments in New York City and Nassau and Westchester counties. The bank says you can charge "almost everything you can see, touch, taste, or feel."

NEW YORK (AP) — Time is a strange thing.

Today is today. But what was today yesterday? It was tomorrow. And what will today be tomorrow? It will be yesterday. So every day has three identities— yesterday, today and tomorrow.

By the miracle of memory all our yesterdays again become momentary todays; bygone scenes, sounds and scents come alive again to twinge us anew with wonder or regret.

You've got a pretty good collection of yesterdays in your memory gallery if you can look back and remember when—

TRAVEL TIME TIPS: There's no safer place to pack small breakable things -- like jewelry, travel clock, pill bottles, etc. -- than in your extra shoes, padded by socks. . . . If you carry liquid or lotion in plastic squeeze-bottles, slightly squeeze the sides of the bottle as you put on the cap to form a suction -- and make it leakproof . . . Remove cardboards from fresh shirts before packing them. Rigid articles take up too much space.

An operative of the CIA, tired of his job, quit and applied for a post with a New York advertising agency. The job application blank included the question, "What qualifications do you have?" Whimsically he wrote: "Spying, arson, burglary, kidnapping, etc." Strangely enough he got the job. A year or so later he came across his personnel folder. On his job application form a top executive had written in red: "This fellow obviously is one of us. Grab him."

H. L. Hunt Says

CONALLY RESERVATION AGAIN

On August 3, 1946, the U.S. Government by treaty accepted the idea of compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice, more commonly known as the World Court. The Senate, in approving the treaty, added an amendment providing that the United States cannot be brought before the World Court unless our government agrees to such action.

This was the Conally Amendment, named for the senator who introduced it, and for 21 years it has exempted from the jurisdiction of the World Court any matter which the United States might regard as internal in nature. Without this protection we might find ourselves facing decisions which would strike at the very heart of our national life. The U.S. has one of the 15 members making up the World Court. That one is selected by the General Assembly of the United Nations and not by any elected official or elected representatives of the American people.

Without the protection of the Conally Reservation the United States would be subject to the whims of a court composed in large part of representatives of nations where the ideal of freedom as enjoyed in our country is unknown. Yet announcements have been recently published that a national organization will start a drive to repeal the Connally Amendment. It is unthinkable that this effort should meet with the approval of the vast majority of the American people.

There are many reasons why the Conally Amendment must be kept in effect. All of them have to do with the security of our nation and the maintenance of freedom. HLH.

Doc. Duncan Says

Gramp, how come they want to change our constitution, State and National?

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON -- Here are some of the causes and cures for our race riots, as expressed by men on the firing line:

NAACP's Roy Wilkins, member of the President's new race panel, a moderate Negro who has been battling for racial understanding probably longer than any man in the USA. Asked at the international platform association forum why Negroes moving north became so much more violent than southern Negroes, he replied:

"The family controls Negro behavior in the south. In the north the Negro finds himself in new surroundings, usually without his family, without his old neighbors, without his church. In Harlem he's just John Smith."

Says Capt. Daniel V. James, retiring commander of the U.S. naval communications center in Washington: "We have been helping to supply fathers for the broken homes of the Washington community through Big Brothers.

"Scores of our men get satisfaction out of being a Big brother to a fatherless boy. We try to advise and guide him, keep him out of trouble. The lack of a father in a broken home is the biggest factor which gets boys off to a bad start."

Says President Lyndon Johnson: "I don't know why some people sit idly by and are willing to take the more expensive route, the jail route, the penitentiary route. . .It takes more of our money to take care of a convict in a penitentiary than it does to prepare a boy to be a good tax-paying citizen who can read and write."

HOW ABOUT SPENDING AT HOME?

Says Dr. Martin Luther King: "If we can spend billions of dollars rebuilding Germany and revitalizing the people of Europe, with more billions of arms for southeast Asia, we can afford to spend a few billions putting our Negro people back on their feet . . .The church has been a taillight rather than a headlight. . . The congress has revealed that it loves rats more than it does people."

Says Mayor Ivan Allen, Jr., of Atlanta, who has maintained the best race relations of any city in the south: "We need a massive housing program costing twenty to thirty billions a year, with the workers for that program enlisted from the unemployed of our Negro ghettos."

Says Dr. Alec Levin, Washington physician: "Enlist a corps of young Negro volunteer policemen, not trained in the use of firearms but trained in leadership. Put them in every city block."

Says comedian Dick Gregory: "Why don't we investigate the minutemen or the white kids rioting at Fort Lauderdale? . . .All the militant were in Newark, and Stokely Carmichael was in Cuba when the Detroit riots started. It's one time riots can't be blamed on him. . . Negroes call Edward Brooke (Negro senator from Massachusetts) the White Knight. He's stronger than dirt. . .When you see these old schools, you can understand why the kids want to burn them down to get new ones. . ."

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

Says Sargent Shriver, head of the antipoverty program: "The only permanent answer to preventing riots is to attack the causes which produce riots. We are trying to provide alternatives to violence."

Says Rep. James Burke, D-Mass.: "Let's fill up those empty seats in ball parks with underprivileged kids at least once a week. If we nurture a healthy interest in sports, it will naturally attract the young to playgrounds and keep them off the streets. . . ten million dollars for two years would provide for about 80 million tickets, an opportunity for 20 million youngsters to see four or five professional games. Why shouldn't more kids today be emulating Joe Foy of the Red Sox instead of watching crime pictures on television?"

Says Rep. James Scheuer, D-N.Y.: "We need a new division in the justice department to study better community relations between the police and the people; tranquilizing pellets which can be used rather than bullets to calm violent mobs. The FBI teaches target practice, not community relations."

Note -- J. Edgar Hoover is opposed to such a division, but a study just prepared by the justice department supports it.

WASHINGTON MERRY - GO - ROUND

Fred Kappel, retired head of the giant American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been spending his time since he retired working for the public. LBJ has appointed him to the President's committee on postal organization, the commission to study executive salaries, and on the emergency board to mediate the railroad dispute . . . Attorney General Ramsey Clark has gone one step further than his father in tangling with the Ku Klux Klan. Tom Clark, when Attorney General under Truman, was the first to put the Ku Klux Klan on the subversive list, along with the communist party. His son Ramsey has now arrested 12 suspects, most of them Klansmen, in connection with the bombing of school board members' homes and other acts of violence to prevent desegregation.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

INSIDE THE RIOTS!
WHY DETROIT?
Self Styled Neo-Revolutionary Cells Operate Tough Guard and Propaganda Units in Big Cities.

DETROIT: -- There's a chunk of Saigon here, especially in the charred, burned-out jungle which federal authorities have told President Johnson is about the size of the city of Pittsburgh.

You can't tell the terrorists from the decent folk without a computerized, centralized intelligence system. And there is none. There are not even specialists. There are only scores of self-styled "revolutionary" leaders and cells.

They have no central network. So there's been no central investigation, federal or local, though the city and the land are filled with revolutionary literature, movies, pamphlets, and "black" paramilitary units. These have broken the hearts as well as the heads of men, Negro and white, who thought they had it made in this showpiece city.

Despite the slums, no metropolis could have been more of a showpiece. This is after all the city of Walter Reuther and his auto union and its interlocking relationships with Wayne State and other Michigan universities.

Such intellectual liberals as Ronald W. Haughton of Wayne State University, long an intimate of Reuther and his colleagues in the United Auto Workers (UAW) high council have had dialogues going here for some ten years. This was the head start city.

Negroes and whites were evenly matched politically. In fact, the Negro leadership privately vetoed the auto union chief's original position on the mayoralty candidacy of Jerome Cavanagh some years ago. The Negroes tipped the political balance for Mayor Cavanagh.

There also is the union's Trade Union Leadership Council (TULC.) Active in it are Horace Sheffield, a UAW staff member, and Buddy Battles of the Ford local leadership. The TULC had the equivalent of a school, replete with classes in office work, business English, and third and fourth echelon office management. There was much "action" in art and music.

The TULC was another head starter. It long has worked with AFL-CIO elder, vice president A. Philip Randolph. It had a broad base. Fully a third of the Chrysler, Ford and General Motors' 600,000 employes are Negroes. Naturally the bulk are in and around Detroit. They are on the same wage scale, same seniority lists, same unemployment guarantees, same industry-paid welfare and hospitalization programs, including all sorts of free service from the optical to the psychiatric.

Why, then -- as President Johnson asked I. W. Abel, head of the United Steelworkers, about 9:30 p.m. Thursday, July 27, in a personal telephon conversation -- Detroit?

No reason, except that there is no relationship between the dialogues, the model programs and the self-styled revolutionists.

The hard core of rioters are a new breed. This kind of warfare doesn't take manpower. It takes tightly knit disciplined cells. They're all over the big eastern cities.

Certainly few of the citizenry, white or Negro, have heard of tough little bands such as the Black Flag Anarchists, the Black Guard of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), the Black United Action Front, the Black Liberation Commission of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP).

These are just a few. But everyone appears to have forgotten that the Progressive Labor Party's vice-chairman Bill Epton was convicted of criminal anarchy after the 1964 Harlem riots. There are others of his colleagues still awaiting trial.

The PLP is Mao-ist -- pure and not so simple. They believe in direct action. Many of their young members -- and virtually all are under 30 -- are good rifle shots. They have a network of Mao-ist, Viet Cong literature. They distribute not only National Liberation Front motion pictures, but films of the Cuban Tri-Continental Conference, especially on the Cuban militia and revolutionary struggles. The PLP offers, and has dispatched, the "fighting films" to "anybody's apartment, the lobby of your building or even on the street." Some of the pictures are from Peking, North Vietnam and Zanzibar.

There is even a publishing house in New York City which issues Robert Williams' "Negroes With Guns." Williams was Castro's favorite "American desk" broadcaster and now is lending his cataclysmic culture to Peking's transmitters.

It doesn't take a national network to set such flying squads rolling towards inflamed cities. The cells roll on their own -- by car, by train, even by air. The neo-revolutionists have money, plenty of it.

If the President and his civil disorders committee seek an answer, they will have to concentrate on the new revolutionists and cage them before the cells coalesce and crush those who want to see the open blue sky as they reach upward -- not the terorists, snipers and clouds of smoke.

Church Group Has Wiener Roast in Dexter

CANALOU -- Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lasters and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cude accompanied a group of junior boys and girls from Canalou Baptist church to Dexter park Sunday afternoon for a wiener roast and birthday party in honor of Pamela Lasters.

Other guests were Angela and Bradley Cude, Mike Boyd, Kenny Lucy, Alan Bowen, Patricia Johnson, Teresa and Rocky Lasters, all of Canalou, and Billy Wayne Harris, Matthews.

Movies were made during the afternoon, and the guests received favors.

Corcovado Christ Symbol Of Faith

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — For a quarter of a century, the Corcovado Christ statue has towered over Rio de Janeiro, its outstretched arms glistening in the sun by day and bathed in light at night.

By design, it is in the shape of a cross, symbolic of the faith of the world's largest Roman Catholic nation.

The name Corcovado comes from the hump-back shape of the mountain on which the statue stands, though religious significance has been attached to the area from earliest history.

The first explorers, for example, called Corcovado the "Pinnacle of Temptation," in reference to the Biblical description of the temptation of Christ.

After five years of construction, the Christ statue was dedicated in 1931. It cost the equivalent of $250,000 with the money raised through donations.

Corcavado stands 2,400 feet above Rio's shimmering white beaches and strikingly blue Guanabara Bay. The statue itself is 120 feet tall and 93 feet wide through the arms. Each arm weighs 80 tons and each hand 8 tons, contributing to the total weight of 1,145 tons.

Inside the chest of the hollow interior, a heart is carved in the reinforced gray concrete, and a 10-story wooden stairway winds up to the head. For annual cleanings, workmen can climb onto the shoulders from openings at the base of the neck.

A crown of thorns is formed by 56 lightning rods encircling the head. Lightning bolts have chipped the shoulders and arms and destroyed part of the right eyebrow.

Corcovado is reached by highway or by a cog railway, the first part of which was constructed in 1873 for Dom Pedro II, a Brazilian emperor.

Theda Gage Pledges Vows With Larry Williams

CHARLESTON - The wedding of Miss Theda Gage to Larry Williams was solemnized Sunday at the Southside Baptist church, with the Rev. Rufus Noisworthy performing the double ring ceremony.

The couple pledged vows beneath an arch entwined with fern, seven branch candelabra and two baskets of white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gage, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Bud" Williams.

Given in marriage by her brother, Warren Gage, the bride wore a street-length dress of white organdy with a square neckline and elbow-length sleeves trimmed with lace bands. Her veil was of white tulle, secured by five rosebuds. She carried white daisies centered with a white orchid.

Mary Lou Gage, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of mint green styled like that of the bride. Her headdress was of green tulle.

Bob Graham served as best man, and the candlelighters and ushers were Edwin Urhahn of Sikeston and Jack Hill of Elmhurst, Ill. Miss Lillian Adams of Sikeston served at the guest register.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe, and the groom's mother chose white crepe. Each had a corsage of white rosebuds.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall, where a three-tiered wedding cake and crystal punch bowl were placed on a green tablecloth overlaid with green net. Mrs. Dale Gage served punch, and Mrs. Warren Gage served cake.

The new Mrs. Williams is a Kelly high school graduate and is employed at Citizens Bank, where she will continue to work. Her husband is a Charleston High School graduate and is engaged in farming and the lime business with his father.

The newlyweds live on East Marshall Street.

BALTIMORE (AP) - Bill Worthington of Yonkers, N.Y., who is 91, was introduced at a lunch in Baltimore for retired persons.

He said he spent much of his time reading and traveling around the country to meetings of the American Association of Retired persons.

The master of ceremonies asked him what he reads, Worhington said he reads the Bible quite a bit, and the master of ceremonies expressed surprise that a man 91 had not read the Bible.

"Oh, I've read it before," said Worthington, "but now I'm cramming for the finals."

Two Classes Planned at Kindergarten

A business meeting was held Tuesday for the mothers of children registered for kindergarten at Murray Lane Baptist church for the coming school year.

Due to an increase in enrollment, there will be two classes this year. A morning class from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and an afternoon class from 12:45 to 3:45 p.m. Mrs. Bryan Buchanan will be the teacher for both classes.

Policies of the kindergarten were discussed followed by a question and answer period at the business meeting.

Opening date is Aug. 28 with a staggered attendance for the first two weeks. School holidays will be the same as those observed by the public schools.

The family-housing area at Castle Air Force Base in California was to be inspected. The directive was explicit: "Trim that shrubbery, mow those lawns, assume that homeowner attitude!"

that desires to look "Ageless"

The woman who is called "ageless" has all the advantages; no one can tell how old she is and no one cares—the "ageless" look is too exciting to evoke petty guessing. And it's not hard to achieve now that we have a way to semi-permanently smooth "catty" facial lines into insignificance. Greaseless, aqueous 2nd Debut applied nightly does it. And as a beauty-bonus it rids your skin of all dryness as long as you use it regularly. Moreover, it "lifts" the tone of the entire complexion to give you credit for youthful freshness and vigor you should reflect even when you don't. Follow up in the morning with a second film of 2nd Debut before make up just to keep the good work of 2nd Debut going for you all through the day too. We have 2nd Debut with CEF600 and with the double potency CEF1200 for the older woman whose skin is somewhat more difficult to smooth than the skin of the woman of 40. Choose according to your age, $3.00 and $5.00.

A SECOND DEBUT FOR MOTHER

2nd Debut
FOR THE LADY WITH EARLY WORRIES

Night and morning applications of 2nd Debut (with CEF600) deep, deep-moisturize the skin to help smooth your premature age lines. As lines first grow more and more shallow, your skin appears smoother and more youthful-looking. Dryness goes. 2nd Debut (with CEF600), 4 oz. size is $3.00. 2nd Debut (with CEF1200) double potency for the face over 40—or for the impatient lady not accustomed to waiting for anything. 4 oz. size $5.00.

2nd Debut
LIQUID CLEANSER

One quick cleansing with 2nd Debut Liquid Cleanser will astound you! You will agree you have never seen your skin so really clean. Never! It's a rich liquid you spread on your face and neck. Allow it to remain their one minute, then—dowse your skin with cool water. The 2nd Debut Liquid dissolves into the water and takes with it imbedded dirt and residue. See your skin glow with new cleanliness. The 2 oz. bottle is $3.00.

Church Group Has Wiener Roast in Dexter

CANALOU -- Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lasters and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cude accompanied a group of junior boys and girls from Canalou Baptist church to Dexter park Sunday afternoon for a wiener roast and birthday party in honor of Pamela Lasters.

Other guests were Angela and Bradley Cude, Mike Boyd, Kenny Lucy, Alan Bowen, Patricia Johnson, Teresa and Rocky Lasters, all of Canalou, and Billy Wayne Harris, Matthews.

Movies were made during the afternoon, and the guests received favors.

Corcovado Christ Symbol Of Faith

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — For a quarter of a century, the Corcovado Christ statue has towered over Rio de Janeiro, its outstretched arms glistening in the sun by day and bathed in light at night.

By design, it is in the shape of a cross, symbolic of the faith of the world's largest Roman Catholic nation.

The name Corcovado comes from the hump-back shape of the mountain on which the statue stands, though religious significance has been attached to the area from earliest history.

The first explorers, for example, called Corcovado the "Pinnacle of Temptation," in reference to the Biblical description of the temptation of Christ.

After five years of construction, the Christ statue was dedicated in 1931. It cost the equivalent of $250,000 with the money raised through donations.

Corcavado stands 2,400 feet above Rio's shimmering white beaches and strikingly blue Guanabara Bay. The statue itself is 120 feet tall and 93 feet wide through the arms. Each arm weighs 80 tons and each hand 8 tons, contributing to the total weight of 1,145 tons.

Inside the chest of the hollow interior, a heart is carved in the reinforced gray concrete, and a 10-story wooden stairway winds up to the head. For annual cleanings, workmen can climb onto the shoulders from openings at the base of the neck.

A crown of thorns is formed by 56 lightning rods encircling the head. Lightning bolts have chipped the shoulders and arms and destroyed part of the right eyebrow.

Corcovado is reached by highway or by a cog railway, the first part of which was constructed in 1873 for Dom Pedro II, a Brazilian emperor.

Dorothy Franklin

Dorothy Franklin to Wed Willie Earl Ealy Jr.

LILBOURN - Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franklin announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Franklin, and Airman Second Class Willie Earl Ealy, Jr., son of Mrs. Rachel Ealy of Lilbourn.

Miss Franklin is a 1966 graduate of Rust College, Holly Springs, Miss., where she received a bachelor of arts degree in social science. She attended graduate school at Washington University in St. Louis. Airman Ealy is serving with the air force in Vietnam.

A september wedding is planned.

Theda Gage Pledges Vows With Larry Williams

CHARLESTON - The wedding of Miss Theda Gage to Larry Williams was solemnized Sunday at the Southside Baptist church, with the Rev. Rufus Noisworthy performing the double ring ceremony.

The couple pledged vows beneath an arch entwined with fern, seven branch candelabra and two baskets of white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gage, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Bud" Williams.

Given in marriage by her brother, Warren Gage, the bride wore a street-length dress of white organdy with a square neckline and elbow-length sleeves trimmed with lace bands. Her veil was of white tulle, secured by five rosebuds. She carried white daisies centered with a white orchid.

Mary Lou Gage, served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of mint green styled like that of the bride. Her headdress was of green tulle.

Bob Graham served as best man, and the candlelighters and ushers were Edwin Urhahn of Sikeston and Jack Hill of Elmhurst, Ill. Miss Lillian Adams of Sikeston served at the guest register.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe, and the groom's mother chose white crepe. Each had a corsage of white rosebuds.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall, where a three-tiered wedding cake and crystal punch bowl were placed on a green tablecloth overlaid with green net. Mrs. Dale Gage served punch, and Mrs. Warren Gage served cake.

The new Mrs. Williams is a Kelly high school graduate and is employed at Citizens Bank, where she will continue to work. Her husband is a Charleston High School graduate and is engaged in farming and the lime business with his father.

The newlyweds live on East Marshall Street.

Miss Harriet LaRue of Dexter and Mrs. James Harness of Advance have been dismissed from Southeast Missouri hospital.

that desires to look "Ageless"

The woman who is called "ageless" has all the advantages; no one can tell how old she is and no one cares—the "ageless" look is too exciting to evoke petty guessing. And it's not hard to achieve now that we have a way to semi-permanently smooth "catty" facial lines into insignificance. Greaseless, aqueous 2nd Debut applied nightly does it. And as a beauty-bonus it rids your skin of all dryness as long as you use it regularly. Moreover, it "lifts" the tone of the entire complexion to give you credit for youthful freshness and vigor you should reflect even when you don't. Follow up in the morning with a second film of 2nd Debut before make up just to keep the good work of 2nd Debut going for you all through the day too. We have 2nd Debut with CEF600 and with the double potency CEF1200 for the older woman whose skin is somewhat more difficult to smooth than the skin of the woman of 40. Choose according to your age, $3.00 and $5.00.

2nd Debut WITH CEF 600
A SECOND DEBUT FOR MOTHER

Night and morning applications of 2nd Debut (with CEF600) deep, deep-moisturize the skin to help smooth your premature age lines. As lines first grow more and more shallow, your skin appears smoother and more youthful-looking. Dryness goes. 2nd Debut (with CEF600), 4 oz. size is $3.00. 2nd Debut (with CEF1200) double potency for the face over 40—or for the impatient lady not accustomed to waiting for anything. 4 oz. size $5.00.

2nd Debut LIQUID CLEANSER

One quick cleansing with 2nd Debut Liquid Cleanser will astound you! You will agree you have never seen your skin so really clean. Never! It's a rich liquid you spread on your face and neck. Allow it to remain their one minute, then—dowse your skin with cool water. The 2nd Debut Liquid dissolves into the water and takes with it imbedded dirt and residue. See your skin glow with new cleanliness. The 2 oz. bottle is $3.00.

Rodeo Gets Underway Thursday

Offering an expected $7,000 in purse money and entry fees to competing cowboys, the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo gets underway Thursday night, continuing through Sunday afternoon.

Last year's arena action logged 37 big-hatted entries riding and roping for a rich prize money payoff of $6,945 up for grabs in the sport's five main arena events.

Calf roping competition saw a Missouri roper noose the lion's share of the payoff. Young Bobby Goodspeed, from High Ridge, bested 16 of the game's top lariat artists to win the average and $582.

Rodeo buffs will see some of pro rodeo's toughest cowboys pit their abilities gainst the broncs and Brahma bulls owned by Kinney Bros. of Sulphur, La., from whose ranks come such equine stars as National Finals nominess Long John, Little Stranger, Golden Glow, Angel Sings, and Hammerhead. Kinney bulls are among the hardest to ride in professional rodeo, listing NFR renegades #18, #113, #9 and #01. During the 1966 Finals, Kinney Bros. had seven bulls nominated for the arena competition -- the highest number pledged by any one rodeo stock contractor.

Prize money won at Sikeston will be credited to the individual cowboy's standings in the race for '67's national rodeo crowns. These championships, carrying $24,000 in award money, go to the top money winner in each event at the end of the rodeo season, which is climaxed by the sport's "world series" the NFR.

As one of the more than 500 such rodeos approved annually by the professional Rodeo Bowboys Association -- 524 were held in 1966 with prize money payoff of $3,452,544 -- competition in the Sikeston arena is conducted under nationally recognized rules.

Rodeo's high money winner for '66 was the Brooks, Ore., riding ace, 23-year-old Larry Mahan, who earned $40,358 and the coveted All-Around cowboy championship in his three riding events. Mahan is the fourth man in rodeo's history to top the $40,000 in a single season.

Arena entries close ag 6 p.m. Wednesday, according to James Cox, rodeo committeeman.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A new tournament, the $125,000 Kaiser International Open, was added Thursday to the 1968 professional golf schedule and will be played Jan. 18-20 at the Silverado Country Club.

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Michael Kreis of Beverly Hills, Calif., upset sixth-seeded Brian Gottfried of Cape Coral, Fla., 7-5, 6-1 Thursday in the fourth round of the 16-and-under category of the National Junior Boys championships.

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP)— Patty Reese of St. Petersburg, Fla., gained the finals of the National Girls 16-and-under tournament Thursday with an 8-6, 6-2 victory over third seeded Connie Capozzi of Middletown, Ohio.

Hearnes Will Present Trophies At Charleston

CHARLESTON -- Three games are slated today in the first annual Charleston Little League baseball tournament. Gov. Warren E. Hearnes will present trophies at the conclusion.

Only one game was played last night. Cairo moved into the championship bracket with a 7-1 victory over Benton.

The second game, pitting Sikeston's All-Stars against Charleston was postponed until 7 p.m. tonight.

Benton will meet the loser of the Sikeston-Charleston game at 8:30 p.m. and Cairo will take on the winner at 10 p.m.

The winners had six hits. Six players shared the hitting with Brinkmeyer collecting the games only extra base hit, a double. Rick Urhahn collected two of Benton's five hits to lead his team's effort. Wade was the loser.

Battle Begins Tonight

Pine Bluff's Connie Mack Arkansas state champions arrived in Sikeston today in hopes of sweeping the best of three game series with the Potlatch Foresters, Missouri state winner.

Rain Puts Damper On 12th Invitational

Sikeston's Aces clipped New Madrid 8-3 in the only game played at Puckett field last night in the 12th annual nine and ten-year-old invitational baseball tournament.

Two other games were rained out and are tentatively set for tonight.

Ilmo-Scott City and Richland got in one half inning of play before rain stopped the game and will resume action at 7 p.m. tonight.

Sikeston's All Stars and Charleston will play their game at 8:30 p.m. The rest of the schedule will be played on a day by day basis to be announced by Don Miller, Sikeston Little League commissioner.

The Aces put down a stubborn New Madrid team on a one-hit pitching performance by Rus Wissman. The Aces scored a run in the first and added two in the fourth and five in the fifth for their victory.

New Madrid pushed across a run in the second to tie the score and added its final runs in the bottom of the fifth after the Aces pulled into an 8-2 lead.

Ronnie Standridge collected two of the Aces' five hits, banging out singles while teammates, Dewayne Self and Wissman, connected on a triple and double respectively.

Randy Davis collected the only New Madrid hit in the third inning. Robert Fowler, Graig Hunter and Jim Hayes scored New Madrid's runs.

Ruth Stars At Bluff Tonight

POPLAR BLUFF -- Dexter showered Poplar Bluff in the opening game of the Poplar Bluff invitational baseball tournament last night, 7-4. Sikeston's game with Fredericktown was postponed due to rain and will be played today at 5:30 p.m.

A Sikeston win would move them into the tournament championship fight that is set for 9 p.m. tonight. A loss would put them in the consolation bracket and a 7:30 p.m. game tonight.

College All-Stars Tackle Packers

CHICAGO (AP) — One of the most talented College All-Star squads in history takes on the Green Bay Packers tonight in the 34th annual midsummer football classic.

The Packers, champions of all professional football, have been installed two-touchdown favorites in the Soldier Field showdown which will be televised nationally.

An expected crowd of more than 60,000 will watch the Packers operate for the first time in years without the services of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, their great running backs.

Hornung has retired, and Taylor played out his option and is now a member of the New Orleans Saints. They'll be replaced by Elijah Pitts and Donny Anderson while steady Bart Starr will be directing the team from the vital quarterback slot.

The Packers, who captured the National Football League title and then went on to win the Super Bowl by defeating American League champion Kansas City, will have the same defense which stifled the collegians last year.

Attempting to crack the Packer defenses will be either Steve Spurrier of Florida or Bob Griese of Purdue, two of the finest passers in the collegiate ranks last season.

Coach Johnny Sauer will wait to the last minute to decide on which of the two will start. Once he has made his choice, Sauer insists he will play the hot hand.

If neither is able to make the talented Stars go, Sauer might shift to Houston's Bo Burris who has been working out as a defensive back.

The All-Stars are loaded with talented receivers including the likes of Jack Clancy of Michigan, flanker Rod Sherman of Southern California, Gene Washington of Michigan State and Dave Williams of Washington who caught a couple of bombs in last week's 23-22 scrimmage loss to the Chicago Bears.

Running backs include Mel Farr of UCLA, Nick Eddy of Notre Dame, Clint Jones of Michigan State, Floyd Little of Syracuse and Ray McDonald of Idaho.

However, the All-Stars are most impressive on defense headed by gigantic Bubba Smith of Michigan State.

Their objective will be to get Starr before the complex Green Bay pass patterns begin to unfold.

The men up front will be backed by some of the finest linebackers ever to grace an All-Star roster. There's George Webster of Michigan State, Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff of Tennessee.

The defensive secondary will include Phil Clark of Northwestern, Bob Grim of Oregon State, Rich Volk of Michigan and Henry King of Utah State.

The pros lead the series 22-9-2 and the Packers last year swamped the Stars 38-0 to avenge a 20-17 loss in 1963, the last time the All-Stars tasted victory in the series.

Tourney Opens Sunday

The Sikeston Invitational Little League baseball tournament will open Sunday for a one week stand at Puckett field, south of the high school. Eighteen teams from Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois are entered.

The teams are Morley, Richland, Matthews, Ilmo-Scott City, Portageville, Sikeston All-Stars, New Madrid, Oran, Dexter, Chaffee, Charleston, Lilbourn, Morehouse, Sikeston American league Aces, Bloomfield, Bertrand, Cairo, Ill. and the Sikeston Aces of the National League.

Two games are slated for Sunday afternoon with three scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thurdsay nights. Finals are set for Saturday night.

Trophies will be awarded to the top four teams. Two outstanding player awards will be made.

Sunday's tournament opener will find the Cairo All-Stars going against the Sikeston Aces at 2 p.m. and followed by a 4 p.m. contest that will put Bertrand against Bloomfield.

Rodeo Gets Underway Thursday

Offering an expected $7,000 in purse money and entry fees to competing cowboys, the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo gets underway Thursday night, continuing through Sunday afternoon.

Last year's arena action logged 37 big-hatted entries riding and roping for a rich prize money payoff of $6,945 up for grabs in the sport's five main arena events.

Calf roping competition saw a Missouri roper noose the lion's share of the payoff. Young Bobby Goodspeed, from High Ridge, bested 16 of the game's top lariat artists to win the average and $582.

Rodeo buffs will see some of pro rodeo's toughest cowboys pit their abilities gainst the broncs and Brahma bulls owned by Kinney Bros. of Sulphur, La., from whose ranks come such equine stars as National Finals nominess Long John, Little Stranger, Golden Glow, Angel Sings, and Hammerhead. Kinney bulls are among the hardest to ride in professional rodeo, listing NFR renegades #18, #113, #9 and #01. During the 1966 Finals, Kinney Bros. had seven bulls nominated for the arena competition -- the highest number pledged by any one rodeo stock contractor.

Prize money won at Sikeston will be credited to the individual cowboy's standings in the race for '67's national rodeo crowns. These championships, carrying $24,000 in award money, go to the top money winner in each event at the end of the rodeo season, which is climaxed by the sport's "world series" the NFR.

As one of the more than 500 such rodeos approved annually by the professional Rodeo Bowboys Association -- 524 were held in 1966 with prize money payoff of $3,452,544 -- competition in the Sikeston arena is conducted under nationally recognized rules.

Rodeo's high money winner for '66 was the Brooks, Ore., riding ace, 23-year-old Larry Mahan, who earned $40,358 and the coveted All-Around cowboy championship in his three riding events. Mahan is the fourth man in rodeo's history to top the $40,000 in a single season.

Arena entries close ag 6 p.m. Wednesday, according to James Cox, rodeo committeeman.

Hearnes Will Present Trophies At Charleston

CHARLESTON -- Three games are slated today in the first annual Charleston Little League baseball tournament. Gov. Warren E. Hearnes will present trophies at the conclusion.

Only one game was played last night. Cairo moved into the championship bracket with a 7-1 victory over Benton.

The second game, pitting Sikeston's All-Stars against Charleston was postponed until 7 p.m. tonight.

Benton will meet the loser of the Sikeston-Charleston game at 8:30 p.m. and Cairo will take on the winner at 10 p.m.

The winners had six hits. Six players shared the hitting with Brinkmeyer collecting the games only extra base hit, a double. Rick Urhahn collected two of Benton's five hits to lead his team's effort. Wade was the loser.

Battle Begins Tonight

Pine Bluff's Connie Mack Arkansas state champions arrived in Sikeston today in hopes of sweeping the best of three game series with the Potlatch Foresters, Missouri state winner.

Rain Puts Damper On 12th Invitational

Sikeston's Aces clipped New Madrid 8-3 in the only game played at Puckett field last night in the 12th annual nine and ten-year-old invitational baseball tournament.

Two other games were rained out and are tentatively set for tonight.

Ilmo-Scott City and Richland got in one half inning of play before rain stopped the game and will resume action at 7 p.m. tonight.

Sikeston's All Stars and Charleston will play their game at 8:30 p.m. The rest of the schedule will be played on a day by day basis to be announced by Don Miller, Sikeston Little League commissioner.

The Aces put down a stubborn New Madrid team on a one-hit pitching performance by Rus Wissman. The Aces scored a run in the first and added two in the fourth and five in the fifth for their victory.

New Madrid pushed across a run in the second to tie the score and added its final runs in the bottom of the fifth after the Aces pulled into an 8-2 lead.

Ronnie Standridge collected two of the Aces' five hits, banging out singles while teammates, Dewayne Self and Wissman, connected on a triple and double respectively.

Randy Davis collected the only New Madrid hit in the third inning. Robert Fowler, Graig Hunter and Jim Hayes scored New Madrid's runs.

Ruth Stars At Bluff Tonight

POPLAR BLUFF -- Dexter showered Poplar Bluff in the opening game of the Poplar Bluff invitational baseball tournament last night, 7-4. Sikeston's game with Fredericktown was postponed due to rain and will be played today at 5:30 p.m.

A Sikeston win would move them into the tournament championship fight that is set for 9 p.m. tonight. A loss would put them in the consolation bracket and a 7:30 p.m. game tonight.

College All-Stars Tackle Packers

CHICAGO (AP) — One of the most talented College All-Star squads in history takes on the Green Bay Packers tonight in the 34th annual midsummer football classic.

The Packers, champions of all professional football, have been installed two-touchdown favorites in the Soldier Field showdown which will be televised nationally.

An expected crowd of more than 60,000 will watch the Packers operate for the first time in years without the services of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, their great running backs.

Hornung has retired, and Taylor played out his option and is now a member of the New Orleans Saints. They'll be replaced by Elijah Pitts and Donny Anderson while steady Bart Starr will be directing the team from the vital quarterback slot.

The Packers, who captured the National Football League title and then went on to win the Super Bowl by defeating American League champion Kansas City, will have the same defense which stifled the collegians last year.

Attempting to crack the Packer defenses will be either Steve Spurrier of Florida or Bob Griese of Purdue, two of the finest passers in the collegiate ranks last season.

Coach Johnny Sauer will wait to the last minute to decide on which of the two will start. Once he has made his choice, Sauer insists he will play the hot hand.

If neither is able to make the talented Stars go, Sauer might shift to Houston's Bo Burris who has been working out as a defensive back.

The All-Stars are loaded with talented receivers including the likes of Jack Clancy of Michigan, flanker Rod Sherman of Southern California, Gene Washington of Michigan State and Dave Williams of Washington who caught a couple of bombs in last week's 23-22 scrimmage loss to the Chicago Bears.

Running backs include Mel Farr of UCLA, Nick Eddy of Notre Dame, Clint Jones of Michigan State, Floyd Little of Syracuse and Ray McDonald of Idaho.

However, the All-Stars are most impressive on defense headed by gigantic Bubba Smith of Michigan State.

Their objective will be to get Starr before the complex Green Bay pass patterns begin to unfold.

The men up front will be backed by some of the finest linebackers ever to grace an All-Star roster. There's George Webster of Michigan State, Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff of Tennessee.

The defensive secondary will include Phil Clark of Northwestern, Bob Grim of Oregon State, Rich Volk of Michigan and Henry King of Utah State.

The pros lead the series 22-9-2 and the Packers last year swamped the Stars 38-0 to avenge a 20-17 loss in 1963, the last time the All-Stars tasted victory in the series.

Tourney Opens Sunday

The Sikeston Invitational Little League baseball tournament will open Sunday for a one week stand at Puckett field, south of the high school. Eighteen teams from Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois are entered.

The teams are Morley, Richland, Matthews, Ilmo-Scott City, Portageville, Sikeston All-Stars, New Madrid, Oran, Dexter, Chaffee, Charleston, Lilbourn, Morehouse, Sikeston American league Aces, Bloomfield, Bertrand, Cairo, Ill. and the Sikeston Aces of the National League.

Two games are slated for Sunday afternoon with three scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Finals are set for Saturday night.

Trophies will be awarded to the top four teams. Two outstanding player awards will be made.

Sunday's tournament opener will find the Cairo All-Stars going against the Sikeston Aces at 2 p.m. and followed by a 4 p.m. contest that will put Bertrand against Bloomfield.

Poverty Present, Cotton Important But Politics King in Bootheel

By John T. Dauner
in the Kansas City Times

PORTAGEVILLE -- From Kansas City, Washington and elsewhere last week came 14 federal investigators to evaluate the troubled antipoverty program in this Bootheel area, where cotton is important but politics is king.

What the Office of Economic Opportunity team found was a fascinating, if somewhat baffling, political struggle that for a year has threatened to tear to shreds the largest rural poverty program in the Middle West.

On the surface, it appears to be a battle over how and by whom the Delta Area Economic Opportunity corporation -- operator of the 1.6-million-dollar a year program in the six Bootheel counties -- would be run.

But beneath, the contenders charge, it is an attempt to establish political control of the Bootheel area, the southeast part of Missouri.

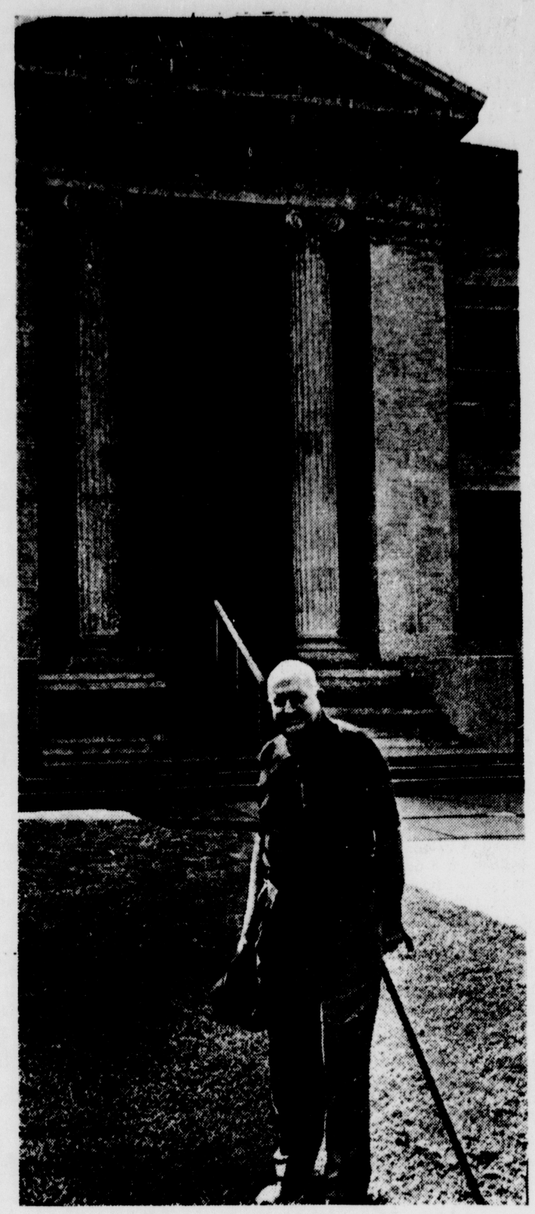
The charges and counter charges swirl around the corpulent and colorful person of J.V. Conran, lawyer, builder, leader of the Democratic political machine that bears his name and boss of New Madrid County. The other major characters in the political drama include Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and Don Thomason of Kansas City, regional OEO director - both Hearnes and Thomason are natives of the Bootheel - and Sen. Edward V. Long.

The Bootheel is rural in nature and Southern in attitude. Cotton is the main cash crop -- it is one of the two best cotton-producing areas in the country -- and the backbone of the economy. Cotton is augmented by soybeans, corn and some light industry.

Cotton is a crop that takes a great deal of care. Until a few years ago that meant employment for many field hands -- men, women and children who from late spring to early fall hoed and picked the cotton. But recently cotton farming has become entirely mechanized.

Now there are no jobs for these most of whom are functionally illiterate and unskilled in anything but field work.

The Bootheel breaks down neatly into two areas by population and income. Pemiscot, New Madrid and Mississippi Counties, stacked one on top of the other along the Mississippi river, have nonwhite populations of more than 20 percent, are among the lowest median family income areas in the state, rank high in the state for the percentage of elderly and welfare recipients and are first, second and third in the state for draft rejections and adults with fewer than five years schooling.



THE POLITICAL BOSS of New Madrid County, J. V. Conran, leans on his black hickory cane outside the courthouse where, as prosecutor from 1930 to 1962, he built the political machine that bears his name. He still maintains regular office hours from early afternoon to almost 5 a.m. in the morning.

The next tier of counties to the east is Dunklin, Stoddard and Scott. These counties have nonwhite populations of less than 10 per cent and are slightly better off in the other categories.

Shortly after the economic opportunity act was signed into law, the Bootheel counties, acting individually, quickly formed nonprofit corporations and began their programs -- mostly Head Start programs for preschool children.

But early in 1965, the OEO which wanted the area administered as one unit, requested the six counties to form a single corporation. To comply, the Delta Area Economic Opportunity corporation, D.A.E.O.C. as it is known, was formed in April, 1965. It has 24 directors, four from each county poverty board. The 24 - member county boards, in turn, are composed of 12 representatives of the poor, elected by organizations formed around the four neighborhood service centers in each country and 12 nonpoor persons chosen by the 12 elected members.

The poverty program, many seemed to think got off to a good start in the Bootheel. From the neighborhood service centers, aides combed the country side to locate the poor and to determine their needs. Head Start was popular immediately. Programs were instituted to help senior citizens and to teach homemaking with emphasis on the use of commodity foods. A clothing renovation and distributing program was started and the neighborhood youth corps was formed.

Adult basic education programs got under way. And, most important, service center directors said, an intensive referral service was started to direct those in need to existing welfare agencies.

While it may have appeared that the war on Bootheel poverty was moving satisfactorily, wiser and more informed persons in the six counties realized by late last summer that it was not.

Enter J. V. Conran.

A native of New Madrid County, Conran was swept into the New Madrid County prosecutor's office in 1930 -- after two earlier defeats by Republicans.

"I was beat twice," Conran says looking back on a basic lesson of politics in a county where there is no voter registration, "because of the election board. You've got to keep those damn crooks off the election board."

From the prosecutor's office in the New Madrid County courthouse, Conran built a political machine which, observers, say, completely controls New Madrid County and has influence, though not domination, in the rest of the Bootheel except Dunklin County.

He used many of the same techniques practiced by big city bosses -- patronage, influence of office and a sense of responsibility for "his" people. If a family is hungry, he sees they get food. If a Head Start classroom needs an air-conditioner, he gets one. Last week, he deeded over to the county four acres on which retired persons can build low-price FHA financed houses. He intends to give another 25 acres when it is needed.

In return, Conran expects votes --and he gets them.

Today, at 67, Conran still occupies his small, high ceiling courthouse office, which was made available to him when he retired as prosecutor in 1962 - to be replaced by Hal Hunter, jr., a protege.

Bald except for a fringe of white hair, missing most of his teeth, his hulking body wracked by illness and twisted by arthritis until he must walk with a cane, Conran still keeps "regular office hours" except during the winter, which he spends in Florida.

He gets up at noon and arrives at the office between 2 and 3 o'clock. There he stays, except for occasional visits to friends and political allies, until almost 5 o'clock in the morning, when he goes home to bed.

Conran considers himself semiretired. His large land holdings are rented. He owns but does not run the bank in Portageville -- where all OEO funds are deposited until dispersed to various programs. Both the head of the bank, R. L. Saalwaechter, and Hunter are members of the D.A.E.O.C. board of directors and the other two members from New Madrid County, a Negro and a white farmer, are Conran men.

"I am still available to practice law -- if the case interests me and it pays a lot," Conran said. "I want to devote my time to reading and advising officials of this and surrounding counties."

Conran, whose organization was instrumental in initiating the poverty program in New Madrid County, had been dissatisfied with the program from the start.

"I thought that too much was spent on administration," he said. "I still do. And they have set their standards so high that only the school teachers can qualify. They scare away a lot of qualified low - income people who should be holding down $6,000 to $12,000-a-year jobs by requiring master's degrees or bachelor's degrees."

Heightening his supicions of the program was the appointment of Don Thomason, a bitter political enemy, as regional OEO director -- with the approval of Senators Symington and Long.

Conran, a close political ally of Governor Hearnes and one of the first men Hearnes visited when he decided to make the race for governor -- saw Thomason as a direct political threat.

Thomason, a Dunklin County cotton-ginner and land owner, had run Hilary Bush's gubernatorial campaign against Hearnes. Thomason went to Kansas City in 1965 when he was appointed OEO director.

"Thomason wants to take political control of the Bootheel so he can run for statewide office," Conran declares."

"If I wanted to build a political organization," Thomason replies, "I would know the first names of at least 500 of the 600 people who have jobs in that program. As it is, I know only five or six."

Last August, Conran, already a member of the New Madrid poverty board, got himself appointed to the D.A.E.O.C. board of directors -- which by then had come to the realization that the program was in a mess.

The board, Conran found, was operating with only one officer, James Dement, superintendent of schools at Holcomb in Dunklin County.

"They didn't even have a treasurer or a legal set of by-laws," Conran said.

An OEO audit, started last summer, later revealed administrative failure at almost all levels. More than $300,000 in federal funds and $60,000 in local funds could not be properly accounted for -- though there were no charges of misappropriation -- and the program was riddled with nepotism.

The OEO investigators last week were finding nepotism still prevalent.

Conran says of himself and his followers, "We wanted to get rid of the people responsible. Thomason wanted to keep them. So did some of the political leaders over in Dunklin County."

Shortly after Conran joined the D.A.E.O.C. board, it voted to fire Earl Williams, the executive director of the program, but before Conran could move to hire a new executive director, Dement adjourned the meeting and left.

Not to be outmaneuvered, Conran reconvened the session himself with the 15 board members who remained -- a quorum -- and began to transact business.

The board voted to hire a Conran man, Marion West, as the new executive director and Conran pushed through motions to void all transactions of the board since the preceding March 31 to replace Dement as the registered officer by Saalwaechter, the Conran banker, and to make all appointments subject to the approval of the D.A.E.O.C. board.

The next day, at the request of Demend, Thomason voided all of the actions of the reconvened board. But Conran was getting started.

He tried but failed last September to ram through a new set of bylaws - under which the board chairman would be paid a salary and expenses. Not all was lost, however. Conran was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up a new set of bylaws. In the meantime his bank refused to honor the vouchers signed by Lloyd Phillips, a Williams assistant who was appointed acting director.

At that September meeting, there was another incident which played into Conran's hands. Marty Blank, one of a half-dozen VISTA workers assigned to the Bootheel, was instrumental in bringing out 650 acre residents to oppose Conran. He also presented a petition, signed by 1,500 persons, opposing involving the poverty program in politics.

More than 60 additional VISTAs had been requested to work in the Bootheel. But the assignment of VISTAs requires the approval of the governor. The request died on Governor Hearnes's desk, never being approved or disapproved.

"We don't like a bunch of Easterners coming in here telling us how to solve our problems," Hunter said last week when asked why there now were no VISTAs here. Blank is from Philadelphia.

"Conran saw that the poverty program controlled as much patronage as anything since WPA -- which he controlled totally," Stapleton said.

"He got his hooks in. His whole contention was that the funds were being wasted. First he said all you had to do was fire the director and his assistants, which he managed to do. Then he said we must get rid of Thomason, which he is trying to do.

"Conran has blacked the eye of the program so most people don't want anything to do with it.

"Civil rights? There are precious little civil rights practiced in New Madrid County," Stapleton declared. "Why they still refer to colored people as niggers over there."

Stapleton was right. Conran does use the term regularly.

Referring to the low - cost houses that will be built on the land he gave to the county, Conran said: "I told them to put a nigger in one and a white man in the next all down the line so it will be integrated from the start."

If anyone has taken exception to his use of the term, they have not told Conran about it.

Poverty Present, Cotton Important But Politics King in Bootheel

By John T. Dauner
in the Kansas City Times

PORTAGEVILLE -- From Kansas City, Washington and elsewhere last week came 14 federal investigators to evaluate the troubled antipoverty program in this Bootheel area, where cotton is important but politics is king.

What the Office of Economic Opportunity team found was a fascinating, if somewhat baffling, political struggle that for a year has threatened to tear to shreds the largest rural poverty program in the Middle West.

On the surface, it appears to be a battle over how and by whom the Delta Area Economic Opportunity corporation -- operator of the 1.6-million-dollar a year program in the six Bootheel counties -- would be run.

But beneath, the contenders charge, it is an attempt to establish political control of the Bootheel area, the southeast part of Missouri.

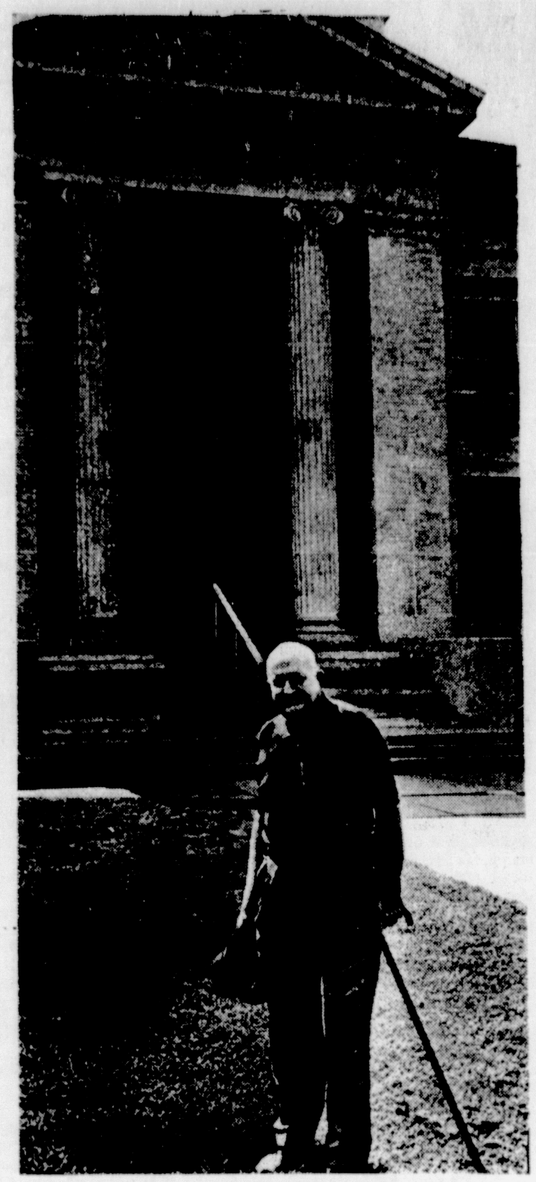
The charges and counter charges swirl around the corpulent and colorful person of J.V. Conran, lawyer, builder, leader of the Democratic political machine that bears his name and boss of New Madrid County. The other major characters in the political drama include Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and Don Thomason of Kansas City, regional OEO director - both Hearnes and Thomason are natives of the Bootheel - and Sen. Edward V. Long.

The Bootheel is rural in nature and Southern in attitude. Cotton is the main cash crop -- it is one of the two best cotton-producing areas in the country -- and the backbone of the economy. Cotton is augmented by soybeans, corn and some light industry.

Cotton is a crop that takes a great deal of care. Until a few years ago that meant employment for many field hands -- men, women and children who from late spring to early fall hoed and picked the cotton. But recently cotton farming has become entirely mechanized.

Now there are no jobs for these most of whom are functionally illiterate and unskilled in anything but field work.

The Bootheel breaks down neatly into two areas by population and income. Pemiscot, New Madrid and Mississippi Counties, stacked one on top of the other along the Mississippi river, have nonwhite populations of more than 20 percent, are among the lowest median family income areas in the state, rank high in the state for the percentage of elderly and welfare recipients and are first, second and third in the state for draft rejections and adults with fewer than five years schooling.



THE POLITICAL BOSS of New Madrid County, J. V. Conran, leans on his black hickory cane outside the courthouse where, as prosecutor from 1930 to 1962, he built the political machine that bears his name. He still maintains regular office hours from early afternoon to almost 5 a.m. in the morning.

The next tier of counties to the east is Dunklin, Stoddard and Scott. These counties have nonwhite populations of less than 10 per cent and are slightly better off in the other categories.

Shortly after the economic opportunity act was signed into law, the Bootheel counties, acting individually, quickly formed nonprofit corporations and began their programs -- mostly Head Start programs for preschool children.

But early in 1965, the OEO which wanted the area administered as one unit, requested the six counties to form a single corporation. To comply, the Delta Area Economic Opportunity corporation, D.A.E.O.C. as it is known, was formed in April, 1965. It has 24 directors, four from each county poverty board. The 24 - member county boards, in turn, are composed of 12 representatives of the poor, elected by organizations formed around the four neighborhood service centers in each country and 12 nonpoor persons chosen by the 12 elected members.

The poverty program, many seemed to think got off to a good start in the Bootheel. From the neighborhood service centers, aides combed the country side to locate the poor and to determine their needs. Head Start was popular immediately. Programs were instituted to help senior citizens and to teach homemaking with emphasis on the use of commodity foods. A clothing renovation and distributing program was started and the neighborhood youth corps was formed.

Adult basic education programs got under way. And, most important, service center directors said, an intensive referral service was started to direct those in need to existing welfare agencies.

While it may have appeared that the war on Bootheel poverty was moving satisfactorily, wiser and more informed persons in the six counties realized by late last summer that it was not.

Enter J. V. Conran.

A native of New Madrid County, Conran was swept into the New Madrid County prosecutor's office in 1930 -- after two earlier defeats by Republicans.

"I was beat twice," Conran says looking back on a basic lesson of politics in a county where there is no voter registration, "because of the election board. You've got to keep those damn crooks off the election board."

From the prosecutor's office in the New Madrid County courthouse, Conran built a political machine which, observers, say, completely controls New Madrid County and has influence, though not domination, in the rest of the Bootheel except Dunklin County.

He used many of the same techniques practiced by big city bosses -- patronage, influence of office and a sense of responsibility for "his" people. If a family is hungry, he sees they get food. If a Head Start classroom needs an air-conditioner, he gets one. Last week, he deeded over to the county four acres on which retired persons can build low-price FHA financed houses. He intends to give another 25 acres when it is needed.

In return, Conran expects votes -- and he gets them.

Today, at 67, Conran still occupies his small, high ceiling courthouse office, which was made available to him when he retired as prosecutor in 1962 - to be replaced by Hal Hunter, jr., a protege.

Bald except for a fringe of white hair, missing most of his teeth, his hulking body wracked by illness and twisted by arthritis until he must walk with a cane, Conran still keeps "regular office hours" except during the winter, which he spends in Florida.

He gets up at noon and arrives at the office between 2 and 3 o'clock. There he stays, except for occasional visits to friends and political allies, until almost 5 o'clock in the morning, when he goes home to bed.

Conran considers himself semiretired. His large land holdings are rented. He owns but does not run the bank in Portageville -- where all OEO funds are deposited until dispersed to various programs. Both the head of the bank, R. L. Saalwaechter, and Hunter are members of the D.A.E.O.C. board of directors and the other two members from New Madrid County, a Negro and a white farmer, are Conran men.

"I am still available to practice law -- if the case interests me and it pays a lot," Conran said. "I want to devote my time to reading and advising officials of this and surrounding counties."

Conran, whose organization was instrumental in initiating the poverty program in New Madrid County, had been dissatisfied with the program from the start.

"I thought that too much was spent on administration," he said. "I still do. And they have set their standards so high that only the school teachers can qualify. They scare away a lot of qualified low - income people who should be holding down $6,000 to $12,000-a-year jobs by requiring master's degrees or bachelor's degrees."

Heightening his supicions of the program was the appointment of Don Thomason, a bitter political enemy, as regional OEO director -- with the approval of Senators Symington and Long.

Conran, a close political ally of Governor Hearnes and one of the first men Hearnes visited when he decided to make the race for governor -- saw Thomason as a direct political threat.

Thomason, a Dunklin County cotton-ginner and land owner, had run Hilary Bush's gubernatorial campaign against Hearnes. Thomason went to Kansas City in 1965 when he was appointed OEO director.

"Thomason wants to take political control of the Bootheel so he can run for statewide office," Conran declares."

"If I wanted to build a political organization," Thomason replies, "I would know the first names of at least 500 of the 600 people who have jobs in that program. As it is, I know only five or six."

Last August, Conran, already a member of the New Madrid poverty board, got himself appointed to the D.A.E.O.C. board of directors -- which by then had come to the realization that the program was in a mess.

The board, Conran found, was operating with only one officer, James Dement, superintendent of schools at Holcomb in Dunklin County.

"They didn't even have a treasurer or a legal set of by-laws," Conran said.

An OEO audit, started last summer, later revealed administrative failure at almost all levels. More than $300,000 in federal funds and $60,000 in local funds could not be properly accounted for -- though there were no charges of misappropriation -- and the program was riddled with nepotism.

The OEO investigators last week were finding nepotism still prevalent.

Conran says of himself and his followers, "We wanted to get rid of the people responsible. Thomason wanted to keep them. So did some of the political leaders over in Dunklin County."

Shortly after Conran joined the D.A.E.O.C. board, it voted to fire Earl Williams, the executive director of the program, but before Conran could move to hire a new executive director, Dement adjourned the meeting and left.

Not to be outmaneuvered, Conran reconvened the session himself with the 15 board members who remained -- a quorum -- and began to transact business.

The board voted to hire a Conran man, Marion West, as the new executive director and Conran pushed through motions to void all transactions of the board since the preceding March 31 to replace Dement as the registered officer by Saalwaechter, the Conran banker, and to make all appointments subject to the approval of the D.A.E.O.C. board.

The next day, at the request of Demend, Thomason voided all of the actions of the reconvened board. But Conran was getting started.

He tried but failed last September to ram through a new set of bylaws - under which the board chairman would be paid a salary and expenses. Not all was lost, however. Conran was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up a new set of bylaws. In the meantime his bank refused to honor the vouchers signed by Lloyd Phillips, a Williams assistant who was appointed acting director.

At that September meeting, there was another incident which played into Conran's hands. Marty Blank, one of a half-dozen VISTA workers assigned to the Bootheel, was instrumental in bringing out 650 acre residents to oppose Conran. He also presented a petition, signed by 1,500 persons, opposing involving the poverty program in politics.

More than 60 additional VISTAs had been requested to work in the Bootheel. But the assignment of VISTAs requires the approval of the governor. The request died on Governor Hearnes's desk, never being approved or disapproved.

"We don't like a bunch of Easterners coming in here telling us how to solve our problems," Hunter said last week when asked why there now were no VISTAs here. Blank is from Philadelphia.

"Conran saw that the poverty program controlled as much patronage as anything since WPA -- which he controlled totally," Stapleton said.

"He got his hooks in. His whole contention was that the funds were being wasted. First he said all you had to do was fire the director and his assistants, which he managed to do. Then he said we must get rid of Thomason, which he is trying to do.

"Conran has blacked the eye of the program so most people don't want anything to do with it.

"Civil rights? There are precious little civil rights practiced in New Madrid County," Stapleton declared. "Why they still refer to colored people as niggers over there."

Stapleton was right. Conran does use the term regularly.

Referring to the low - cost houses that will be built on the land he gave to the county, Conran said: "I told them to put a nigger in one and a white man in the next all down the line so it will be integrated from the start."

If anyone has taken exception to his use of the term, they have not told Conran about it.

BASIC ADULT EDUCATION AND VOCATIONAL training for migrant and seasonal workers, who make up a large segment of Bootheel's unemployed since cotton farming became mechanized, is an important part of the poverty program. This is a classroom run by the Missouri Associated Migrant Opportunity services, which received a $287,000 poverty grant to retrain 200 workers.

Stapleton, like most others in the Bootheel, feels strongly, one way or another, about Conran. It is difficult to find anyone who speak dispassionately about the political boss.

One who does is Mrs. Mary Prentice, a former D.A.E.O.C. board member, who now directs M.A.M.O.S. Missouri Associated Migrant Opportunity Services. M.A.M.O.S. has a $287,000 OEO grant - funded directly from Washington, not through the D.A.E.O.C. board - to give adult education and vocational training to 200 unemployed migrant and seasonal workers. It is pointed to as one of the most effective poverty programs in the Bootheel.

"Mr. Conran has New Madrid County sewed up," Mrs. Prentice said. "Almost no one votes against him on anything.

"Mr. Dement (who is no longer chairman, but still a member of the D.A.E.O.C. board) is an honest man and wanted to do the right thing. But he was used to running a very informal school operation with a school board on which everyone had mutual trust. He tried to do the same thing with D.A.E.O.C.

"When Mr. Conran moved in, it didn't take him a good lawyer, to see what a mess things were in. Being used to running a tight political organization, it was natural that he should move in and take over.

"I think he wanted to run a good efficient program, just like he runs New Madrid County."

From the very start, Mr. Chapman related, D.A.E.O.C. encountered personnel problems. He cited differences between Williams and his assistant Lloyd Phillips, that caused friction. Another controversial assistant was William Graves, Mr. Chapman said.

"No one was particularly strong on Williams, but some feared Conran was trying to pack the organization with his people," Mr. Chapman said.

He and others, both Conran's friends and enemies, said that there had been considerable talk of breaking up D.A.E.O.C. into two 3-county organizations in an effort to stop the bickering. Such talk persists, but there has been no action.

In December, Conran resigned from the D.A.E.O.C. board - to be replaced by Hunter - and went to Florida.

"I thought things were in pretty good shape," Conran said last week. "I told them how to run it right. But when I got back everything was in a mess again."

New Director Hired

That set the stage for the latest blowup in the D.A.E.O.C. organization. A new executive director, William Clare, was hired in the spring and Phillips was moved to director of Head Start.

In May, at the insistence of Conran, who no longer was a member, the D.A.E.O.C. board voted to fire both Phillips and Graves.

"I don't think Conran doubted Phillips's ability," Mr. Chapman said. "I believe he thought Phillips had a direct line to Thomason -- which was not true -- and moved against him accordingly."

Again, Thomason moved in and declared the action illegal and contrary to OEO regulations, which he said, required that Phillips be given a hearing.

Conran demanded that Thomason produce the regulation.

"He never produced one because there is no such regulation," Conran says. "And even if there were, it would be contrary to Missouri law."

Conran cites a section of the Missouri statutes on not-for-profit corporations which permits the board of directors to fire any employee without a hearing.

"Thomason thinks he can sit up there in Kansas City and make any regulation that suits him," Conran growled. "Well, he can't!"

To settle the difficulty the board gave Phillips and Graves a hearing. Then, realizing that the vote might be close, the Conran followers moved that the two men be reinstated, rather than fired -- which the board considered already had been accomplished. The motion lost on a 12-12 tie vote.

Since then, Phillips has joined Lear-Siegler as a consultant on OEO Head Start programs.

"You're damn right I am," Conran says. "I called Senator Long and told him he better get rid of Thomason. If he doesn't, I will eventually."

Warning is Given

Pay Raise For Judges Bill Signed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -- All judges in Missouri from the Supreme Court down to magistrate and probate judges, will get a $4,000 salary increase under a bill signed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

It will raise Supreme Court pay from $22,500 to $26,500.

The governor also signed a bill giving him broad power to reorganize executive agencies. The changes stand unless disapproved later by both houses of the legislature.

Another new law, effective Oct. 13, will allow old age assistance recipients to own property worth $7,500 instead of $6,000 and still be eligible for aid.

The governor vetoed a bill that would have required protection against uninsured motor vehicles. He said that was covered in a bill he signed earlier.

Other bills signed included measures to:

Raise the limit of damages in wrongful death cases from $25,000 to $50,000.

Exempt female telephone operators, canning and packing plant workers and floral employes from the present nine-hour day, 54-week work limitations.

Require public buildings to be constructed with ramps to aid the physically handicapped.

Extend the life of the State Tax Study Commission two years.

Raise the pay of Thomas A. David, revenue director, from $15,000 to $19,000, Tom Gilstrap, collector from $10,000 to $12,000 and John C. Vaughn, comptroller budget director from $15,000 to $20,000.

JOHN D. SLATON

Bad Check Artist Joins FBI List

WASHINGTON -- John D. Slaton, a heavily tattooed bad check artist, currently charged with shooting at police officers to avoid being arrested for forgery, has been added to the FBI's list of 10 Most Wanted Fugitives.

On Oct. 30, 1965, Slaton was being sought on a bad check charge by Oroville, Wash., police. After being located and stopped for questioning, Slaton made a high - speed escape by auto while being escorted to jail. Investigation subsequently led law enforcement officers to a trailer where Slaton and relatives were reputedly camping, As the officers approached the camp, Slaton reportedly removed a rifle from his car and started shooting at them. One of the officers returned the fire, but Slaton was able to escape on foot.

Slaton, who has a long criminal record, was first convicted in 1944 in California on a forgery charge and confined at the Preston School of Industry at Ione, Calif. In November, 1944, while being held for youth authorities, he escaped, but was quickly apprehended. In December, 1944, he was released and inducted into the U. S. Army a month later.

Slaton was tried and convicted by a special court martial on April 25, 1945, for absent without leave and forgery charges and sentenced to six - months' confinement at hard labor and a small fine. Two months later he was released.

In January, 1946, while in the Army, Slaton was arrested and convicted for burglary in a civil court in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and was sentenced to 3 to 5 years at the State Penitentiary in Santa Fe. As a result of this conviction he was discharged from the Army in May, 1947.

In May, 1949, upon conviction for forgery he was sentenced to the State Prison in Huntsville, Texas, for two years.

Following an arrest by the Greenville, Miss., police department on March 6, 1956, on a charge of assault with intent to kill, Slaton was convicted, fined $100 and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

An immigration warrant has been issued for Slaton's arrest based on information received by the Canadian Immigration Department in Vancouver, British Columbia, that he was believed to have entered Canada occasionally in the past and might try to do so again in the future.

Slaton is a white American, who was born in Mitchell County, Texas, on September 28, 1926. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 155 to 170 pounds, has a medium complexion, brown hair and brown eyes. He has a scar on his right cheek, a scar on the right side of his mouth, a mole on the back of his neck, a scar on his right shoulder, a birthmark on the right side of his chest, two vaccination scars on his upper left arm and a scar on his upper left leg.

He bears numerous tattoos, including a cross on his forehead, a woman's head on the left side of his chest, a star, eagle and anchor on his left forearm, a star on the back of his left hand, LOVE on the fingers of his left hand, "13," black cat, "Theda," a heart and scroll on his right forearm, "Jessie" on his right thumb, a cross on the web of his right hand, a cross and "E.P.T." above his right knee, "R" on his lower right leg and "T.P." on the calf of his right leg.

Slaton, who is reportedly left - handed and is said to speak Spanish fluently, has previously been employed as a carpenter, farm worker, gunsmith, laborer, ranch hand and seaman.

Since Slaton reportedly fired a rifle at police officers and possesses an extensive criminal record, he should be considered extremely dangerous.

Any person having information concerning Slaton is requested to immediately notify the nearest office of the FBI, the telephone number of which may be found on the first page of local telephone directories.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Mrs. Alan Rogovin, known to nearly everyone as Suzy, has, through faith, overcome tremendous obstacles.

At the age of 11, Suzy developed a rare neurological condition. First she couldn't use her right hand, then her walk was involved, then loss of speech and control of neck muscles. Bitter, even at 11, she thought God had been unfair. But then her handicap seemed to give her greater insight and at 12 she wrote, with difficulty, an essay titled "What Judaism Means to Me." In it she said, ". . . I began to realize that feeling sorry for myself was not going to do any good, so I began to pray instead of cry. You would be surprised how much difference there was in my condition."

She learned to write poetry and paint well with awkward hands. She rode a bike and horses. Even won ribbons in horse shows. She graduated from public high school and was accepted at Skidmore College although at that time unable to write with either hand.

During her four years at college she had four major surgical operations which did much to improve her condition. After graduating with "meritorious achievement," Suzy had a successful career as an advertising copy writer before becoming Mrs. Alan Rogovin. Soon to become a mother, she will tell you:

"I have a little motto that I always say when I'm a little unsure of myself. . . . If you have faith in God, nothing shall be impossible unto you."

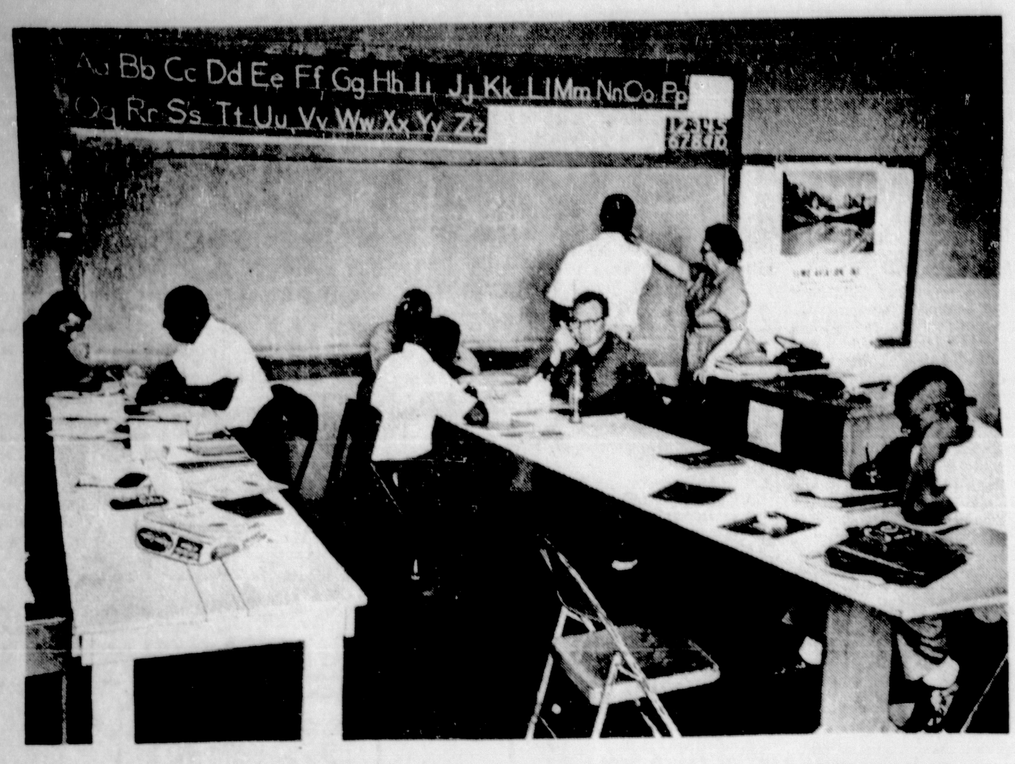
CHURCH MEMBER, WATCH YOUR EXAMPLE



BASIC ADULT EDUCATION AND VOCATIONAL training for migrant and seasonal workers, who make up a large segment of Bootheel's unemployed since cotton farming became mechanized, is an important part of the poverty program. This is a classroom run by the Missouri Associated Migrant Opportunity services, which received a $287,000 poverty grant to retrain 200 workers.

Stapleton, like most others in the Bootheel, feels strongly, one way or another, about Conran. It is difficult to find anyone who speak dispassionately about the political boss.

One who does is Mrs. Mary Prentice, a former D.A.E.O.C. board member, who now directs M.A.M.O.S. Missouri Associated Migrant Opportunity Services. M.A.M.O.S. has a $287,000 OEO grant - funded directly from Washington, not through the D.A.E.O.C. board - to give adult education and vocational training to 200 unemployed migrant and seasonal workers. It is pointed to as one of the most effective poverty programs in the Bootheel.

"Mr. Conran has New Madrid County sewed up," Mrs. Prentice said. "Almost no one votes against him on anything.

"Mr. Dement (who is no longer chairman, but still a member of the D.A.E.O.C. board) is an honest man and wanted to do the right thing. But he was used to running a very informal school operation with a school board on which everyone had mutual trust. He tried to do the same thing with D.A.E.O.C.

"When Mr. Conran moved in, it didn't take him a good lawyer, to see what a mess things were in. Being used to running a tight political organization, it was natural that he should move in and take over.

"I think he wanted to run a good efficient program, just like he runs New Madrid County."

From the very start, Mr. Chapman related, D.A.E.O.C. encountered personnel problems. He cited differences between Williams and his assistant Lloyd Phillips, that caused friction. Another controversial assistant was William Graves, Mr. Chapman said.

"No one was particularly strong on Williams, but some feared Conran was trying to pack the organization with his people," Mr. Chapman said.

He and others, both Conran's friends and enemies, said that there had been considerable talk of breaking up D.A.E.O.C. into two 3-county organizations in an effort to stop the bickering. Such talk persists, but there has been no action.

In December, Conran resigned from the D.A.E.O.C. board - to be replaced by Hunter - and went to Florida.

"I thought things were in pretty good shape," Conran said last week. "I told them how to run it right. But when I got back everything was in a mess again."

New Director Hired

That set the stage for the latest blowup in the D.A.E.O.C. organization. A new executive director, William Clare, was hired in the spring and Phillips was moved to director of Head Start.

In May, at the insistence of Conran, who no longer was a member, the D.A.E.O.C. board voted to fire both Phillips and Graves.

"I don't think Conran doubted Phillips's ability," Mr. Chapman said. "I believe he thought Phillips had a direct line to Thomason -- which was not true -- and moved against him accordingly."

Again, Thomason moved in and declared the action illegal and contrary to OEO regulations, which he said, required that Phillips be given a hearing.

Conran demanded that Thomason produce the regulation.

"He never produced one because there is no such regulation," Conran says. "And even if there were, it would be contrary to Missouri law."

Conran cites a section of the Missouri statutes on not-for-profit corporations which permits the board of directors to fire any employee without a hearing.

"Thomason thinks he can sit up there in Kansas City and make any regulation that suits him," Conran growled. "Well, he can't!"

To settle the difficulty the board gave Phillips and Graves a hearing. Then, realizing that the vote might be close, the Conran followers moved that the two men be reinstated, rather than fired -- which the board considered already had been accomplished. The motion lost on a 12-12 tie vote.

Since then, Phillips has joined Lear-Siegler as a consultant on OEO Head Start programs.

"You're damn right I am," Conran says. "I called Senator Long and told him he better get rid of Thomason. If he doesn't, I will eventually."

Warning is Given

In announcing he was sending in the OEO evaluating team, Thomas made one ominous observation:

"Their report will be the determining factor on whether the Bootheel program is refunded or not."

The evaluation report is expected to be completed in three weeks.

Conran laughed off the possibility that program might be dropped or radically revised.

"You know," he said, "I was very sick last year. Everyone had me for dead. The vultures were circling. But I fooled them.

"I figure the Lord left me here on earth to do some good. I'm going to overturn some apple carts."

Jones' Family Sets Fast Hobby Pace

EAST PRAIRIE -- Keeping up with the Joneses hereabouts requires a lot of interest in hobbies.

Jones, a large landowner, has been a leader in school, church and banking circles and is a chairman of a committee to develop Southeast Missouri recreational areas.

His stamina can be traced back more than 30 years ago when he starred as an atheletic. He was born in the hills of western Cape Girardeau county on Whitewater river near Burfordville.

In his high school days in Jackson, he was named to the all state basketball team and won district honors in football and track.

He continued to make athletic records in colleges, first at Caruthersville Junior College, Arkadelphia (Ark.) Teachers College, Cape State College and at the University of Missouri in Columbia. Jones was the first to establish the two-minute half mile at Columbia, and the first junior college athlete to reach the six- foot mark in the high jump.

He starred as an offensive end in football and was also named to a little all-America college team. An athletic event he will not discuss is leadership of ... igh school basketball team to ...traight victories, including one over the Little Rock national champs, only to lose a state championship to a small Bootheel school.

While teaching at East Prairie he met his wife, the former Miss Gertrude Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, landowner and cotton ginner near East Prairie. He taught at Lutesville, Wyatt and East Prairie.

They were married in 1945, and are the parents of three daughters, Silvey, Mrs. Sam Barker, a senior at Arkansas State University of Jonesboro, Sammie Lea, 17, high school senior, and Carlotta, 16, a junior.

The father, a collector of Indian relics, has one of the largest collections in the nation. Mrs. Jones collects rare cut glass. Sylvia has a collection of rare blue carnival glass, and Sammie Lea, who excels in biology, has a large collection and history of insects and butterflies. Carlotta assists other members of the family with their collection.

The family began with a large tract of land but Jones took advantage of low land prices years ago and has increased the acreage.

Over 20 years he has turned several thousand non - productive acres into productive soil. He expects to land level and irrigate his cleared land in the next decade.

More than 2,000 acres of wooded land are his pride. He says he will let this alone for future generations and maintain as a safeguard against high taxation.

He rents out most of more than 6,000 acres of cleared land for growing cotton, wheat, soybeans and corn.

The family also owns 1,000 acres across the Mississippi river in Kentucky.

It has since been discovered that as many as 700 small villages, with an estimated population of more than 75,000 Indians lived in Mississippi county, from 1,000 - 1,400 A.D.

He encouraged archaeologists to come to the Bootheel, where they uncovered Indian artifacts.

Jones has lent some of his collections to the University of Missouri at Columbia, Mississippi State University, Starkville, Miss., and to the Charleston museum.

The greatest part of his collection is arranged in the basement of his home, where he has hundreds of pieces of pottery, arrow heads, tomahawks and a large clay peace pipe.

The mother has dozens of pieces of cut glass she has collected in 10 years. They are of the American and English cut glass brilliant period, hand made, dating no later than 1905.

Jones is a veteran of World War II. He served in the army in Alaska as well as in the transport service elsewhere.

An honorary colonel on the staff of Gov. Warren Hearnes, he was chosen a member of a state educational conference in 1966, and placed on the state board park as a member to preserve historical sites in Southeast Missouri.

He disclaims political ambitions, but has been called about state legislation. He is credited with playing an important part in land development, and the preservation of the soil fertility in the Bootheel.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL
Office of Health Officer
Scott Co. Health Department
Benton, Missouri

Benton, Missouri

Dear Sirs:

By virtue of the authority of the Health Officer of this county, I have the honor to submit herewith the annual report of the Scott County Health Department for the annual report of the Scott County Health Department for the year 1966.

Respectfully submitted,
Thelma C. Buckthorpe, MD
Scott Co. Health Officer

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Our Thanks To:

1. The Board of Trustees for outstanding cooperation.
2. The County Court which listened to our problems and helped with solutions when it was within their power.
3. The Scott County physicians who helped us in so many ways; especially to Dr. Finney and Dr. Jung who conducted clinics for us each month.
4. The Women's Organizations; the Home Economic Clubs; P.T.A. groups and the Midwifery Training Class which sponsored our clinics, made cancer dressings for our patients; did screening of school children and the one thousand and one other things that made our work easier.
5. All persons whose pictures we filched.
6. Scott County teachers and school nurses whose cooperation made school health work possible.
7. Mrs. Anna Smith, R.N. for her invaluable help with our maternal and midwife training programs.
8. Mrs. Jewell Allen, who ran errands, arranged transportation for numerous patients going to various hospitals, and who did so many other helpful things for us.
9. The midwives for their untiring help at the clinics and at other times when they were needed.
10. All other residents and groups in Scott County who made the Health Department and its work possible.

Tale of Two Nails

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) -- The first nail sent Mr. and Mrs. Douglas P. Johnson to the hospital Wednesday and the second almost kept them from reaching their destination.

They were riding their motorcycle on Interstate 15 when a nail punctured the rear tire and spun the motorcycle out of control.

Minutes later the ambulance rushing the couple to a hospital also picked up a nail in a tire but was able to get to the hospital before the tire went flat.

Utah highway patrolmen said someone apparently spilled some nails in the area.

BABY'S FIRST PHOTOGRAPH

That man keeps popping bulbs and things;
Gesticulating, grinning ---
I have a news-flash, just for him,
His manners are not winning.
Unless he stops soon, I shall scream,
(I take a view so dim
Of all of these shenagians)
And make a face at him!

-- Corinne Hughes

Filming outdoor shots for a Western film, director John Rich had to reshoot one scene seven times because of such extraneous noises as yelping canines and jets flying overhead. A passing woman motorist stopped to watch, and finally interrupted the director to ask, "Why do you persist in shooting the same scene so many times?" Rich answered patiently, "Madam, have you stopped to consider how many theaters there are in this country?"

The lady drove on -- satisfied.

Jones' Family Sets Fast Hobby Pace

EAST PRAIRIE -- Keeping up with the Joneses hereabouts requires a lot of interest in hobbies.

Jones, a large landowner, has been a leader in school, church and banking circles and is a chairman of a committee to develop Southeast Missouri recreational areas.

His stamina can be traced back more than 30 years ago when he starred as an atheletic. He was born in the hills of western Cape Girardeau county on Whitewater river near Burfordville.

In his high school days in Jackson, he was named to the all state basketball team and won district honors in football and track.

He continued to make athletic records in colleges, first at Caruthersville Junior College, Arkadelphia (Ark.) Teachers College, Cape State College and at the University of Missouri in Columbia. Jones was the first to establish the two-minute half mile at Columbia, and the first junior college athlete to reach the six- foot mark in the high jump.

He starred as an offensive end in football and was also named to a little all-America college team. An athletic event he will not discuss is leadership of '' 'igh school basketball team to traight victories, including one over the Little Rock national champs, only to lose a state championship to a small Bootheel school.

While teaching at East Prairie he met his wife, the former Miss Gertrude Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, landowner and cotton ginner near East Prairie. He taught at Lutesville, Wyatt and East Prairie.

They were married in 1945, and are the parents of three daughters, Silvey, Mrs. Sam Barker, a senior at Arkansas State University of Jonesboro, Sammie Lea, 17, high school senior, and Carlotta, 16, a junior.

The father, a collector of Indian relics, has one of the largest collections in the nation. Mrs. Jones collects rare cut glass. Sylvia has a collection of rare blue carnival glass, and Sammie Lea, who excels in biology, has a large collection and history of insects and butterflies. Carlotta assists other members of the family with their collection.

The family began with a large tract of land but Jones took advantage of low land prices years ago and has increased the acreage.

Over 20 years he has turned several thousand non - productive acres into productive soil. He expects to land level and irrigate his cleared land in the next decade.

More than 2,000 acres of wooded land are his pride. He says he will let this alone for future generations and maintain as a safeguard against high taxation.

He rents out most of more than 6,000 acres of cleared land for growing cotton, wheat, soybeans and corn.

The family also owns 1,000 acres across the Mississippi river in Kentucky.

It has since been discovered that as many as 700 small villages, with an estimated population of more than 75,000 Indians lived in Mississippi county, from 1,000 - 1,400 A.D.

At the close of the State's evidence, the defendant's attorney files a Motion For Directed Verdict, which Judge Craig overrules and orders the trial to proceed.

The defendant, through his attorney, then presents his side of the case to the jury and Judge. At it's close, the Pros. Atty. files a Motion For A Directed Verdict, which Judge Craig overrules.

Then the Judge gives his instructions to the jury, listens to the arguments of counsel and turns the matter over to the jury, who, is charge of deputies, retire to jury room, at 2:58 p.m., to consider their verdict.

At 3:32 p.m., the same day, the jury returns to the Courtroom and announces their verdict:

"We the jury find the defendant GUILTY as charged and assess his punishment at a fine of $100.00 and a 6 month jail sentence.

Defendant granted 30 days to file Motion For A New Trial.

Sept. 8, 1967 set for day of sentencing.

Tale of Two Nails

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) -- The first nail sent Mr. and Mrs. Douglas P. Johnson to the hospital Wednesday and the second almost kept them from reaching their destination.

They were riding their motorcycle on Interstate 15 when a nail punctured the rear tire and spun the motorcycle out of control.

Minutes later the ambulance rushing the couple to a hospital also picked up a nail in a tire but was able to get to the hospital before the tire went flat.

Utah highway patrolmen said someone apparently spilled some nails in the area.

BABY'S FIRST PHOTOGRAPH

That man keeps popping bulbs and things;
Gesticulating, grinning --
I have a news-flash, just for him,
His manners are not winning.
Unless he stops soon, I shall scream,
(I take a view so dim
Of all of these shenagians)
And make a face at him!

-- Corinne Hughes

Filming outdoor shots for a Western film, director John Rich had to reshoot one scene seven times because of such extraneous noises as yelping canines and jets flying overhead. A passing woman motorist stopped to watch, and finally interrupted the director to ask, "Why do you persist in shooting the same scene so many times?" Rich answered patiently, "Madam, have you stopped to consider how many theaters there are in this country?"

The lady drove on -- satisfied.

Welfare Payout $204,498 in July

NEW MADRID -- County recipients of assistance from funds disbursed by the County Welfare office for July were paid $204,498.47 with the greatest part of that amount going to those on the list.

John H. Underwood, Sr., director, reported there were 1,515 on the Old Age Assistance rolls and they received $103,057.58 in benefits. Average old age assistance check was $68.02. A total of 539 New Madrid County families with 1,701 children received $56,782 in the aid to dependent children category that being an average of $105.35 per family check.

From general relief funds 203 families of 234 persons received a total of $13,846.00 or an average check of $59.17 per person.

There were 240 persons on the rolls in the permanently and totally disabled field of the welfare service who received an average check of $70.82. The total was $16,999.

Service was given to 70 children and service was completed to 21 children, leaving a caseload of 57. Of these children now being given services, 42 are in the homes of their parents or residing with relatives, 12 are in foster boarding homes and three are in adoptive homes.

Amount spent for room and board, clothing, medicine, dental care and incidentals for the children under Child Welfare Supervision from the County Court was $270.38. Amount expended from state boarding funds was $270.38.

Amount expended under the drug and dental program totaled $6,713.13.

Steel Price Hike in Making

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Big steel threw its weight behind a tinplate price increase Thursday, meeting no immediate government opposition and almost assuring that the rest of the profit-troubled industry will follow suit.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, joined National and Wheeling Steel corporations, in raising the price of tinplate and average of 2.7 per cent. Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranked steel producer, said it was studying the move.

Should Bethlehem and other producers follow, it will be steel's first major price increase since January.

The firm said it would add 3 cents a pound, based on copper content, to the price of its brass mill products, exclusive of rod.

It blamed the action on the higher cost of copper raw materials caused by the current copper strike at its parent firm's mines and at the El Paso refinery.

Last week's first-half earnings statements from the steel industry reflected rising costs and declining sales volumes. U.S. Steel reported first-half profits down 44 per cent, Bethlehem was down 38.1, Republic 37.2 and Inland off 39 per cent.

Cape Annexation Vote on Sept. 5

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) -- The Cape Girardeau City Council has scheduled a special election Sept. 5 on a proposal to annex 10 square miles of territory to the north and west of the city.

Only residents of Cape Girardeau are eligible to vote on the proposal. Residents of the area affected appealed a declaratory judgment in common pleas court that the annexation was reasonable and that municipal services could be provided.

The St. Louis court of appeals, July 18, upheld the judgment. The deadline for further appeal has passed. A simple majority is needed to carry the proposal.

We thank you for helping our Grand Opening a wonderful and delightful affair.

We enjoyed your company and your very gracious remarks on the remodeling of this old home to our new office.

If you were unable to attend, please feel free to stop by at your leisure and see our offices we are so proud of.

(1) REFURBISHED -- an expensive word to describe a delightful, well located and inexpensive 6 room home for only $9,250.00. VA or FHA financing available. Monthly payment of $72 PITI. Vacant and immediate possession of 719 Greer Street.

(2) ADOPT ME!! I am 2 1/2 years old, blond with black eyes in beautiful condition. I have a warm paneled carpeted den with exposed beams, large carpeted living room with wood burning fireplace that is quite homey, my kitchen is large and fully equipped including breakfast space, comfortable dining room off kitchen, and of course, three large bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths to make things real comfortable. I have a finished basement with a reck room and bedroom and large fireplace and utility area with shower, a 2 car garage, patio, central air conditioning and large pretty yard. My payments are ridiculous, but my equity is reasonable, and I am worth every penny. Come see me at 105 Salcedo Road. Middle 30s.

(3) ANXIOUS OWNER - EMPTY HOUSE - OPPORTUNITY -- Finally this is it. Stop searching for that "one in a million" bargain. The owner wants A-C-T-I-O-N, and he has the price and financing arrangements -- you can move into this fabulous 3-bedroom, family room, breakfast room, living room, utility room and carport on corner lot with nice yard and shrubs for only $750.00 including closing costs. Delightful kitchen with dishwasher, carpeting, drapes, curtains and other extras. No time to haggle. Vacant and owner demands action.

(4) WHEN BABY MAKES THREE, and your present place seems to burst at the seams, this is your answer at 115 Baker Lane. 2 bedrooms, kitchen with dining area, large living room, 2 large bedrooms, bath, full basement with one finished room, carport and nice large lot with two loaded apple trees. $350 down, no closing costs and $85 PITI.

(5) YOU'RE DUE to be surprised by seeing inside this endless spacious interior of this 3 bedroom with double closets in each, 2 full baths, extra large family room, living room with fireplace, dining room, eat in kitchen home with large shaded lot. FHA approved at $20,350 with $19,300 loan available. Look at 708 Taylor Street, call us for showing.

We thank you for helping our Grand Opening a wonderful and delightful affair.

We enjoyed your company and your very gracious remarks on the remodeling of this old home to our new office.

If you were unable to attend, please feel free to stop by at your leisure and see our offices we are so proud of.

(1) REFURBISHED -- an expensive word to describe a delightful, well located and inexpensive 6 room home for only $9,250.00. VA or FHA financing available. Monthly payment of $72 PITI. Vacant and immediate possession of 719 Greer Street.

(2) ADOPT ME!! I am 2 1/2 years old, blond with black eyes in beautiful condition. I have a warm paneled carpeted den with exposed beams, large carpeted living room with wood burning fireplace that is quite homey, my kitchen is large and fully equipped including breakfast space, comfortable dining room off kitchen, and of course, three large bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths to make things real comfortable. I have a finished basement with a reck room and bedroom and large fireplace and utility area with shower, a 2 car garage, patio, central air conditioning and large pretty yard. My payments are ridiculous, but my equity is reasonable, and I am worth every penny. Come see me at 105 Salcedo Road. Middle 30s.

(3) ANXIOUS OWNER - EMPTY HOUSE - OPPORTUNITY -- Finally this is it. Stop searching for that "one in a million" bargain. The owner wants A-C-T-I-O-N, and he has the price and financing arrangements -- you can move into this fabulous 3-bedroom, family room, breakfast room, living room, utility room and carport on corner lot with nice yard and shrubs for only $750.00 including closing costs. Delightful kitchen with dishwasher, carpeting, drapes, curtains and other extras. No time to haggle. Vacant and owner demands action.

(4) WHEN BABY MAKES THREE, and your present place seems to burst at the seams, this is your answer at 115 Baker Lane. 2 bedrooms, kitchen with dining area, large living room, 2 large bedrooms, bath, full basement with one finished room, carport and nice large lot with two loaded apple trees. $350 down, no closing costs and $85 PITI.

(5) YOU'RE DUE to be surprised by seeing inside this endless spacious interior of this 3 bedroom with double closets in each, 2 full baths, extra large family room, living room with fireplace, dining room, eat in kitchen home with large shaded lot. FHA approved at $20,350 with $19,300 loan available. Look at 708 Taylor Street, call us for showing.

Ann Landers

Man Should Not Be Embarassed

Dear Ann Landers: I am an X-ray technician in a hospital. This morning a man was brought up for X-rays. He was wearing a bathrobe. When I asked him to remove his robe I assumed he had something on under the robe (most men do). I discovered, too late, that I was mistaken.

After my initial surprise I composed myself and decided to ignore the situation and proceed as usual.

Later that afternoon I was telling two other girls in the department what happened. I thought I had dealt with the situation well. They said I did the wrong thing -- that I should have told the patient to go back to the dressing room and put on his shorts. It developed into quite an argument and the girls became upset with me. I am so unstrung about their bitter criticism that I decided to write for your common sense opinion. --- SUZANNE

Dear Suzanne: The best approach is the one which causes the patient a minimum of embarrassment.

Sending the man back to put on his shorts would have humiliated the poor fellow. You coped with the situation admirably and I salute you.

Dear Ann Landers: I am in my 60's. My wife is a few years younger. We have been married 40 years. My wife has never been employed outside the home which was all right with me. She raised a nice family and I never asked her to take a paying job.

Now that I am getting on in years I feel my energy ebbing. I want to retire when I become eligible but my wife is against it.

My income will be somewhat less if I retire, but we could manage on it. I am beginning to resent my wife because she seems more interested in the paycheck than in my health. Please tell me what you think. --- NO IDENTIFICATION

Dear No I.D.: Perhaps your wife's objection has nothing to do with the paycheck. Maybe she is concerned with what retirement might do to you emotionally. To some men, retirement means boredom and unhappiness, particularly if they have not planned ahead on useful ways to occupy their time. But if you want to retire, you have earned the right to do it.

Dear Ann Landers: Please be my mother substitute for a moment. Mom is so unfair. She just told me she doesn't care about me. I know she doesn't mean it, but she said it.

I am 17 and not allowed to go anywhere except to school - related activities and to church. My friends can go bowling, swimming, skating, to the movies and out on dates. But not me. Why doesn't my mother trust me? I am a good student and have never done anything that would make her question my morals. Please tell me how I can get some freedom so life will be bearable. -- -AN ONLY ONE

Dear Only One: If you are 17 and a good student you should be thinking about college. Investigate the schools in another city and make your plans. Don't let anything or anyone stop you. From the tone of your letter it's your only chance to escape from your mother's neurotic clutches.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35¢ in coin and a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Bomb Hoax Delays Lady Bird's Flight

NEW YORK (AP) — A crank telephone call warning there was a bomb on a Washington shuttle plane delayed Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's return to the capital Thursday evening after a trip to New York to look at fall fashions.

An Eastern Air Lines jet carrying Mrs. Johnson and 109 other passengers was on a runway at La Guardia Airport waiting for clearance to take off when the phone call was received by a reservation clerk at 4:48 p.m.

The plane, which had been scheduled to leave at 5 p.m., was taken back to the airline's gate. After the passengers were removed, the plane was searched by Eastern employes and airport police.

Three other Eastern planes used in the shuttle service also were searched. No bomb was found.

THE STAGE COACH from the East and the mail that it contained were always a welcome sight to the citizens of the Old West. As the Kaintuck Territory Stage pulls into town, a partial view of the reconstructed village of about the 1880's can be seen. Kaintuck Territory will be open seven days a week from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. It is located five miles southwest of Kentucky Dam on highway 641.

Kaintuck Territory Now Part of Kentucky

After informing Governor Breathitt that the main street of the Territory had been named "Breathitt Street" in his honor, Potter left on horseback for the territory which is five miles southwest of Kentucky Dam Village near Kentucky Lake.

With Kentucky placing heavy accent on tourism, the mock ceremony was conducted to recognize the Territory at the Commonwealth's newest tourist attraction. Open just a few weeks, Kaintuck Territory is a recreated frontier village of the 1880's. The owner, Walter Sill, Jr., has been collecting artifacts for nearly a decade to make the attraction historically interesting as well as entertaining.

Sill purchased more than 150 acres of wild Kentucky woodland as a site for his project, and has built a complete frontier village on it. Included are 32 shops, offices and exhibits of the 1880 period. A Wells Fargo Stagecoach hauls passengers on regular runs through the hills to the delight of children and adults alike, and realistic "gunfights and bank robberies" are staged every 45 minutes in the streets.

Personnal in the village dress in the costumes of the 80's and many are actors, folk singers and rodeo performers who add realism to the dramatizations, musical and comedy entertainment, and general atmosphere. Some of the shops are called "look-ins" and can be easily viewed by the public. Visitors are not permitted to enter these select exhibits, however, since they are filled with priceless, irreplaceable antiques from the 80's period.

Upon Marshal Potter's return to Kaintuck Territory, an old-fashioned flag-raising and dedication ceremony will be held. The affair will include the traditional address by the territory's leading citizen Sill, and cheers and shooting of guns by the population. Potter noted that he intends to visit with the mayors of Kentucky's leading cities during his return trip to invite them to visit Kentucky's newest acquisition.

Carpenter Quits Space Program

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — "It's time to move on," said Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter as he discussed his resignation from the U.S. space program to devote full time to man's exploration of the sea.

Carpenter, 42, of the first seven American astronauts and the second to orbit the earth, resigned Thursday to become chief aquanaut for the Navy in its man-in-the-sea program.

In 1965 Carpenter became the nation first aquanaut-astronaut, he spent 30 days on the ocean floor in the Navy's Sealab II.

He enters the project full time with the responsibility for Navy aquanaut training, equipment development and ocean floor operations experiments for Sealab III, a 60-day excursion off the coast of California, due to begin May 30, 1968.

Carpenter orbited the earth three times aboard Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. He was grounded by doctors after an arm broken in a 1964 motorcycle accident failed to heal properly.

He said in an interview that he plans to remain in the Navy about one more year before retiring to take an oceanography job with a private aerospace firm that is diversifying operations to include ocean studies.

"You can influence municipal councils, your state government, and the federal government with your one vote. Only you can prevent further inroads on our free enterprise system. Only your vote can maintain our American system of self-government. Politics is what you and I make it." -- Paul V. Hayden, president, The Connecticut light and Power Company.

The Prayer From The Upper Room

Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness. (Matthew 6:33).

PRAYER: Our Creator and God, help us to understand we are created for a purpose; not to drift, but to spend our energies positively for Thee and Thy kingdom. Help us to become excited in our service; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

If You Were the Judge

America Must Be Seen

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Businessman Bob was the billboard baron of his community. He'd buy land adjacent to various highways and then erect billboards on it to advertise various products.

And, while it was a fairly successful enterprise, a damper was put on it when a law was passed that prohibited the erection of billboards within 60 feet of any highway.

Viewing the new law as a threat to his business, Bob attacked the constitutionality of the law in court.

"A man can't be prevented from erecting a billboard on his property," he argued. "It's un-American."

"No, it's not," answered local officials. "Enacting the law is the only way we have of keeping things looking beautiful. Beyond the Alps lies Italy and beyond the billboards lies America. It's got to be seen."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Bob to conceal America with his billboards?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that aesthetic considerations are sufficient reason for the valid passage of a law prohibiting the erection of billboards along a highway.

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — "It's time to move on," said Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter as he discussed his resignation from the U.S. space program to devote full time to man's exploration of the sea.

Carpenter, 42, of the first seven American astronauts and the second to orbit the earth, resigned Thursday to become chief aquanaut for the Navy in its man-in-the-sea program.

In 1965 Carpenter became the nation first aquanaut-astronaut, he spent 30 days on the ocean floor in the Navy's Sealab II.

He enters the project full time with the responsibility for Navy aquanaut training, equipment development and ocean floor operations experiments for Sealab III, a 60-day excursion off the coast of California, due to begin May 30, 1968.

Carpenter orbited the earth three times aboard Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. He was grounded by doctors after an arm broken in a 1964 motorcycle accident failed to heal properly.

He said in an interview that he plans to remain in the Navy about one more year before retiring to take an oceanography job with a private aerospace firm that is diversifying operations to include ocean studies.

"You can influence municipal councils, your state government, and the federal government with your one vote. Only you can prevent further inroads on our free enterprise system. Only your vote can maintain our American system of self-government. Politics is what you and I make it." -- Paul V. Hayden, president, The Connecticut light and Power Company.

The Prayer From The Upper Room

Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness. (Matthew 6:33).

PRAYER: Our Creator and God, help us to understand we are created for a purpose; not to drift, but to spend our energies positively for Thee and Thy kingdom. Help us to become excited in our service; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

If You Were the Judge

America Must Be Seen

By Jack Strauss, LL.D.

Businessman Bob was the billboard baron of his community. He'd buy land adjacent to various highways and then erect billboards on it to advertise various products.

And, while it was a fairly successful enterprise, a damper was put on it when a law was passed that prohibited the erection of billboards within 60 feet of any highway.

Viewing the new law as a threat to his business, Bob attacked the constitutionality of the law in court.

"A man can't be prevented from erecting a billboard on his property," he argued. "It's un-American."

"No, it's not," answered local officials. "Enacting the law is the only way we have of keeping things looking beautiful. Beyond the Alps lies Italy and beyond the billboards lies America. It's got to be seen."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Bob to conceal America with his billboards?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that aesthetic considerations are sufficient reason for the valid passage of a law prohibiting the erection of billboards along a highway.

Bridge Falls on Workmen

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Wooden forms for a new highway bridge collapsed today as they were being filled, pouring tons of concrete over workers caught beneath.

Nineteen men were rushed to hospitals. Several of them were reported injured severely as concrete rolled over them. Four were treated and released.

Three of the injured were state highway inspectors.

The bridge is at Lydia and Grandview Road, in the southeast part of the city and is part of the Interstate 435 route which will circle the city.

Walter Raugh, who suffered minor injuries, said "there was a loud pop" and the framework came down. He said all but one of the spans collapsed. He said there was no difficulty in extricating the victims.

Harvey Sherman, a concrete foreman, was on top of the 240-foot ramp which collapsed. He said just the edges of the structure remained, with the rest falling down.

"It started giving way about the middle," he said. "A piece of steel came up, I stepped on it and rode it down about 22 feet."

Officials said that nearly 400 cubic yards of concrete had been poured when the structure fell.

Four workmen were under the bridge and fled, escaping by seconds. Thirty five workmen were on top of the structure when it fell.

She was born March 18, 1919 in Cape County, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Coomer.

She is survived by her father, and by a brother, Clois Coomer, Chaffee; two sisters, Mrs. Louella Lawrence, Idaho City, Idaho, and Mrs. Evelyn Schallon, St. Louis; three stepsisters, Mrs. Robert Woodfin, Lutesville, Mrs. Joe La Porte, Advance, and Mrs. Olive Gloss, St. Louis and a stepbrother, Cletus Hahn, St. Louis.

The body is at the Morgan Funeral Home in Advance where services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Charles Mann.

Burial will be in the Baker cemetery, Lutesville.

U.S. Gunboats in Viet Delta Small But Mighty

CAN THO, Vietnam (AP) — They call it the muddy water navy. Pound-for-pound it is perhaps the most powerful fleet America ever had.

"We like to sort of swap around," grinned Thomas Roberts, 19, an engineman from Sitka, Alaska. He can handle a machine gun, grenade launcher, M16 rifle or pistol.

The fiberglass boats started working major estuaries in the Mekong delta last year to drive off the Viet Cong who virtually controlled the rivers by night and terrorized most daytime traffic. Now 90 of the boats maintain 24-hour patrols of the Mekong, the Bassac and other major waterways.

In the delta they are apt to run into Communist fire from almost any shoreline. Recently Red gunners wounded one entire crew with a recoilless rifle round. The Viet Cong also like to lure the boats close to river banks and rake them with pellets from claymore mines suspended in trees.

Under the circumstances, the crews tend to beef up the normal armament. When boat captain Norman Booker, 23, a shipfitter from National City, Calif., set out on his last patrol after a year's tour of duty his craft carried its normal firepower of three .50-caliber machine guns and an automatic grenade launcher. It was beefed up with 60 light machine guns, a light mortar and two hand-held grenade launchers. There, of course, added to individual weapons such as grenades, knives, M16 rifles and pistols.

All of this firepower has given the little PBRs— propelled by water jets up to 30 miles per hour--a large measure of control over rivers where the Viet Cong previously moved with relative ease.

They carry a small radar set and a secret electronic starlight telescope which magnifies available light and gives amazing nighttime visibility. Operating in pairs, crews cut engines at night and float downstream, scanning the river with radar and telescope until they catch a guerrilla band. Then they dash upon it at full speed with all guns ablaze.

The daytime patrols— when rivers are bursting with sampan traffic— have become the tedious major effort.

Thousands of peaceful-looking sampans are stopped daily. A South Vietnamese policeman checks identities and searches the sampans. When a sampan tries to evade such searching operations it generally turns out to be Viet Cong and frequently opens fire. Sometimes the guerrillas dive into the rivers and abandon their craft.

78 4-H'ers Attend Camp

POPLAR BLUFF -- Seventy-eight 4-H Club members spent three days camping on Lake Wappapello at the Missouri 4-H Club camp grounds July 24, 25 and 26.

The program was supervised by Crawford Price, area extension director of Doniphan, Roger Slayton, NYA extension youth worker and Les Akers, area youth agent.

The campers were divided into groups using the names of water animals as identification. The tadpole group elected Ron Lacy as their chief and Pat Stuart, as scribe, both of Town and County Club of Stoddard county.

Mrs. Richard Mayer of Town and Country 4-H Club of Stoddard county and Miss Norma Sifford, Mingo 4-H Club of Puxico, were their counselors.

The frog group elected Sherry Abernathy president and David Hutchcraft scribe, both of Town and Country 4-H Club of Dexter. Mrs. Marilyn Abernathy of Dexter was their counselor.

The perch-bass group elected Linda Hutchcraft, Town and Country 4-H Club, as president and Donna Mansfield, Wilkerson Club of Stoddard county, scribe. Mrs. Arthur Gardner of Hillview 4-H Club in Butler county was the counselor.

Forestry was subject of the education program at camp. Jim Johnson, conservation forester, Willington, and two helpers were in charge of the forestry program. Other educational features of the program were emergency preparedness by the Rev. Lloyd Miler of Poplar Bluff; parliamentary procedure by Roger Slayton; and electricity and how to handle it by Harry Nelson of Ozark Border Electric Cooperative.

A craft program conducted by Pansy Seeburger consisted of leaf printing napkins or scarves. The rifle range program was conducted by Chet Barnes, Poplar Bluff; Don May, Dexter, and Ranny McDough, Wappapello conservation agents. 4-H campers were permitted to make 10 shots at the rifle range and participate in the gun safety program.

The waterfront is a highlight of 4-H club camping. Louis Kalkbrenner of Butler county was in charge of a motor boating program. Every camper was able to take a 10 to 15 minute speedboat ride from the campsite down Lost Creek arm of the lake to the open water of the St. Francis River basin of the lake.

Three canoes were available for canoeing. Bill Flowers of Dexter was in charge of the canoe program.

Several honors were spent swimming under the observance of the camp staff life guards. This year swimming instruction was a major activity of camp and about 15 campers learned to swim. This instruction was conducted by Juanita Walz, Mike Price, Terry Chasteen and Joy Asbell.

Other 4-H leaders assisting at camp were Mrs. Ruth Mayer, Dexter, and Mrs. Anna Schenewerk, Poplar Bluff. Other 4-H members attending camp were Donna Allen, Glenda Buffington and Linda Drury of Cravens Club; Mary Walz, Willow Oak Lucky Leafers Club; Pamela Lynn Fogle, Kristy McConigal, Sharon Strickland, Martha Clayton, Jenny Lou Clayton and John Epps of Hillview Club.

78 4-H'ers Attend Camp

POPLAR BLUFF -- Seventy-eight 4-H Club members spent three days camping on Lake Wappapello at the Missouri 4-H Club camp grounds July 24, 25 and 26.

The program was supervised by Crawford Price, area extension director of Doniphan, Roger Slayton, NYA extension youth worker and Les Akers, area youth agent.

The campers were divided into groups using the names of water animals as identification. The tadpole group elected Ron Lacy as their chief and Pat Stuart, as scribe, both of Town and County Club of Stoddard county.

Mrs. Richard Mayer of Town and Country 4-H Club of Stoddard county and Miss Norma Sifford, Mingo 4-H Club of Puxico, were their counselors.

The frog group elected Sherry Abernathy president and David Hutchcraft scribe, both of Town and Country 4-H Club of Dexter. Mrs. Marilyn Abernathy of Dexter was their counselor.

The perch-bass group elected Linda Hutchcraft, Town and Country 4-H Club, as president and Donna Mansfield, Wilkerson Club of Stoddard county, scribe. Mrs. Arthur Gardner of Hillview 4-H Club in Butler county was the counselor.

Forestry was subject of the education program at camp. Jim Johnson, conservation forester, Willington, and two helpers were in charge of the forestry program. Other educational features of the program were emergency preparedness by the Rev. Lloyd Miler of Poplar Bluff; parliamentary procedure by Roger Slayton; and electricity and how to handle it by Harry Nelson of Ozark Border Electric Cooperative.

A craft program conducted by Pansy Seeburger consisted of leaf printing napkins or scarves. The rifle range program was conducted by Chet Barnes, Poplar Bluff; Don May, Dexter, and Ranny McDough, Wappapello conservation agents. 4-H campers were permitted to make 10 shots at the rifle range and participate in the gun safety program.

The waterfront is a highlight of 4-H club camping. Louis Kalkbrenner of Butler county was in charge of a motor boating program. Every camper was able to take a 10 to 15 minute speedboat ride from the campsite down Lost Creek arm of the lake to the open water of the St. Francis River basin of the lake.

Three canoes were available for canoeing. Bill Flowers of Dexter was in charge of the canoe program.

Several honors were spent swimming under the observance of the camp staff life guards. This year swimming instruction was a major activity of camp and about 15 campers learned to swim. This instruction was conducted by Juanita Walz, Mike Price, Terry Chasteen and Joy Asbell.

Other 4-H leaders assisting at camp were Mrs. Ruth Mayer, Dexter, and Mrs. Anna Schenewerk, Poplar Bluff. Other 4-H members attending camp were Donna Allen, Glenda Buffington and Linda Drury of Cravens Club; Mary Walz, Willow Oak Lucky Leafers Club; Pamela Lynn Fogle, Kristy McConigal, Sharon Strickland, Martha Clayton, Jenny Lou Clayton and John Epps of Hillview Club.
